Goldwater Closes In on Nomination

Bush Wins Primary in 34th Senatorial

Newcombe Is Victor In Greene and Ulster

In a torrid primary fight that ended at the polls Tuesday, E. Ogden Bush won the right to run again on the Republican ticket in the 34th State Senatorial District.

Bush of DeLancey, who has served eight years in the Legislature, defeated Lloyd A. Newcombe, prominent Catskill businessman in the four-county contest.

Regulars Win

Regular Republican candidates for delegates to the national convention in the 28th Congressional (area) District won by approximately a two-to-one margin over the backers of Goldwater for president.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, Ulster County GOP chairman and Myrtie Tinklepaugh of Columbia County were the regular delegates.

Goldwater delegates were Kent Leavitt of Dutchess County and Lewis I. Hall of Hurley, Ulster County.

Mrs. Kerr Leading

In a Democratic Party race for State Committeewoman Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, the incumbent, was leading Dorothy A. Narel of West Hurley today with two districts of 101 for Ulster County missing—one in the Town of Hardenbergh and the other in the Town of Shandaken.

The total for Mrs. Kerr was 1,505 and Mrs. Narel's was 1,451, a margin of 54 for Mrs. Kerr.

How They Ran

Senator Bush won handily in his home county of Delaware and Sullivan, and his opponent Newcombe, seeking to upset him for the GOP nomination was victorious by impressive figures in his home county of Greene and Ulster of which he is a native.

The count:

Greene County—Newcombe 4069; Bush 650; Newcombe plurality 3409.

Delaware County—Bush 5665; Newcombe 1369; Bush plurality 4296.

Bush Pleased

Senator Bush had this statement for the press today:

"My thanks to everyone who voted in yesterday's primary election. I am very happy with the results and I am asking all to join the Republican Party for a resounding victory in November.

"I pledge a vigorous campaign and when elected, to represent all my constituents in Albany.

"Thank you for your confidence in the work I am doing in the legislature."

Newcombe Pledges Support

Lloyd A. Newcombe said he appreciated the support of his friends. "It was a good campaign and a good fight," he commented. "The people have spoken. Nobody can quarrel with that.

"I am deeply grateful to the people who worked with and supported me. I'm sorry I failed them.

"I congratulate Senator Bush and pledge him my support.

Aims at November

Statement by Assemblyman Wilson:

"I would like to thank all the enrolled Republican voters who voted in yesterday's primary.

"The people have chosen their candidate for State Senator and have approved the selection of Senator Bush who had originally been designated by the Senatorial Committee of the 34th District.

"I would also like to thank the voters and workers who brought in such a wonderful majority for me and the candidates for delegates to the Republican National Convention.

"I now say, let's get together

Factions Shift on CR Debate

Dixie Would Vote, Backers to Talk

Southerners stood by, saying they were ready to vote on some amendments, while the measure's backers took up the speaking chores.

President Confident

Dixie senators called this a "counter-filibuster." But Senate leaders said the change of heart came too late, that all of their plans now were centered on the cloture vote set for next Tuesday.

If the bill's supporters muster the necessary two-thirds vote for cloture, all further debate will be limited tightly and leaders are confident the bill then can be passed by the third week in June.

"I have confidence in the action that the Senate will take," President Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "I believe it will pass a good bill."

The Southerners, who have prevented voting on the bill except on two of the 69 days of debate so far, decided on their change of strategy at a caucus Tuesday.

But when their leader, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced this on the floor, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he saw no possibility of arranging votes this week now.

Need Time to Explain

Mansfield said that the bill's sponsors would need considerable time to explain the revised version which Senate leaders expect to win the votes needed for cloture.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the bill's floor manager, told newsmen he would lead off with a speech explaining the substitute in detail today.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chief author of the revised bill, had planned to do this but was ill with a heavy cold and deferred his speech. Mansfield co-sponsored the revisions with Dirksen.

To Decide on Asking Permanent Bus Right

The operator of Urban Transit Corp., whose petition for a temporary certificate to extend bus service to a part of the Town of Ulster was turned down today by the Public Service Commission, said he would decide in "the next day or so" whether he would petition the PSC for a certificate of permanent certificate of public convenience and necessity for the extended route.

Julius Lipton told The Freeman that he was "dissappointed" that the commission denied the petition for a temporary certificate, "especially in view of the fact that so many people in Kingston and the Town of Ulster exhibited a desire for better transportation." However, through his attorney, Richard W. Griggs, Lipton said that Urban Transit will "make every effort" to apply for the "service which is being sought."

Free to Apply

In denying the petition, the PSC said that its decision was "without prejudice to the consideration of a company request for a permanent certificate to operate the route." The commission said that there was no evidence in a recent PSC hearing on Urban Transit's petition that there was a "compelling or pressing need" which would justify a grant of temporary authority.

Griggs said it was apparent, therefore, that the PSC might grant a hearing on another petition by Urban Transit requesting a permanent rather temporary certificate.

Definite to Remain

Urban Transit was granted a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity last year when it took over the franchise surrendered by the Kingston City Transportation Corp. At that time there was an urgent need for continued city bus service. Urban Transit subsequently petitioned the PSC and was granted a permanent certificate, indicating that the firm plans to continue city bus service indefinitely.

A hearing on Urban Transit's petition for a temporary certificate to extend bus service from Central Broadway on a route along Albany Avenue Extension and culminating at Boice's Lane in the Town of Ulster, was held two months ago before PSC Examiner Isadore E. Crade. The petition was opposed by Mountain View Coach Lines Inc., which operates over the route for which Urban Transit sought a temporary certificate. However, Mountain View did not petition for a subsequent hearing before the PSC, to which it was entitled .

State Explanation

In his report to the commission announced today, Crade pointed out that temporary certificates may be issued to omnibus companies only "when necessary to provide service for which there is an immediate or urgent need. . .when (the Commission) shall be of the opinion that such action is required in the public interest."

Crade said that "it is incumbent upon the petitioner for such temporary authority to establish by a fair preponderance of the credible evidence that there is an immediate or urgent need and that the public interest does, in fact, require a grant of the temporary authority."

He said that evidence received at the local public hearing "does not demonstrate that there is a compelling or pressing public need for the proposed service of the petitioner in addition to that already available, which would justify a grant of temporary authority."

Wagner Beefs Up Patrols in N.Y. To Curb Violence

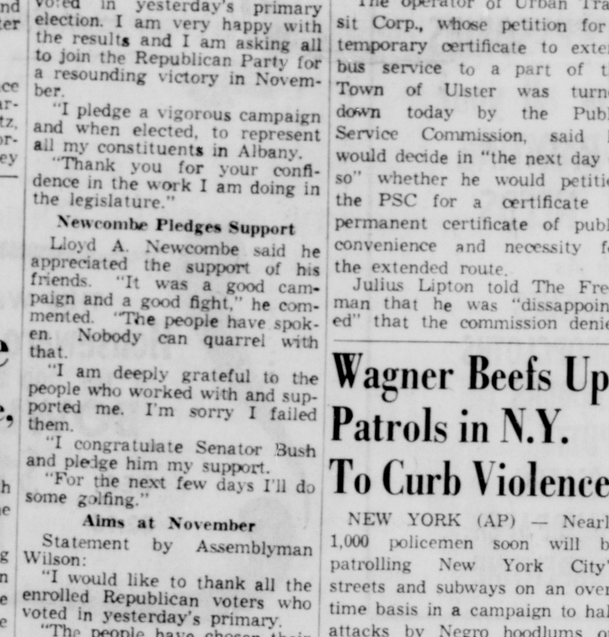

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 1,000 policemen soon will be patrolling New York City's streets and subways on an overtime basis in a campaign to halt attacks by Negro hoodlums on whites.

The additional patrols were ordered Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who said: "I am determined we are going to have law and order in this city of ours."

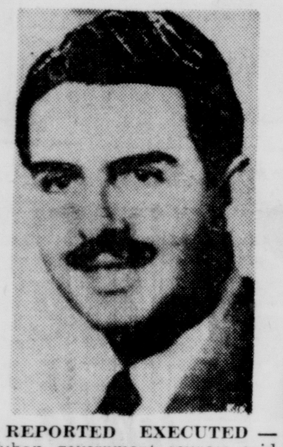

Must Stay in Uniform

The order came two days after the Memorial Day weekend hooliganism on four subway trains and a Staten Island ferry. Bands of Negro teen-agers

The couple has two other children, aged 3 and 5.

Registers Stunning Victory In California Cliffhanger

By a narrow margin, the Arizona senator captured a rich bloc of 86 delegates from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's showpiece primary Tuesday.

Rockefeller captured most of the state's 58 counties, but a decisive surge for Goldwater in late Southern California returns, chiefly from Los Angeles, nailed down the bitter contest for the Westerner.

Results from 29,800 of 32,861 precincts showed: Goldwater, 969,957; Rockefeller, 938,386.

The victory in the last presidential primary before the July 13 GOP National Convention brought Goldwater within striking distance of the 655 votes he'll need for the nomination.

He called it a "giant step" toward his quest to lead the Republican ticket in the November election.

Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, trounced State Controller Alan Cranston for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democratic Sen. Clair Engle.

The Salinger victory dealt a setback to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other party elements who supported Cranston. It showed, too, the vote-pulling power of the Kennedy image, used heavily by the press secretary to the late president.

Th 39-year-old former San Francisco newspaper reporter, who couldn't even vote for himself because he's registered in Virginia, will face the Republican nominee, onetime actor George Murphy.

Defeats Yorty Slate

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller said the California results pushed Goldwater very close to the 655 convention votes needed for the nomination.

Looks Like Clincher: Hatfield

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who will serve as convention keynote speaker and temporary chairman, said the senator appeared to have clinched the nomination.

Goldwater flew to Washington after watching early results flow into his Los Angeles headquarters. He claimed victory at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the basis of electronic computations.

The final outcome wasn't definite, however, until Los Angeles, with 40 per cent of the state's vote, reported the bulk of its ballots — and Goldwater maintained his commanding lead there.

In the Republican presidential race, Rockefeller was carrying most of the state's 58 counties. But Goldwater offset it with solid majorities in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Pollsters Favored Rocky

The pollsters, to a man, had given the edge to Rockefeller. But all indicated the outcome would hinge on the sizable undecided vote they detected.

Goldwater called his showing a "victory for the mainstream of Republican thinking." He thus tossed back Rockefeller's assertion that his views represented the GOP mainstream.

NBC's Electronic Vote Analysis center noted that Rockefeller ran strong in the San Francisco Bay area, farm and mountain areas, and that Goldwater did not come up to expectations in San Diego County.

Minority for Governor

The EVA center report spotted a trend to Rockefeller among minority groups. First returns from San Francisco's Chinatown, for instance, favored the governor 5 to 1. A similar swing was evident among Italian-Americans.

The NBC analysis emphasized Goldwater's strength in the state's high population centers. Rockefeller was favored in the north—considered more sophisticated and more liberal than the south—and that's the way the vote went. But 60 per cent of the population lives in the south.

Little Modoc County, a bellwether in 25 state elections, was giving Goldwater a plurality of better than 54 per cent. The northeastern county has only 1,491 registered voters.

CBS, ABC Called Shot

CBS, shortly after the polls closed, projected a Goldwater sweep on votes from 42 "model" precincts. With 22 per cent of the vote in, ABC's projection also tabbed him as the winner.

Even so, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Rockefeller's state campaign chairman, said it was still a cliffhanger, and "I think we'll wait a little longer" before any conceding.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland, who headed Goldwater's forces, called on Republicans to unify and said he expected support from most of Rockefeller's followers.

Rusk, McNamara Will See LBJ Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned today from a Honolulu conference with "a number of recommendations" for President Johnson on new action to strengthen Southeast Asia against Communist pressures...

Landing at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk told newsmen "We brought back a number of recommendations, as we usually do from these meetings."

He said "the commitment of the American nation, its people and its government," to protect Southeast Asia against Red aggression "are well-known."

Then he added: "The problem is to make sure the other side fully understands that we mean what we say."

To Meet Late Today

Rusk and McNamara were scheduled to see Johnson late in the day after the President's return from a speaking trip to New England.

McNamara was asked whether there are any plans for expanding the Vietnamese war into North Viet Nam. He declared that "no plans have been recommended to the President for approval and none has been approved."

This stopped short of denying that plans have been made by military experts, but it was in line with Johnson's statement Tuesday that he was not personally aware of any plans.

Plan for Strength

Aides traveling with Rusk and McNamara said much of the planning in the two-day Honolulu strategy conference, which ended Tuesday night, was concerned with ways of strengthening the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam and supporting more effectively the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Officials returning with the two Cabinet officers declined to say exactly what steps would be proposed to Johnson for achieving the purpose Rusk stated of making Communist North Viet Nam, Red China and the Soviet Union aware of U.S. determination not to let Southeast Asia fall to Red conquest.

NcNamara flew from Washington to Hawaii last Sunday.

Rusk went there from India where he served last week as President Johnson's special representative at funeral servies for Indian Prim Minister Nehru. He said his time in India had been a "sad but deeply moving experience." He expressed admiration for the manner in which the new Indian leadership had acted to fill the gap created by Nehru's death.

No Plan Yet

U.S. officials indicated Tuesday night in Honolulu that military action might be taken against Communist North Viet Nam if it and Red China continue backing rebellions in South Viet Nam and Laos. But they said Rusk and McNamara so far have not proposed plans "to enlarge the war to the north" in Viet Nam or to send troops into Thailand.

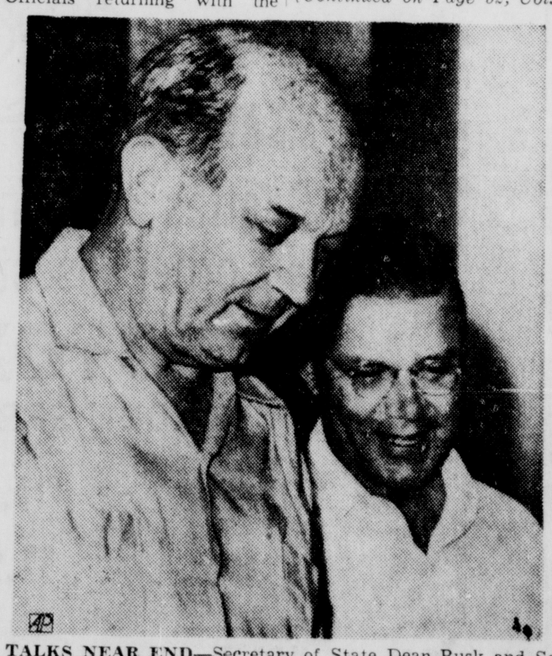

As the Honolulu session ended, newsmen there were told no change was planned in the role of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam—a role which has been described as advisory and training rather than front-line combat.

Up to Johnson

Actual decisions on what is to be done in the trouble area are up to Johnson.

Administration informants said they rather doubted that Rusk and McNamara would pres for any particular combination of actions. These officials thought they would lay alternative possibilities before the President together with assessments of the probable results which might be obtained according to

Trees and Landscaping

Editor, The Freeman:

I want to say how wonderful I think it is that some trees are being planted and some landscaping is being done in the commercial districts of Kingston. In recent months the Ulster Garden Club has planted trees on Broadway and on the grounds of the High School, the City Hall and the Court House. The new Kingston Plaza parking lot has been attractively planted with trees and flowers, and last week the city planted trees in the two North Front Street parking lots. Several places of business have planted trees or are planning to do so. This will not only make Kingston more pleasing to the eye, and much cooler in the summer, but I think will have an economic advantage. Any city which is beautiful and comfortable is certainly more likely to draw a better type of person both to visit or to settle than one which is not.

Many of the cities in the west, such as Phoenix, Arizona, and Portland, Oregon, where the citizens take much pride in the beauty and cleanliness of their town, seem to be enjoying a great amount of prosperity. There must be some connection. Kingston is blessed with a charming natural setting and numerous lovely and interesting houses of the early Dutch-American architecture. With a little more pride and loving care from its citizens it could become one of the outstanding small cities of this nation.

Artime Predicts 'Viet-Type War' Against Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro forces backed by the United States have been attacking Cuban coastal cities, causing great damage and loss of life, the Cuban Red Cross says.

The statement was broadcast Tuesday by the Cuban radio, monitored here. It was one of the few acknowledgements by Fidel Castro government that attacks have occurred. It has announced the execution of seven "CIA" agents in the past week.

"It might be one year or three years," the head of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement said in a statement his office delivered to the Miami Herald. Artime's whereabouts remain secret.

Still Canaveral For Florida City

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Many a stamp collector is learning that, while the missile center was renamed Cape Kennedy, the city still is Cape Canaveral.

Stamp collectors have deluged Postmaster Lyle Meadows and his four clerks with "first day covers." These are decorated envelopes, bearing the new John F. Kennedy stamp, which collectors send in to be mailed back with the postmark they want as a souvenir.

The City Council rejected a suggestion that the community's name be changed to conform with the cape's name change.

Defense Counsel For Ruby Quits To Teach Again

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's third chief defense counsel, legal-medical expert Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, has resigned to return to teaching at the University of Texas Law School.

Another defense lawyer, Phil Burleson, announced the action Tuesday and said he and Joe Tonahill will carry on the legal battle for Ruby, convicted of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

"We do not anticipate any new attorney in the case and do not for the present see any necessity for one," Burleson said.

Smith was not present Monday when Burleson and Tonahill conferred with Judge Joe Brown about Ruby's mental condition. They contend he has become insane since his March 14 conviction and sentencing to death.

Burleson said Smith felt he should return to teaching "to sustain himself and his family." He had accepted the case without a fee. University regents ruled Smith must take a leave of absence without pay while working on the Ruby case.

Ruby's original chief lawyer was fiery Melvin Belli of San Francisco, who was dismissed after the trial for remarks about the jury and Dallas.

Carrier, Vessel Collide in Fog, List No Injuries

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Lake Champlain and the Norwegian motor vessel Skauvaag collided in dense fog in Chesapeake Bay before dawn today.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters said no injuries were reported on either ship.

Fire broke out in two of the Champlain's hangar deck bays but were put out in 45 minutes.

Both ships were damaged in the collision, which occurred 38 miles south of Annapolis, Mid., near Patuxent River, Md.

The Champlain reported she had no underwater damage. The Skauvaag reported to the Champlain that she needed no assistance.

On May 6, the Lake Champlain and the destroyer Decatur collided 140 miles east of Cape Henry. There were no injuries on either ship, but the Decatur's superstructure was damaged heavily.

The Lake Champlain was bound to Annapolis to take aboard U.S. Naval Academy midshipmen for their annual training cruise to northern Europe.

MOON PROGRAM ZOOMS

Those who believe that our manned lunar space program ought to be slowed down have become increasingly bold in advancing this point of view. The report of the Critical Issues Council of the Republican Citizens Committee is only the latest expression of it. Congressional hesitation to be as generous as in the past also reflects a feeling that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration may be in too much of a hurry to land a man on the moon.

Recent developments have taken some of the wind from the sails of those advocating a slowdown. Only a day after the Critical Issues Council publicly urged that the idea of reaching the moon in this decade be dropped, the giant Saturn I booster rocket hurtled an unmanned model of the lunar spacecraft into orbit. This was the Saturn I's sixth successful flight test. Placing the Apollo capsule in orbit greatly heightened NASA confidence that a moon landing can be made by 1970.

Also important, though at this stage rather tenuous, are the indications that Russia may not have withdrawn from the moon race after all. It will be recalled that Premier Khrushchev ostentatiously claimed the USSR was not interested in such a race. Since then there have been contradictory statements. Now the United States has information suggesting rather strongly that the Russians are developing a mighty rocket comparable to our Saturn I.

If this proves to be true, it can fairly be concluded that the Soviet Union is still determined to send a manned expedition to the moon. This in itself would not justify a U.S. crash program to be first. It does suggest that we had better proceed at full steam in our present effort, which is not a crash program but a step by step progression which has thus far been remarkably successful.

AUTO INSPECTION

More editorial ink is probably spilled on the subject of automobile accidents than any three other matters combined.

If words alone could remedy the situation, the problem would have disappeared long ago. But in view of the sorry record of 1963—an all-time high of 43,400 fatalities (and it's expected to be worse this year)—the words must continue to din into the American ear the fact that this senseless waste of life is not inevitable.

A bulletin from the American Standards Association reports that more than half of the nation's motorists lack the protection offered by periodic vehicle inspection.

To be exact, 36 million drivers in 20 states, the District of Columbia and a few cities come under motor vehicle inspection laws. The other 30 states, with 56 million drivers, do not have such requirements.

True enough, some of the worst accidents involve cars in mint condition. True enough, most accidents are caused by human, not mechanical, failure.

But bad brakes, worn tires, defective steering mechanisms, broken lights have killed and will kill.

Certainly no avenue that could lead to reducing the toll by even a little ought to be ignored by so many states.

A SMALL RAY OF HOPE

Optimism about Red China is so rare that it deserves notice and comment.

Speaking at Harvard University recently, Robert W. Barnett, deputy assistant secretary of state, predicted that "the pragmatic Chinese people will ultimately reject or curb ambitions of men who speak and act with too little regard for responsibility to the people.

Barnett, in charge of Far East economic affairs in the State Department, noted that the Chinese on the mainland once thought differently of the United States "and can come to think differently again."

What the United States must do, he said, is make it plain to the Chinese that we are not against them, that we pursue our policies toward Peking patiently, "more in sorrow than in anger."

'These Days'

IF WE MUST HAVE PUBLIC WORKS

Some people believe in salvation by works. Other people believe in salvation by Public Works. There is a vital distinction here, for the practice of salvation by Public Works frequently excuses individuals from saving themselves by their own efforts.

To say this in the era of the Welfare State is enough to get one branded as an extremist, of course. So let me hasten to add that some public works are more justified than others. Through my friend, Monroe Worthington, industrial editor of the Wheeling (W. Va.) News Register, I've learned of one project that, if it happens to be practicable, would do more to alleviate poverty in a number of states than anything now on Sargent Shriver's books. This is a project for creating a drain-off of Ohio River water into Lake Erie whenever flood conditions threaten. It could save millions of dollars in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and even along the lower Mississippi every Spring if it could be made a reality.

The reason why the project is judged feasible by some engineers is that normally the Ohio River, at the mouth of the tributary Beaver River, is 110 feet higher than the level of Lake Erie. Naturally, flood conditions create a much higher head of water in the Ohio system. The engineers' proposition is to create five spillway tunnels that would harmlessly discharge flood water into the Great Lakes at a rate of 27,646 cubic feet per second per tunnel. The total drain-off of 138,230 cubic feet per second for five tunnels would be sufficient to keep the Ohio River from overflowing its banks into the city of Wheeling by a sufficiently safe margin.

How would the spillway tunnels be dug without involving the U. S. economy in astronomical costs? Well, the U. S. has spent a lot of money on the Mangla Dam on the Indus River. The builders of the Mangla Dam used an American device named the "Mole" which drills through hard rock at remarkable speed, the largest bore being thirty-six feet, eight inches wide. A Mole can bore more than 150 feet in a twenty-four-hour day — or ten miles per year per Mole. Two or three dozen Moles, set to work at various places between the mouth of the Beaver River in Pennsylvania and Lake Erie, would produce five spillway tunnels in reasonable time. The estimated cost would be a quarter of a million dollars per mile of tunnel. Lining would not be necessary in most places, for the leakage would not be significant, and, anyway, water would flow through the tunnels for only a few days a year every few years.

A second way of diverting flood water into Lake Erie would be to dredge the Beaver River and its tributary, the Mahoning, all the way to Youngstown, so that water could flow either way. This is known to be practicable, for the Chicago River was made to flow backwards from Lake Michigan, and two-way flows are standard in many a tidal river, depending on the momentary height of water at the mouth.

As I say, it is not good for a nation to depend on Salvation by Public Works. But it would be more in keeping with the Federal Constitution to use Public Works to keep a rampageous river under control in order to save existing farms and cities than to construct big dams that have a by-product effect of putting private power companies out of business. This is not to mention the existing farm and bottom lands that have to be permanently drowned whenever a TVA is built.

To keep the Federal government out of any project for spilling potential Ohio flood waters into Lake Erie, the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, and Kentucky might organize an interstate authority. The Federal government might provide matching funds, if necessary. This practice of matching is ordinarily anathema to believers in local initiative. But, again, it is better than total dependence on Washington.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Most Doctors Believe Cigarettes Are Harmful

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the midst of all the furor about the harmful effects of smoking, it is of interest to see how the medical profession as a whole feels about this subject. "Modern Medicine" conducted a survey of over 60,000 physicians. Of these 79.4 per cent had smoked at one time or another, but many had given it up, so that less than half still smoke. When asked whether they believe cigarette smoking is a health hazard, however, 94.8 per cent answered yes.

Those who advised all of their patients to quit smoking before it was too late comprised 53.6 per cent. Most of the others insisted that their patients stop smoking when the patients showed signs of disease in the heart, blood vessels or lungs or had peptic ulcers.

Reports such as that of Dr. E. J. Salber at Harvard, which shows that teen-agers who smoke generally have a lower intelligence quotient than nonsmokers, have received comparatively little publicity. The same report showed that boys who smoke have more trouble with their parents, the school authorities and the law than the nonsmokers.

One block is the fact that tobacco, being officially defined as neither a food or a drug, does not come within the authority of the Food and Drug Administration. If it did, it would never have gotten on the open market.

Meanwhile, the evidence of a link between smoking and lung cancer continues to pile up. This has nothing to do wtih the nicotine in the tobacco, acknowledged by all pharmacologists to be a powerful poison. It is due rather to a mixture of tars and phenols and other substances long known to favor the production of cancer. Furthermore, other chemicals in cigarette smoke reinforce the cancer-producing effect of some of these, especially urethan.

Smoking has also been shown to speed up the changes in lung tissue associated with aging, so that after 15 years of smoking the lung tissues will have aged 20 years.

Many plans have been advanced to help smokers to kick the habit. One method consists of substituting another activity such as chewing gum. This is most effective when cigarettes are used principally to relieve boredom. Another method, especially applicable to those who might be described as littery smokers, is a short course of tranquilizing drugs as a temporary crutch.

Another drug that has long been used to help break the habit, lobeline, has been put out in lozenge form (Nikoban). Although some observers report good results with this drug, others say that a strong motivation to quit smoking without the use of lobeline will achieve better results than a weak motivation plus lobeline.

A team composed of a doctor (J. W. McFarland) and a minister (E. J. Folkenberg) have written a book entitled "How to Stop Smoking in Five Days," claiming success in 75 per cent of those who use their method.

And Nobody Thought It Was Loaded

Washington News

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Both Sen. Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York must be judged inescapably by their performances in the June 2 California presidential primary. They themselves made this the crucial test.

From the outset both contenders have said repeatedly that "California is the big one."

Goldwater more than once has predicted he would not be nominated if he did not win the state's 86 convention delegates. He has even indicated he would not deserve the honor in this circumstances.

Rockefeller has been more guarded in comment, but has seldmom failed to stress California's importance in the total nomination struggle.

FROM A VERY EARLY DATE this year, the governor's top political associate, George L. Hinman, virtually took up residence in California to organize and oversee the Rockefeller campaign there. He has spent most of his working hours on the Pacific coast.

Goldwater's forces under Sen. William Knowland organized early and big in the Golden State. Richard Klendienst, the senator's chief of field operations, moved his headquarters westward weeks ago, as he had indicated in February he would.

The two candidates' expenditures in the California race will, by their own testimony, far outdistance their outlays for any other single campaign purpose.

Much of this reflects, of course, the incredible cost of doing political business in a state at once so vast and so populous. Televison and airplanes are basic.

NEITHER ROCKEFELLER nor Goldwater personally has spent as much time in California as their state leaders hoped. But each has given the state a preponderant amount of his time.

All these things being so, neither man may now argue fairly that the June 2 California result, if unfavorable to him, can be discounted.

Each of these two chose to enter a series of presidential primaries to demonstrate his vote-getting capabilities—Goldwater to scotch the notion he could not get votes in northern industrial states, Rockefeller in hope of showing that his divorce and remarriage were of limited effect.

None of the states they entered is so massive and broadly representative a testing ground as California. Hence their own quick focus upon it.

A COMMON CONTENTION among political professionals is: "If you choose to go the primary route, you have to win by it. Primaries are essentially elimination contests.

"If you lose them, you are out. But winning them is no guarantee of nomination."

Many party people — leaders, delegates, rank and file—will be applying this thinking when they scan the headlines which will spread the decisive California outcome across the country on June 3.

A candidate once launched on a drive for the presidency does not easily foresake that course. From the loser's camp on June 3 may come elaborate, perhaps bitter explanations of defeat, coupled with a determination to fight on. But, let it be remembered, both these presidential bidders made California the gauge.

Loyalty Oath Decision: Illegal in Which States?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States, by a vote of 7 to 2 has just forbidden the states to pass a law requiring public employees in schools or other governmental offices to take an oath pledging that he or she is not a "subversive person" and not "a member of the Communist party or knowingly of any other subversive organization." Such a statute enacted by the State of Washington now is held to be "unconstitutionally vague," even though it defines "subversive" as one who "engages in or advocates, abets, advises or teaches" activities directed at the overthrow of our Constitutional form of government" by revolution, force, or violence."

Virtually the same language is used in the Smith Act, a Federal law, and now it is being asked whether the Federal satute is also to be regarded as unconstitutional.

The majority of the court declared that the language of the law of the State of Washington requiring a "loyalty oath" of employees is "unduly vague, uncertain and broad," and argued that the statute does not spell out exactly what is "loyal" or "disloyal." It is the vagueness, rather than the objective, which is held to be at fault. There is an inference that the teaching of communism or giving counsel to members of the Communist party does not necessarily mean an intention to overthrow the government by "revolution, force or violence."

But a layman's criticism of the decision is unnecessary, because Justices Clark and Harlan, in a dissenting opinion set forth in penetrating terms their own denunciation of the majority opinion. The dissenters said in part:

"It is strange that the (Supreme) Court should find the language of this statute so propoundly vague when in 1951 the identical language presented by another oath in Gerende v. Board of Supervisors of Elections, 341 U. S. 56.

"There, the Constitutionality of Maryland's Ober law, written in language identical to (the State of) Washington's 1955 act, was affirmed by a unanimous court against the same attack of vagueness. It is unfortunate that Gerende (case) is overruled so quickly. Other state laws have been copied from the Maryland act—just as Washington's 1955 act was — primarily because of our approval of it, and now this court would declare them void. Such action cannot command the dignity and respect due to the judicial process.

"It is, of course, absurd to say that, under the words of the Washington act, a professor risks violation when he teaches German, English, history or any other subject included in the curriculum for a college degree, to a class in which a Communist party member might sit. To so interpret the language of the act is to extract more sunbeams from cucumbers than did Gulliver's mad scientist. And to conjure up such ridiculous questions, the answers to which we all know or should know are in the negative, is to build up a whimsical and farical straw man which is not only grim but Grimm.

"In addition to the Ober law the court has also found that other statutes using similar language were not vague. An unavoidable example is the Smith Act which we upheld against an attack based on vagueness in the landmark case of Dennis v. United States. ...

"'It appears to me from the statutory language that Washington's 1955 act is much more clear than the Smith Act. Still the court strikes it down. Where does this leave the Constitutionality of the Smith Act.?"

The majority in their opinion declared that "measures which purport to define disloyalty must allow public servants to know what is and is not disloyal." But this is a good deal like saying that no restrictions can be imposed and no laws passed unless the exact nature of every offense is defined specifically. Certainly determining whether a man has, in fact, violated a law is a function of the courts, and it is assumed that the words are to be construed fairly and equitably by the judges on the bench. The processes of law themselves provide for correction of mistaken interpretations or of wrongful action. While the oath, for example, specifically bars membership in the Communist party, it asserts only that the employee is not a member "knowingly" of any other subversive organization.

Many Americans will wonder why it is objectionable to ask a person who applies for a job as a teacher in public schools or colleges to sign an oath stating plainly that he would not advocate or advise or assist any one else to overthrow the government of the United States by "revolution, force, or violence."

THE MAFIA — Part One

The Carabinieri followed the bus out of Palermo and caught it on the plains road near Monreale. They were looking for an assassin. All of the passengers were ordered out. They were lined up and the police frisked the women as well as the men. They came to a short dark man who held his hands up and said: "Don't touch me." He said it softly. The carabinieri studied the expressionless face, the shoe-button eyes. Don't . . . touch . . me," the man whispered

They didn't The expressionless face, the soft voice, the dead stare are the signature of the mafiosa. It is a secret syndicate of Sicilians 600 years old. The members have spent almost all of that time denying that there is a Mafia. In a technical sense, they are right. They refer to it as The Honored Society.

A Sicilian bride was raped by Sergeant Pierre Druet of the French Army an hour before her wedding, around the year 1350. The bridegroom-to-be found Druet and choked him, crying "Morte alla Francia Italia anela." — death to all of France is Italy's cry. The slogan swept the 250-mile island. The first letters of the words are mafia.

From that time until this, the Mafia has inspired dread. A century ago it spread north to Naples and found root in Milan and Bologna, but its home, its nest, its lair is Sicily. Much of what has been written about the Mafia is aprocryphal. The soundest books written in recent years are: "The Honored Society," by Norman Lewis; "Brotherhood of Evil" by Frederic D. Sondern Jr., and "King of Crime," by Dom Frasca.

Even the authors do not agree on what the Mafia is and how it flourishes. It is, in essence, a practical and conscienceless supra-law designed for profit. In some areas, it is composed of families; in others, it recruits young men who are brave, respectful, obedient and equipped with cast-iron souls. In Sicily, policemen, judges and even priests were mafiosa.

There is little doubt that such men as Vito Genovese, Lucky Luciano and Frank Costello were American capo-mafiosa — over-lords. They had the dedicated deadliness, the dignity of the whisper, the respect for society, the loyalty to all its members, and the ability to make final decisions. For this reason, I doubt that Al Capone, hysterical, greedy and given to delusions of personal grandeur, could have been a member. This also applies to a lot of waterfront hoodlums with Italian names.

In Sicily, the top capo-mafia was Signor Calogero Vizzini, who is referred to as Don Calo. He ran his organization as though it was a monastic order. Doctors, lawyers and businessmen were honored to be invited to be minor members. Don Calo did not think of his Honored Society as a scourge of the earth, or even as a lawless group. He was opposed to petty crime, unorganized crime, and independent brigands.

Often, he worked with the police to trap criminals. Don Calo despised the cheap blackmailers who sent extortion notes with black hands as signature. One young criminal was warned, then killed. His body was sent to his parents with a large diamond ring on one finger. The Mafia knew that they were poor.

The warning to non-mafia malefactors is different. On Sicilian farms, a vine is cut at the roots; a farm dog is beheaded and left on the door step; a mule is mained. If the warnings are ignored, and the malefactor is killed, he is expected to abide by the rule of Omerto if he does not die at once. Omerto is manliness to death. Questions from the police are responded to in formula: "If I die, may God forgive me as I forgive the one who did this. If I manage to pull through, I know how to settle accounts."

The Mafia speaks of God as though it had its own. Its enemies have always been the same: Landlord; church; police. For centuries, the Honored Society has raided rich estates; extorted money from prelates as "protection from assassins"; and ambushed policemen. It is in the last fifty years that the Mafia has branched out into extortion rackets, prostitution, narcotics, and labor unions.

Don Calo called it "pizzu." It is a word meaning the beak of a bird. The Mafia referred to the rackets as "Fari vagnari a pizzu" —wetting of the beak. Around the year 1900, Capo Mafia Vito Cascio Ferro organized the first of the modern racket. His men bought produce from the farmers at rock-bottom prices, sent the vegetables to market in Mafia carts where choice space was guaranteed only by the Mafia, and sold to the public.

Don Vito organized the meat and fruit business too, controlled the sale of cemetery lots, and sold licenses to beggars. In Sicily, the Mafia became so rich, so powerful, that the police were forced to maintain relations of respect in order to solve crime.

Sometimes, when a small mafiosa committed an unspeakable crime, he was handed over to the police and, when he was sent to prison, he "committed suicide." The body was sent home and buried. The real prisoner had not died. Someone else was killed in prison and given his name. His punishment was to be sent to America, or worse, to Italy.

Most Sicilians did not regard themselves as Italian and, in the war, tried to secede from the mainland. Even the good citizens had a code: If one witnesses a crime, avert the face and see nothing and say nothing. This kept the Mafia in power . . .

Pontiff Leads Homage At Tomb of Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI led the Roman Catholic Church today in homage to Pope John XXIII on the first anniversary of his death.

The pontiff descended into the crypt beneath St. Peter's Basilica to celebrate a memorial Mass before the flower-decked tomb of Pope John. Then he knelt for several minutes in silent prayer.

Masses Follow

A succession of Masses followed before the tomb. One was celebrated by Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who was Pope John's private secretary.

Another memorial service was scheduled at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's native village where his brothers still work their farms.

50,000 Asks Beatification

Pilgrims by the thousands thronged to the pope's birthplace in the north Italian mountains. A petition with 50,000 signatures, asking the start of a beatification cause for Pope John, was brought to Bishop Clemente Gaddi of the Bergamo diocese, which includes Sotto il Monte.

Beatification is the first step toward possible sainthood.

He had reigned less than five years, but the work he began—the renewal and transition of Roman Catholicism—lives on.

Few popes in the Church's nearly 2,000 years made so profound an impression.

Unconventional Pope

He summoned the Ecumenical Council to let the fresh air of modern times into the Church. He hoped renewal of the Church would help the growing movement toward Christian unity.

Through word and deed he showed himself an unconventional pope. He ventured freely from the Vatican. He received a top Communist in private audience, Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nephew Alexei Adzhubei. He said in his encyclical "Peace on Earth" that in certain situations Catholics and Communists could work together for the common good of man.

This brought him criticism, particularly in Italy after the Communist party made strong gains in a general election. But Pope John once said the pope had to be a father to all.

Top People at Honolulu

Johnson Administration Is Quiet About Southeast Asia

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quietness has settled over the Johnson administration on the subject of Southeast Asia. Yet, it can't afford to sit and rock.

President Johnson himself has said the whole area is at stake. And the situation has been going from bad to worse. Tuesday there was a double vagueness.

1. Johnson had ordered some of his top people to a Honolulu conference on what to do. It ended Tuesday with no recommendations announced. This was to be expected.

2. Johnson told his news conference nothing new Tuesday. He did say the United States "cannot fail to do its full share to meet the (Communist) challenge."

This studied obscurity may mean Johnson himself will announce it if this country has decided on a more vigorous and far-reaching policy in Southeast Asia.

Aim Deteriorates

While the United States has been giving South Viet Nam $1.5 million a day in aid, and more than 200 of the 15,500 American military men there have been killed, the fight against the North Vietnamese Communists has deteriorated.

By last week all Southeast Asia looked in peril with the Reds stepping up their attack in Viet Nam and rampaging in Laos next door.

The United States could take a definitely new step by bombing the North Vietnamese supply depots. But what would the Red Chinese do in that case?

Present at Parley

It was at this point that Johnson ordered the Honolulu meeting. Present were:

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and many aides and advisers.

This South Vietnamese war had turned McNamara into a regular commuter. In the past two and a half years he had made five trips to Saigon and six to Honolulu, including this one.

Not Optimistic Now

From a number of those journeys he had returned optimistic, but not recently.

After the meeting U.S. officials hinted military action might be taken against North Viet Nam if it and Red China continue to help the fighting in South Viet Nam and Laos.

Yet, at the same time they said neither McNamara nor Rusk proposed a plan "to enlarge the war." And here in Washington Johnson said he knew of no plans like that.

Hints on Enlarging War

Nevertheless, Rusk on May 22, before going to Honolulu, hinted at the possibility of enlarging the war "if the Communists persist in their course of aggression."

Whether this was intended more as a psychological deterrent to the Reds than as a reality still isn't clear.

About all that seems positive at the moment is that the United States — Johnson said Tuesday about meeting the challenge — has no intention of abandoning Southeast Asia to communism.

Won't Abandon People

In that same talk 12 days ago Rusk said, "We have made it clear that we are not going to abandon people who are trying to preserve their independence and freedom."

There's another good but unexpressed reason for not walking out: It would wreck American influence in all Asia and perhaps with its allies, too.

Health for All

Why Teens Skip Breakfast

"What did you have for breakfast this morning? The question was put, in a reasonably polite way, to 500 freshman in a large Chicago high school.

Nearly half admitted that they hadn't any breakfast. Of those who had, half had taken time for only a fast grab — a roll or a slab of toast washed down with coffee or water. Only a quarter of those involved had eaten an adequate breakfast — milk, fruit, cereal, and perhaps an egg.

The breakfast eaters averaged higher in their school work and showed far fewer absences. It was concluded that some instruction about eating habits wold help raise the general student level of performance.

After a semester of teaching about nutrition and rules for healthy living, the youngsters were asked the same question. Results turned out virtually the same as before. Although now primed with the facts, few students had changed their habits. One explained: "I know that I should eat breakfast, but this morning I only had time for a toothpick." Other excuses were divided between "no time" and "not hungry."

The key, it turned out, was mother and her plans for family happiness. Too many mothers assume that adolescents are "old enough to get their own breakfast." They are. But the sad fact is, they don't.

In those "between" years, boys and girls are half children, half grown-up. They should be greeted each morning with a dependable "Breakfast is ready, come and get it!" Without this secure beginning they may drift through the day, bodies inadequately prepared to meet their responsibilities.

CAB Eliminates Some Air Trips, To Review Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered elimination of Mohawk Airlines service at Auburn-Geneva, N.Y., and Meadville, Pa., and between Bradford, Pa., and Elmira-Corning, N.Y.

The board issued a certificate Tuesday putting into effect the March 4 recommendation of Examiner Darron Fredericks that the eliminations be made.

In Utica, N.Y., a Mohawk spokesman said the airline did not serve Auburn-Geneva, although it had the authority to do so. He said the CAB's order removed that authority.

The CAB also ordered a review of the examiner's recommendations that Mohawk service be retained at Liberty, Monticello and Oneonta, N.Y., and that Mohawk be required to provide Olean, N.Y., with at least one daily round trip serving New York City.

The board said it would consider what modifications, if any, should be made on Mohawk's service at Olean.

The California company owns 27,000 acres of land in Wyoming, Genesee and Livingston Counties and has announced plans for drilling additional natural-gas wells.

Bingham Points To Victory as Win Over Bossism

NEW YORK (AP)—Jonathan B. Bingham, a former diplomat with an Ivy League background, has won Democratic nomination for Congress, defeating Rep. Charles A. Buckley, Bronx political boss and a congressman 30 years.

The 50-year-old Bingham, who ran on a reform ticket, said he believed the voters of the 23rd Congressional District favored him because "they were fed up with old-fashioned bossism."

Buckley, 73, angrily declined comment on his defeat in Tuesday's primary by an opponent he had called a "punk" and a "stiff." The vote was 26,473-22,488.

The campaign was so bitter that Bingham began a $500,000 libel action against Buckley. The summons was served on the congressman at a polling place.

Buckley, chairman of the influential House Public Works Committee, is a long time friend of the Joseph P. Kennedy family.

Bingham is the son of the late Sen. Hiram Bingham, a Connecticut Republican. He attended Groton School and Yale and served in various State Department posts.

Traffic Is Stalled As Cars Derailed

SAVANNAH, N.Y. (AP) — Westbound traffic was stalled for more than seven hours Tuesday when eight cars of a New York Central Railroad freight train were derailed just east of this Wayne County community.

No one was reported injured.

The cars were part of a 51-car train enroute from the DeWitt yards, near Syracuse, to Niagara Falls. The accident occurred 35 miles west of Syracuse.

Six of the derailed cars were empty. Another carried soap and another, bauxite ore.

The French liquor chartreuse is both green and yellow, with the green containing about 57 per cent alcohol and the yellow 43 per cent.

Drivers Warned Of Peak Traffic Toll for State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicles commissioner has warned New York State drivers that, unless they exercise more caution, the 1964 highway death toll could be the highest in years.

Commissioner William S. Hults issued the warning in a report Tuesday that the toll for the four months that ended April 30 was 745 deaths, an increase of 72 over the corresponding period last year.

The number of accidents was up 13 per cent, to 681, and the number of pedestrian deaths was 289, an increase of 12½ per cent.

Training Plan Would Rival GI Bill After War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a proposal which proponents say would give American job training its biggest boost since the GI Bill.

The idea, proposed by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, is to treat job skills like capital investments and give employers tax credits for training new workers and upgrading the abilities of present employes.

"Cost to the employer is the greatest single bar to an adequate apprenticeship and training program in America," the committee said in making the recommendation to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

High Labor Department officials view the recommendation as an important proposal in their efforts to combat growing technological job displacement and persistently high unemployment.

The apprenticeship committee —made up of one government, five management and five labor members — carries considerable weight. Its recommendations have led to federal equal employment policies and other important programs in job training in the past.

The committee said employers should be encouraged to undertake more job training by granting them a tax write-off at least as great as the 7 per cent they now get for certain capital expenditures designed to spur business investment.

But, the committee indicated, an even higher tax credit would be justified because of the risk involved in training a man for a job and then losing him to a competitor.

The committee said the government has made no large scale contribution to on-the-job training since Congress passed the GI Bill after World War II to train and educate war veterans.

The committee's unanimous recommendation urge tax credits on the salary and other costs of instructors, bookkeeping costs, training material, cost of time spent in class by apprentices during paid working hours and a certain percentage of the salary of foremen who work with trainees.

4 Men Killed In Island Crash

WESTHAMPTON BEACH N.Y. (AP)—Four men were killed today in a head-on automobile collision in front of the Suffolk County Air Force Base. Three other men were injured.

Southampton town police said the accident occurred before dawn on a straight stretch of the Riverhead - Westhampton Road. There were patches of fog in the area at the time, they said.

The injured were in fair condition at a hospital in Riverhead.

Police said two of the four dead men were assigned to the air base and the other dead and injured were all from Florida.

The two dead airmen were identified as Leon K. Talcott, 19, driver of one car, and Robert Worley, 22.

Worley's home town was listed as Charleston, W. Va., and Talcott's as Heuvelton, N.Y. Street addresses were not available.

Dead in the other car were Robert N. Hanford, 51, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Chester Grisby, 25, of Delray Beach, Fla.

Santa Claus Is Richest One Ever

Santa Claus, favored at 15-8, was near the back of the field of 17 runners for most of the 1½ miles of the race. He came from behind and passed Indiana in the last few yards of a thrilling finish.

U.S. Strength Is To Save World, LBJ Tells Cadets

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States is stronger militarily "than any adversary or combination of adversaries" but "the staggering strength is not to destroy but to save, not to put an end to civilization but to put an end to conflict."

In a speech prepared for graduation exercises at the Coast Guard Academy, Johnson predicted that this country's strength will continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all others.

Share Security for Free

"Our adversaries, convinced that direct attack would be aimless, now resort to terror, subversion and guerilla warfare," Johnson said.

He told the cadets that Americans share responsibility "not only for our own security but for the security of all free nations, not only for our own society but for an entire civilization, not only for our own liberty but for the hopes of all humanity."

"In pursuit of such responsibilities, national security requires more than national strength," Johnson said.

"It requires, first of all, a nation dedicated to justice and the improvement of life for its own people. It requires a nation determined to help others eliminate the despair and human degradation on which the enmies of freedom feed. It requires a nation devoted, through speech and deed, to showing those who may grow weary of will, or fearful of the future that the cause of human dignity is on the march, its shadow is lingering, and victory is moving nearer.

"But our hope our success in the aims of peace rests also on the strength of our arms.

"We, as well as our adversaries, must stand in awe before the power our craft has created and our wisdom must labor to control.

Stronger Than Ever

"In every area of national strength America today is stronger than it ever has been before. It is stronger than any adversary or combination of adversaries. It is stronger than the combined might of all the nations in the history of the world."

In predicting this country's strength will continue to grow more rapidly than that of all others, Johnson said the first area of increasing strength must be our ability to deter atomic destruction.

"In the past three years we have increased our nuclear power on alert two and one-half times, and our nuclear superiority will continue to grow until we reach agreement on arms control."

Ballots Impounded, Close in Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — The Orange County Election Commission ordered ballot boxes impounded here Tuesday night because of the closeness of a race for Democratic nomination for city council.

Frank P. Mancinelli was apparently the winner by 20 votes over Mrs. Grace Schirmer, a city supervisor running for the nomination without support of the party organization.

There were no allegations of irregularities in the election, but the commission ordered the boxes locked in a jail cell, pending a final tally.

Fantastic Run

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Fantasticks" continues to roll up achievement milestones off-Broadway. The little musical — it has a cast of just five—clicked off its 1,671st performance on May 3, fifth anniversary of its premiere. It is the fifth longest-running musical in stage history, on Broadway or off.

Sun vs. Skin

When on a wedding trip to a sunny climate, take care not to get a painful sunburn. Select a suntan lotion that will screen out the sun's burning rays and which has a moisturizing quality to keep your skin from drying out. After bathing, smooth on a baby lotion or moisturizing cream to keep your skin supple.

Fuller Lips

Too thin lips often make a woman look as though she disapproved of everything. Thin lips can be made to look fuller. Apply lipstick outside the natural lipline following the natural pattern.

Unrest in Korea

Park Proclaims Martial Law in Wake of Clashes

By C. S. CHIN

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—About 20,000 students and citizens demanding that President Chung Hee Park resign fought a bloody battle with police today and on into the night. His shaken regime proclaimed martial law.

Street fighting swirled around the capitol and on the approaches to the presidential palace in a day of wild disorder. Outbreaks were reported in other South Korean cities.

The decree putting the nation under martial law was announced after Park, who came to power four years ago on the heels of another student uprising, called the National Security Council into urgent session.

Also summoned were the representatives of the United States, which bankrolls this land of poverty menaced by communism. They were U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger and Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, the U.S. and U.N. commander in Korea.

So perilous were the streets, where students were seizing army trucks, battering at the stones on police, that Berger capitol's gates and raining stones on police, that Berger and Howze flew to the conference in a helicopter.

Then as the fighting sputtered on after nightfall, the deputy information minister, Lo Suk-chan, announced the emergency martial law decree giving the army power to crush the demonstrations and drive people from Seoul's teeming streets.

Lions, Garden Club Cooperate In Civic Project

The New Paltz Lions Club plans to assist the New Paltz Garden Club in its effort to beautify the triangle at South Chestnut Street and Mohonk Avenue. The Garden Club is interested in beautifying this spot in the ultimate hope of entering it in community garden competitions.

The State Highway Department is at work preparing the maps necessary to determine elevations and dimension to aid the village in putting curbing around the triangle. The village will then be able to apply to the state for construction permits.

Several ladies of the Garden Club attended the recent meeting of the village board. Mrs. George Bogert asked the board for a progress report on the anti-litter campaign. She reported that the Garden Club wished to run a slogan contest to gain widespread support in its anti-litter drive.

The Lions Club has pledged to support the beautifying of the Chestnut Street-Mohonk Avenue triangle by donating cash as well as manpower.

St. Joseph's School Has Teacher Program

The show under the direction of Mrs. Edward Tasker and Mrs. Vito Interrante, consisted of skits and speeches by the school children. It began with an opening speech by Miss Bernadette Schiller followed by a song by the cast. Two dancers, Reggie Wazeski and Andrea Escalet, then gave a combination twist and cha-cha. Vaudeville act was given by Richard and Patty Steffens. Mark Demers first played the Polonaise on the piano, and them accompanied his sister while she sang, I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard. Alice Steffens gave an excellent pantomime and Alberta Denys played the Streets of New York on his mandolin. Other acts were Patty Schreiber, Diane Coats and Kathy Beattie singing I Like to Go A Wondering and the eighth grade girls singing their own version of The Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The highlight of the day was the appearance of the New Paltz Beatles who were played by Charles Interrante, Michael Andradez, Harold Phillips and Edward Tasker.

The teachers were presented with gifts and the show was then closed with a speech by Eileen Luczai, and a song by the cast.

The program has been planned by a special committee headed by Miss Rose Marie Feeney, of Ulster County Department of Public Welfare. Assisting her are Miss Constance Flood of Ulster County Mental Health Center; Miss Helen Genies of Ulster County Health Department; Charles Schultz of Ulster County Probation Service, and Miss Katherine Murphy of Ulster County Association for Mental Health. Areas of Discussion

Donald J. Haughton, field training representative of the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare, will conduct the training program. Some of the points he will cover will be:

What does an interview mean to a case worker, and how to approach it; interviewing the emotionally disturbed, the unstable adult or child and the mentally retarded; planning and helping a family who has an alcoholic, an aged, mildly senile member, or a member with another emotional problem; the importance of terminology; interpretation of program to, and securing information from, the client.

The program will start at 1:15 p. m. There will be a coffee break at approximately 2:30 p. m. Time has been allotted for questions.

The workshop will be held in the auditorium of the Benedictine Hospital, School of Nursing, Kingston.

Parade, Legion Tribute to JFK Are Top Events

In a pastoral setting hard by a running brook and between the Ohayo and Overlook mountains of Woodstock legend, Woodstock Post 1026, American Legion, paid tribute to our martyred president, John F. Kennedy, on Memorial Day.

In a solemn climax to the most successful Memorial Day parade in many years, Commander Mark Vlock of the Woodstock post unveiled a granite memorial and placed a wreath on it . . . a wreath handed to him by Mrs. Magda Moseman, president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Surrounding the marker on the lawn of the American Legion property are four dogwood trees —two red and two white—planted by the Legion. The beautiful dogwoods, a favorite tree of the late president, each spring will bloom to cast their perpetual brilliance on the granite memorial.

Commander's Remarks

In a brief dedicatory speech, Commander Vlock said:

"We remember his courage. We remember his devotion to his high ideals and we remember his great fulfillment of his high office.

"We know of his concern for the rights and dignity of even the least of his fellowmen. Before him stretched a bright destiny of leadership and brilliant statesmanship, a destiny that was negated, alas, by the assassin's bullet.

"We remember and we mourn, and in token of our sorrow, we place this wreath."

Outstanding Parade

Observers agreed generally that this was one of Woodstock's outstanding parades. Forming at Orchard Lane and Tinker Street, the parade made its customary stop at the Village Green memorial where Monsignor Austin V. Carey of St. John's parish, Commander Vlock and Mrs. Moseman participated in a brief ceremony. The Rev. Norman C. Krapf, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, offered prayers for the departed veterans of all wars at Woodstock cemetery where the firing squad fired its first volleys of the day.

Alan Styles, a past commander, was parade marshal and Wayne Underhill, another past commander, was Officer of the Day.

Three bands participated — from Saugerties and Catskill and the resplendent Onteora High school marching band under the direction of Harry Simon. The township's four fire companies paraded behind a contingent of Legionnaires. Town board officilals, Boy Scout and Girl troops also participated.

Hold Open House

Riding in other open cars were groups representing Woodstock Rotary, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Woodstock Senior Citizens. Three Gold Star Mothers rode in one car and two foreign exchange students in another vehicle.

After the Kennedy memorial ceremony, the Legion was host at an open house attended by several hundred persons.

Works by Local Artists to Go In New Embassy

The contemporary creations of five prominent Woodstock artists who have either worked, studied or exhibited in Mexico City will be hung on the white marble walls of the new United States Embassy in Mexico City.

The Woodstock group includes Ethel Magafan, Bruce Currie, Edward Chavez, Fletcher Martin and the late Edward Millman.

Two new American embassies will be opened in Dublin, Ireland, and Mexico City this month and they will immediately become showcases of contemporary American art.

Mrs. Kefauver's Work

The embassy exhibitions are the first results of the work now being done by Nancy Kefauver, widow of the Senator from Tennessee, in her new role as the State Department's Consultant on Fine Arts.

The art has been chosen with an eye to the architecture of each embassy. The Dublin chancery is based on an old Celtic design and combines architecture of the Old and New World in a building in the round. Mrs. Kefauver has hung on its walls, contemporary prints by Jack Perlmutter, well known Washington artist. Appropriately, Perlmutter's pictures all have a green theme.

Mrs. Kefauver is organizing a National Acquisition Committee which will soon help her respond to appeals for art from all other U. S. embassies.

WOODSTOCK—4

The Sturges Buy Webster Avanti

Mr. and Mrs. Hollister Sturges have purchased "Avanti" the Webster house in Byrdcliffe, Benjamin L. Webster has announced. The transaction was completed last Friday.

The Sturges have been summer residents of Woodstock since 1951, having occupied "Casa Carniola," one of Peter Whitehead's houses in Byrdcliffe.

Sturges is a government contract specialist in the Defense Activities Division of Western Electric Company in New York City. He has served as a group leader in his firm's Democracy in Action program to teach employes the rudiments of politics. Mrs. Sturges, the former Elizabeth W. Betz of Kingston, has been active in the YWCA and the Girl's Service League in New York. She was recently elected executive vice president of this latter organization.

The Sturges have three children. The oldest, Hollister III, is an English teacher at Auburn High School in California. He graduated from Corneli in 1962. A daughter, Pamela S. Whitman, is a student at the University of California. Her husband, Randal L. Whitman, is a graduate student at Stanford University. Their younger daughter, Abigail, has just completed her sophomore year at Vassar. She will be an hospitality aide hostess at the New York World's Fair this summer.

"Avanti" was built in 1910 by Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Webster on land purchased from Ralph Radcliffe Whitehead, the founder of the Byrdcliffe arts and crafts colony. They had previously spent six summers in the community, occupying "Sunrise." Benjamin L. Webster and his wife, the former Gioja Stallforth, have occupied the house since 1934. All of their four daughters have attended Woodstock schools. Four generations of Websters have lived in the house.

The Ben Websters are planning to build a new house in the same general area. For the time being they have rented the John Carlson studio on Glasco Turnpike.

First Exhibit

The Woodstock Artists Association first exhibition of the 1964 season, Life Members Choose 3" opens with a reception from 3 to 6 p. m. on Friday, June 5.

Works chosen for exhibition are due Thursday, June 4, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

Thought Order Was a Scare

Ranger Leader Had Tough Assignment for Omaha Beach

EDITOR'S NOTE — Every commander worries about "accidents of the terrain"—an unexpected ditch, a patch of hidden swamp that can lose a battle. There was nothing unexpected in what a Texan faced 20 years ago. What he faced made a man sweat.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — "First time you mentioned it, I thought you were trying to scare me," said Lt. Col. Earl Rudder to Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

Assignment: Land 200 men on a difficult shelf, scale a 100-foot cliff and destroy German guns trained so they would cut to pieces any troops landed on Omaha Beach.

"No soldier in my command has ever been wished a more difficult task than that which befell the 34-year-old commander of this Ranger force," Gen. Bradley wrote in his book, "A Soldier's Story."

New recognition of Rudder, now president of Texas A&M University and a Reserve major general, will come Friday when he becomes an official representative of the United States to mark the 20th anniversary of the Allies' crash-through into Europe in World War II. He is in the delegation headed by Gen. Bradley and appointed by President Johnson to attend ceremonies in France.

To prepare his troops, Rudder trained them on the stony cliffs of the Isle of Wight. Ropes with grappling hooks and ladders carried by amphibious trucks were to be used in scaling the Normandy cliffs. The trucks proved useless.

"As the Rangers went up the ropes hand over hand, the enemy dropped grenades on their heads. A destroyer raced in and swept the top of the cliffs with her guns.

"Within five minutes after they had landed, the first Ranger had bellied over the top. Seconds later his companions swarmed up behind him."

Rudder's boat was the first to reach shore, official Army records show.

About noon of D-Day, Rudder sent this message:

About three hours later came a reply: "No reinforcements available."

Relief came on D-Day plus-2. The battalion had suffered more than 50 per cent casualties and Rudder himself had been wounded three times.

Rudder received decorations from three countries, including the Distinguished Service Cross, the United States' second highest award for individual valor.

He later commanded an infantry regiment which helped repulse the last major offensive of the Germans, the Battle of the Bulge.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has completed a 224-mile canal from the Baltic Sea to the Volga River. The Soviet news agency Tass said it will take over at least 15 million tons of cargo a year from overburdened railroads.

3 Women Killed, 47 Hurt as Bus Tips on Highway

GURNEE, Ill. (AP) — Three women were killed and 47 other persons injured Tuesday when a chartered bus struck a bridge and overturned on a rain-slick highway.

Sheriff Charles E. Larson said a mechanical failure on the bus may have caused the accident on U.S. 41, about 40 miles north of Chicago. The bus was en route to Milwaukee, Wis.

Larson said several passengers told him the driver, Clarence Lorch, stopped the bus and "got out with a wrench and monkeyed around with a back wheel" a few miles before the accident. Lorch, who was 60 on Tuesday, was listed in critical condition at a hospital in nearby Waukegan. He was not questioned.

Four women passengers were described in critical condition.

The 49 passengers, all women, were returning to Milwaukee from a tour of the Avon Products, Inc., cosmetics plant in Morton Grove, a suburb of Chicago.

Although the tour was privately sponsored, most of the women are members of the Christian Mothers Society at St. Paul Roman Catholic church in Milwaukee.

The dead were identified as Angela Santarelli and Stella Ciseski, both of Milwaukee; and Jean Posto of outh Milwaukee.

Accuse Students Of $300 Damage To Hobart Frat

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — Six college students are accused of causing more than $300 damage to a Hobart College fraternity house after, police said, they had visited a tavern.

The six, including three seniors, are charged with third-degree burglary and damaging property, both felonies.

Police said they entered the fraternity house following a tavern visit Tuesday and broke windows on three floors and ripped tiles from walls.

Wesley A. Henderson, 22, a junior, Watertown; Robert E. Harrington, 22, a senior, Baltimore; Robert M. Magosci, 21, a senior, York, Maine; Peter L. Smith, 22, a senior, Port Washington, and Michael D. Saunders, 20 a sophomore, Watertown.

James B. Scott, 23, the sixth youth, was from the University of Baltimore and was visiting a brother at Hobart.

The six were jailed in lieu of $3,000 bail each.

Find Tots Dead In Refrigerator

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Two young children were found dead Tuesday in an unused refrigerator after a five-hour police search.

Mrs. Robert Costlow discovered the bodies of her son, Robert, 3, and daughter, Marian 2, in a disconnected refrigerator in a bedroom of their home in this Chautauqua County city.

Police said the children had been playing in the bedroom when they apparently became trapped in the refrigerator. The deaths were ruled accidental by a coroner.

'No-Trumpist' Is Contract Pest

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Everyone likes to play no-trump contracts, but the no-trumpist goes miles out of his way to get the no-trump play in his own hand. It always delights me when he is properly punished for this type of misbid.

West opened the queen of hearts and dummy's king was gobbled up by East's ace.. Back came a heart and the defense cashed six fast heart tricks while South was busy discarding winners.

South complained bitterly about his bad luck. He pointed out that his bidding had forced West to make a blind lead and that West might well have opened a spade or a diamond. It also was even money that West would hold the ace of hearts, whereupon the heart lead would not have hurt him anyway.

For some strange reason North had nothing to say. Perhaps, she was just too nice to speak up or maybe she had learned that it wouldn't do any good. There is no cure for this no-trump disease. Any criticism of a no-trumpist is apt just to lead to more and worse no-trump bids from him in an effort to show a profit on one of them.

I did not comment either. Kibitzers should be seen and not heard and I am not going to comment now, except to point out that if North had been the no-trump declarer nothing could have hurt him.

Lutherans Favor Stronger CR Action

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Synod of the Lutheran Church went into its third day of meetings today bolstered by several firm stands supporting stronger civil-rights action.

The 1,000 Lutheran clergymen, lay delegates and visitors to the meeting pledged to carry the civil rights banner to the 380 congregations and 219,413 members the Synod comprises.

Only One Laotian Finds American Boots to Fit

BAN NA LONG, Laos (AP)— A company of right-wing troops in this desolate Laotian village has found American aid a trifle too expansive.

A supply of rubber-soled canvas combat boots arrived the other day as part of U.S. assistance to the little kingdom's anti-Communist forces.

Only one man, the biggest in the company, found a pair he could use. The boots ranged in size from 10 to 12F. The average Laotian soldier wears a 5 or 6.

Slate Motorcade In 3 Counties For J. Y. Resnick

Some 250 supporters of Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville, candidate for Congress from the 28th District, will launch a major "Motorcade for Progress" this Saturday.

The mammoth motorcade starting with over 20 cars and winding up with more than 50, featuring the Democratic candidate, will cover major portions of Ulster, Greene and Schoharie Counties. Resnick will speak at several locations, and parades are slated also. Music will be provided by three bands in the motorcade.

Resnick said, "the motorcade sponsored by the Resnick Grass Rooters, will be the start of my intensive campaign in all of the five counties of the 28th Congressional District." He also noted, "this motorcade will allow me to meet with the people I hope to represent. I hope to learn on this trip of the problems facing the people of my district and what legislation and action is needed to solve them. In addition, I hope to let as many people as possible know my stand on the vital national issues of the day."

The motorcade will start assembling at 7 a. m. Saturday at the Channel Master parking lot in Ellenville with 20 cars expected.

It will leave at 7:45. Assembly time at the Kerhonkson National Bank is 7:15, with departure set for 8 a. m. From there the motorcade will proceed to Kingston where assembly at the Big Scott Parking Lot is 7:45 a. m. The Kingston departure is scheduled for 8:30 when the motorcade will move north on the Thruway to Catskill.

The motorcade will journey through Greene and Schoharie Counties and return to Kingston via Saugerties. A major parade and rally with other Democratic county officials and candidates will be held in Kingston at a time and place to be announced.

How It Goes With Royalty In Ruling Homes, Nations

EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Queens rule nations, but princes rule royal homes.

At least that's the way it is with a pair of the world's best known princes—Bernhard of the Netherlands and Philip of Britain.

"To succeed as both husband and subject, I believe you need a tightrope walker's sense of balance and an understanding wife. In the nation it is my wife who rules. In my home it is I."

Prince Bernhard, the husband of Queen Juliana, gave the advice to the husband of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953, shortly before her coronation. The prince of the Nethelands volunteered it in an interview with a former Dutch court reporter, Donald Canter.

There is nothing to suggest that Prince Philip doesn't follow the advice. There is, however, a slight suspicion that Prince Philip doesn't have his way all the time.

Lord Kinross has said that Queen Elizabeth once asked a woman friend: "What do you do when your husband wants something badly and you don't want him to have it?"

"Well, ma'am," the queen's friend is reported to have replied, "I try to reason with him and dissuade him and sometimes we reach a compromise."

To this Her Britannic Majesty is said to have retorted: "Oh, that's not my method. I tell Philip he shall have it, and then make sure he doesn't get it."

But, according to persons close to the British throne, there is overwhelming evidence to suggest that Prince Philip rules the British royal home as surely as Bernhard does the one in Holland.

For instance:

—The queen opposed Prince Philip flying. He flew.

—The queen was opposed to Prince Charles going to Gordonstoun, the tough Scottish public school. Charles went to Gordonstoun.

Then there was the time the queen appeared before a royal party wearing a dress of her own choosing. In the hearing of several persons, Philip toook a look at the frock, frowned and said rather sharply: "You're not going to wear THAT, are you?"

"No dear," answered the queen, and went and changed the dress.

Area Residents Take Red Cross Aquatic Course

Ulster County residents Miss Sherbourne Houze, Paul Francis Gorman, and Robert Allen Reynolds Jr. will be among the young men and women attending the American Red Cross National Aquatic Schools, Gerhard Klemm, chairman of the water safety committee of the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter has announced.

Miss Houze, of PO Box 434, New Paltz, a student at the State University of New York College at Potsdam, will attend the school to be held at Camp Gardiner Lake, Colchester, Conn., from June 10 to 20. She plans to be employed in the waterfront program at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill.

Mr. Gorman, of 5 Brookside Court, Halycyon Park, Lake Katrine, is a student at Marist College, Poughkeepsie, and plans to use his training as a waterfront counsellor at the Catholic Youth Organization Camp, Lake Katrine.

Mr. Reynolds, of Kingston Terrace, Kingston, will be graduated from Hoosac Prep School, Hoosick in June and will plan to use his training in teaching swimming this summer in the Kingston area.

Both Mr. Gorman and Mr. Reynolds will attend the Aquatic School to be held at Camp Indian Trails, Milford, Pa. from June 16 to June 26.

These Aquatic Schools are two of several 10-day training sessions held by the Red Cross this summer. They have been conducted annually since 1922 and the enrollment now totals over 77,000.

The schools are held at establisshed summer camps before and after the regular camping seasons. Their purpose is to increase the number of qualified instructors in swimming, lifesaving, boat safety, and first aid to participate in Red Cross chapter programs and to serve as swimming and waterfront directors at summer camps, beaches and pools.

WORK FOR THE FUTURE — Laborers toil on the granite cliffs along the Nile river in the Aswan High Dam area. The dam will create a 314-mile-long Lake Nasser whose waters will provide year-round irrigation and power for Egypt's industrialization.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

There was a time, not too long ago, when my readers spoke and wrote to me about the Mary Powell, Kingston Point Park, the Skillyput but today they worry about the insecurity of tomorrow. One of my readers cut out and marked the public notice for unpaid taxes, land and consolidated school tax just for the Town of Esopus, a small community, where there are some 85 unpaid consolidated school tax, as listed in the Tuesday, May 12, 1964 Freeman. I notice most of the land tax is paid.

Remembering that the people voted against the consolidated schools at the referendum, one old timer of the Town of Esopus told me that in the late 20's, he paid $4 for school tax. In the 1950's it went over $100 and in 1964 it climbed to over $160 yet no improvements whatsoever were done on his piece of property, although it is in a desirable location. No doubt, many other taxpayers who read this column, and go back to the school taxes they paid in the late 20's, then in the 1950's and now in 1964 would find the same increases. In the Thursday, May 7, 1964 Freeman on the front page they say there would be an increase of $540,804 over 1963 in school budget which is over seven million dollars. They say, "they slashed items wherever possible, devoted long hours to studying each item listed" and even went over each item "with a fine tooth comb" at meetings and workshop sessions. In that same paper there is mention of "Kingston schools having a sound basic program." In the May 15, 1964 a "Kiwanis speaker is critical of schools," thus the local paper gives you all sides of this school picture, which my readers bring me and say "Look!"

In the May 15, 1964 front page of The Freeman, D. Jacquith, president of the board of education of the City of Syracuse, spoke of the high cost of education in New York State. He also spoke of urban renewal. He said that with education "spending is going up at a fantastic rate," in fact a third higher than California, which statistics claim has the second best education system in the country. It so happens that Captain Andrew Hickey, historian and author and Bernie Singer of the board of education both had sent me material and pamphlets on these same statistics. I wish that all the business at the board of education would come out in the open so we could learn who is for what, and how much is spent for what. These members of the board are no doubt dedicated people and do not receive a salary, and why they run for the office, I'll never know. With four persons running for three offices, seemed strange to me, they should have had at least six people, so one would have a choice, and the slate was unknown to most voters so it seemed, so they did not care, perhaps, who got in.

Years ago, schools, welfare, and city spending was all put on an itemized list, and published in the local press, to what was paid for so small items, as a pail, a broom and other items. Today, we only know in round figures, in millions, how local public monies is spent. Sometimes I think the youngsters learn more from their own home TV than they do at school. Reading writing, spelling, arithmetic, history, geography played a very important part in our time in public school. Drawing was usually a once a week "pleasure" on Friday afternoons We had some music, but social life and physical education was left for after school. We skipped rope, played jacks, rode a bicycle, swam in the Hudson, roller skated, and ice-skated, read books and grew up.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The most fascinating stars of television Tuesday night and early today were the networks' electronic tote boards rolling up the vote totals in Tuesday's California primary. For once the numbers were more interesting than the people.

CBS demonstrated its faith in its "vote profile analysis" when only 2 per cent of the votes were counted and the polls were still open in the San Francisco area. It declared Barry Goldwater winner of the presidential preference vote at 10:22 p.m. EDT.

NBC, while noting Goldwater's constant lead, refrained from projecting a winner because of the closeness of the race. When 75 per cent of the votes were counted, Chet Huntley noted that the projection at that point would give Goldwater 51 per cent of the vote and Rockefeller 49 per cent. ..

Seconds before midnight, NBC did declare Pierre Salinger the winner in the state's Democratic senatorial primary, at about the same time that CBS did.

Both networks originally expected to name the winners—based on their computer findings—within a half hour after Southern California polls closed. CBS, in fact, planned to give the primary returns a mere half-hour at 10 p.m. EDT and then return to regular programming.

CBS stayed with the primary story until midnight and NBC kept reporting returns until 1 a.m.

Least interesting, at least to a viewer far removed from California, were the usual statements of the winners and the usual hedging "let's-wait-until-the-votes-are-all-in" remarks by the apparent losers.

Inevitably, too, there was considerable repetition during the long hours.

Hurley GOP Sets Dinner and Dance Saturday Night

Reservations will close Thursday for the third annual dinner-dance of the Town of Hurley Republican Club scheduled Saturday night at the Twin Lakes Mountain House, Lucas Avenue Extension.

Saturday's program will start with a prime ribs dinner at 7 o'clock and dancing will follow in the casino from 9 until 1 a. m.

The club official said today that "with the heat of the Primary battles over in Ulster County, area Republicans should show unity and a spirit of good Republicanism by attending party dinners and events in their areas." "This unity," Marquardt pointed out, "will prepare the party for its real battle in November."

Last minute reservations may be obtained by calling Arthur Rice, dinner chairman, of West Hurley.

NOT MUCH BIGGER—The Mercury space capsule was frighteningly small when you saw it, and the new Gemini or two-man capsule is not very much bigger. The Mercury stood 90 inches high and was 75.5 inches wide at bottom. The Gemini is basically only 12 inches higher and 9.5 inches wider or about 14 per cent larger overall. Newsgraphic above shows how Gemini will look in space. Parts of the ship are cut away to show various controls. Large "tank" tailing in back is a manned orbiting laboratory (MOL), which will be trailed by the Gemini in future flights and which also can be entered by one of the astronauts to perform experiments.

Boone Quitting Hollywood for Oahu Residence

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's goodbye Hollywood, for Richard Boone.

The moving vans have pulled up before his westside home, his cars have been shipped, and next Monday he shifts to his new residence on the island of Oahu, Hawaii.

Not Retiring

After 14 years as a Hollywood actor, including service in three television series, Boone is moving his wife and 10-year-old son to the islands. That doesn't to a life of ease among the palms and pineapples.

"I am not capable of retiring," he explained. "I'm merely shifting my base of operations to a place that is only 4½ hours away from Hollywood by jet. I expect to be here often, if producers call me, and I hope they do."

He also hopes to be working in the islands. He has an ambitious plan in mind.

"I think I've learned the production side of our business pretty well—I'd be pretty stupid if I hadn't," he said. "I want to establish a film studio in Hawaii with the purpose of producing features andte levision series and providing a base for other movie companies that come to Hawaii for locations.

Boon for Locations

"The idea would be to build two sound stages—one for shooting and one where sets would be prepared—plus an office complex. It would have to be on Oahu because of transportation. Also, the film lab is there, and the four television stations can provide tape and other facilities.

"The studio would be a boon for film locations. It would give companies cover sets to use in case of bad weather; within two hours they could be shooting indoors. Time lost by weather can be murder on a budget."

The Colonial American merchant-banker Stephen Girard bequeathed several million dollars to establish Girard College in Philadelphia for orphan boys.

In addition, those selected, who are U.S. citizens recruited from the continental United States, will be transported at government expense to their place of employment. Announcements are also available locally from Leo W. Dawak, Central Post Office.

Marriage With Music

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The traditional wedding marches were missing when Miss Frances Burke and William Earley were married. Before the ceremony, guests were treated to a 45-minute full scale concert, then the couple marched down the aisle to the strains of a suite for trumpet, string and organ.

If you can't do that, you can buy another kind of status symbol that's all the rage this year—Schweppes Bitter Lemon.

What does Schweppes Bitter Lemon taste like? Tart and lemony. Lightly carbonated. Much different from ordinary drinks.

Youth Conference On Atom Is Slated For November '64

Six of the Mid-Hudson Valley's most outstanding high school science students and their teachers will attend the National Youth Conference on the Atom, November 5-7 in Chicago as guests of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Some 600 of the nation's most outstanding high school science students and teachers annually attend the conference sponsored by the nation's investor-owned electric utility industry. Co-sponsors are the National Science Teachers Association and Future Scientists of America.

According to Central Hudson Commercial Vice President Edwin T. Strong, the conference is designed "to present to a group the nation's most able high school science students and teachers an authoritative and inspiring picture of the peaceful promise of the atom." Students from a majority of the states in the nation attend.

Dr. Christian Anderson, assistant director of Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, is special scientific consultant to the conference.

In addition to the meetings, the local students and teachers will tour the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant near Detroit, Michigan. Central Hudson is one of the group of investor-owned companies that designed, built and are operating the plant, a showplace of U. S. development of the Fast Breeder Nuclear Reactor concept.

"The conference," Mr. Strong said, "is designed to reward hard work on the part of future scientists and to give them some awareness of the dramatic strides being taken in the fields of atomic research and development aimed at realizing the promise of the peaceful atom.

"At Central Hudson we are anxious to contribute to the growth of knowledge in this highly important field of endeavor. Today's students hold the key to the future of the atomic energy industry. Encouraging their efforts will help to keep America at the forefront in pioneering efforts aimed at taming the atom for man's benefit," he said.

This is the sixth year that Central Hudson will have sent local students and teachers to the conferecne. Students will be selected this fall through an essay contest conducted by area schools on the subject "The Peaceful Uses of the Atom." Students selected in the past five years have been from Red Hook, New Paltz, Greenville, Rondout Valley and Coxsackie-Athens Central Schools. Newburgh Free Academy, F. D. Roosevelt High School in Hyde Park, St. Patrick's High School in Newburgh, Roy C. Ketcham High School, Wappingers, and Catskill High School.

HOW TO TERMINATE A BUSINESS VISIT POLITELY

Q: I am the office manager of a fairly large company and I often have to see salesmen and other visitors who come to the office on business matters. Sometimes these visitors stay longer than need be. Will you please tell me how I can politely conclude these visits without seeming abrupt and rude?

A: You can say that you are sorry you can't talk any longer but you have an appointment you must keep or that you are due at a conference in a few minutes or make any similar excuse.

Evening Clothes at Five O'clock

Q: Our wedding date is set for August. The ceremony will take place in church at five o'clock wth a reception following for 200 guests. My fiance is very partial to white tie and tails. I know that these clothes are evening attire but considering the lateness of the ceremony and the fact that the reception will take place after six o'clock, would it be proper for the men to wear white tie and tails?

A: I'm sorry but white tie and tails will not be proper at five o'clock in the afternoon especially during the summer when darkness is still hours away.

Girls Telephoning Boys

Q: I have a teen son who is forever receiving telephone calls from girls he knows. When I was young, a girl wouldn't dream of calling a boy ever, but today girls think nothing of this. Is it now considered proper for a girl to telephone a boy?

A: Although many of today's teen-aged girls do not seem to realize it, it is neither proper nor wise for them to telephone boys just for the sake of conversation. Telephoning to invite a boy to a party or to tell him something important is, of course, another matter and quite proper.

Following the dinner, Mr. La Susa introduced John C. Miller, sponsor for the Terralta Chapter of the National Honor Society, who gave a short historical sketch of the development of the organization from a few isolated societies at the turn of the century to the creation of the national organization in 1921, and its growth from 14 chapters in 1922 to 33,560 in 1963.

Mr. Miller then introduced George Fernandez, coordinator of the Curriculum Center of the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, who spoke to the members of the Terralta Chapter on their responsibilities, their place as potential community leaders, their need for introspection and clarity of thought and resolute action to maintain the right. Character was the key word to his address.

At the conclusion of the address of Mr. Fernandez, Mr. La Susa called on Hubert W. Perkins, supervising principal of the Highland Central School, who advised the members of Terralta Chapter to read—to read history, and especially to become thoroughly acquainted with the thoughts and precepts of the great philosophers both past and present—to obtain a grasp of the thought of all ages in order that their own thought may be more abundant and world-embracing.

Scots Can't Curb Spread Of Typhoid

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—The growing typhoid epidemic in Aberdeen has turned Scotland's leading resort into a pariah city.

The epidemic, which has caused the death of one woman, continues unchecked. The total of identified cases reached 248 today and 39 suspected cases were under observation.

Coming at the start of the tourist season, the outbreak already has cost Aberdeen hundreds of thousands of dollars.

As a government inquiry sought the cause of the outbreak, Secretary of State for Scotland Michael Noble ordered two brands of corned beef removed from store shelves throughout the country because Aberdeen health officials believed one of them had spawned the epidemic.

Noble told the House of Commons, however, that there was no positive evidence that the two brands—both South American—were responsible. It had not been established, he said, that corned beef was to blame.

But Dr. Ian MacQueen, chief public medical officer of Aberdeen, a city of 186,000 told a news conference: "There is no shadow of doubt that this outbreak started from a tin of corned beef."

Feelings Bitter in Midwest

Guard Keeps Peace As Pact Talks Fail

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 1,000 Michigan National Guardsmen kept the peace today at Hillsdale, Mich., scene of the bitterest of a rash of labor disputes in the Midwest.

Negotiations at the Essex Wire Corp. collapsed Tuesday on the eve of the plant's reopening, authorized by Gov. George Romney after he had kept the plant closed for five days.

Feelings were bitter in the city where strike violence has flared sporadically since the International Union of Electrical Workers pulled out its 180 production workers 96 days ago. The IUE was attempting to win its first contract at Essex. It had replaced the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent at Essex.

Hillsdale county's 35,000 residents were put under a curfew order. Two near riots have occurred at the plant and both strikers and workers have been injured. Romney arranged to station upward of 1,000 National Guardsmen in the city, four times the original number.

The union assailed Romney's reopening order as an attempt to influence the course of bargaining. The governor denied it.

In West Allis, Wis., striking steelworkers and police fought at the Pressed Steel Tank Co. Two men were hurt. Five pickets were arrested.

Police Chief Louis Reinsch said the fighting broke out as police tried to escort newly hired Marquette University students into the struck plant.

Fist fights also broke out at the Evansville, Ind., International Steel plant. The plant, employing 350 production workers, has been struck for eight weeks by Teamsters Union Local 215.

A company spokesman said one woman suffered a slight concussion when she tried to push past pickets Tuesday. He said the plant would be closed today because the employes were afraid to cross picket lines.

Also in Indiana, 500 industrial workers went on strike Tuesday at the Dana Corp., an automotive parts manufacturer in Marion. The dispute was over job classifications.

Leaders of the United Auto Workers voted Tuesday to strike today against the big White Motor Co. plant in Cleveland, Ohio.

WASHINGTON (AP) —In the news from Washington:

WARREN: The Warren Commission, investigating the slaying of President John F. Kennedy, has decided to hear more testimony from the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of the assassination.

In announcing Tuesday that Mrs. Oswald would return on June 11, the commission declined to say why she is being recalled.

CASTRO: State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips has denounced as "absurd and preposterous" charges by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that the United States is conducting germ warfare against Cuba.

Scoffing Tuesday at Castro's statement that three men executed in Cuba were agents of the Central Intelligence Agency, Phillips said:

"Castro self-servingly brands opponents of his regime as CIA agents whenever it suits his purpose to do so. I have no other comment on that charge."

CRASH: Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby predicts the May 7 Pacific Air Lines crash in which 44 persons were killed near Concord, Calif., may soon be reclassified as a "case of murder and sabotage."

During a discussion of airline security measures Tuesday, Halaby told newsmen he expects the FBI and the Civil Aeronautics Board to issue a statement soon on their investigation of the crash.

The plane went down on a flight from Reno, Nev., to San Francisco, killing all aboard.

This was the first time an official figure on the major element of the U.S. military manpower had been gven.

Mrs. Marx — actress Eden Hartford—is in London with her husband to start a television series.

Ailing Judy Garland plans to "take a slow boat to the United States," says Mark Herron, her traveling companion.

Herron said today Miss Garland is very weak and an ocean cruise will provide her with a chance to rest. He wouldn't say when the 41-year-old singer will leave Hong Kong, but did say she'd probably spend a week in Hawaii before returning to Hollywood.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower made an unannounced visit to the World's Fair to see a film at the Johnson's Wax pavilion.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Quote of the day: Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., in a speech at Louisiana State University said Congress is like a sports car, and explained: "It costs a lot of money and makes a lot of noise but it can't pass anything."

Democrats Urge Harrisburg Study On Election Law

HARRISBURG (AP) —Senate Democrats are calling for reform and investigation of Pennsylvania's election laws in the wake of controversy over the April 28 primary.

Sen. Benjamin H. Donolow, D-Philadelphia, urged the state to tighten up its vote counting procedures before the November presidential election.

"The primary has disclosed certain weaknesses in our election laws," Donolow declared Tuesday.

At the same time, Sen. Gus Yatron, D-Berks, appealed for a legislative investigation by the joint state-government commission into the entire election code. Both measures were referred to committee.

Donolow recommended two specific changes in a resolution.

One would require county officials using voting machines to take the returns directly from the machines and not from tally sheets. The other would require all absentee ballots challenges to be based on fact and affidavits.

Both issues have been the center of controversy in the race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate between Miss Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, and Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the state Supreme Court. Miss Blatt leads in the race by 640 votes.

Proposed Park Site

CP to Conduct Fall Fund Drive

Edward deGroff, president of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association, announced plans were underway for the annual fund-raising drive to be conducted this fall in the townships outside of Community Chest areas. He also stressed the importance of the 18th annual meeting and professional conference of the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New York State, Inc., which will be held at Glens Falls, June 5 and 6. The program theme Perception and Its Ramifications, is a subject which is of great interest to everyone since this complex perception problems affects other than cerebral palsied children.

Acknowledgements Given

The board also extended thanks to Seton Cottier and the Circle K Club of the Ulster County Community College for the excellence of the CP booth at the Lions Club exposition in April. Appreciation was extended to Mr. and Mrs. George Moylan of Rosendale for the successful family picnic held May 23 at their residence. Acknowledgement also was made of the many donations and pieces of essential equipment given to the Center by various organizations throughout the county.

Mrs. Charlotte Peck, director of the Treatment Center, reported an active case load of 185 children with a total of 1,353 treatments during the past two months. The clinic is presently completely staffed with three speech-hearing therapists, one physical therapist; a director, secretary and a nursery school teacher. Nursery enrollment was reported 21 children in April and 25 in May. There is a waiting list for admission to the Speech Department, but it is hoped that these youngsters may be included in the summer program which begins June 29. The Center will be closed the last two weeks in July and first week in August for annual summer vacation.

Tea Scheduled 18th

The Guild for the Handicapped reported it had sent pamphlets on pre-natal care to all obstetricians in the area. Their food sale showed a net of $140, which proceeds will be used to send a handicapped child to special summer camp.

Mrs. Milton Grover and Mrs. Sumber, co-chairman, announced that a tea will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel June 18 at 2 p. m. for all CP-Volunteers and the staff of the Treatment center. This private, non-profit Agency is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Supporters Look For Passage of 'Project 70' Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Enabling legislation for Project 70, Pennsylvania's $70 million "open space" program, headed for a final vote today in the Senate. Its backers were confident of passage.

The Senate cleared the way for the showdown Tuesday wrestling with a barrage of proposed amendments which touched off Democratic charges that Republicans were "trying to amend the bill out of business."

In other action, the Senate Appropriations Committee added $2.7 million to the Scranton administration's general appropriations bill, raising the total to $1.072 billion—some $2.2 million more than the governor originally asked for fiscal 1964-65.

The Senate also started action on an amended version of the House - passed land condemnation reform program proposed by the Scranton administration.

The major amendment drawn by the Senate's Judiciary General Committee eliminates public utility companies from coverage in the measure.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A Florida bowler watches television to see where he, or the ball, went wrong.

Services Ring Bell

And makers of closed-circuit television equipment and accessories can rejoice at annual sales now running at $16.5 million a year.

Delighted right along with them is the telephone industry. The giant Bell System and the hundreds of independent companies find in the growing business a bright new market for sales of their services.

The use of closed-circuit television is spreading. It's found in classrooms, banks, hotels, hospitals, on the launching pads of Cape Kennedy and in movie theaters.

The closed-circuit device in theaters let hordes of Americans watch the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fracas and argue about the outcome as heatedly as did the fans at the ring side. Stores and banks use forms of the closed-circuit to trap holdupmen and larcenous old ladies, check pilfering and make visual records of the faces of check signers.

Many Using It

In closed-circuit television the electronic signal is carried in by a narrow band or slow-scan —one picture every 10 seconds —over reglar telephone wires; or broad band or fast-scan—30 frames per second—via coaxial cable or microwave relay linking the pickup camera with the receiver.

In South Carolina, 170 high schools, 13 colleges, 14 hospitals and 36 elementary schools are on a network using circuits of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., and 46 independent telephone companies.

CP Officials To Attend State Parley June 5-6

The 18th annual meeting and professional conference of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of New York State will be held on Friday and Saturday at the Queensbury Inn, Glens Falls.

The program, entitled, Perception and Its Ramifications is of particular interest not only to parents, doctors and therapists of cerebral palsy children but to parents, educators, physicians and psychologists whose work concerns children with special learning disabilities. Perception, or the process of discriminating, differentiating and experiencing the data which sense organs take in depends upon a complicated process involving the central nervous system. This process can be impaired without affecting the motor development of the individual as it is in the case of cerebral palsied youngsters.

Dr. William Amols, professor of clinical Neurology at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, New York City will speak on Understanding the Central Nervous System. Other speakers include Dale Bryant, PhD from the Albany Center for Learning Disabilities, and Dr. Arnold Breakey, attending opthalmologist at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City. Among the representatives from various New York State departments are Frances Connor, EdD from Columbia University and vice president of United Cerebral Palsy Association, New York State, Dr. Dudley Hargrove, associate director of the Bureau of Medical Rehabilitation and Raphael Simches, chief of the Bureau for Handicapped Children.

The meetings begin at 9 a. m. Friday and continue through Saturday 2 p. m. The Kingston Cerebral Palsy Center will be closed Friday so the entire staff may attend this very important conference. Also attending from Kingston will be Edward DeGroff, president of the Cerebral Palsy Board of Directors, Mathew Hasbrouck and Helen Oberkirch, members of the board of directors.

The public may attend any of these meetings. Advanced registration is desirable but not required for admission.

Johnson to Speak To Coast Guard Graduates Today

Only one other president has visited the campus by the Thames River. President Harry S. Truman paid a call in 1952.

Johnson will administer the oath of allegiance to the 109 graduates and hand each cadet his commission as a Coast Guard officer.

After the ceremony Johnson will drive to nearby Groton, where he will tour the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. There he will lay the keel of an nuclear submarine, the yet unnamed SSN650. The ceremony involves burning his initials into the keel with a welding torch.

Phone Stock Split

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Chenango & Unadilla Telephone Corp. of Norwich was authorized today to make a two-for-one stocks plit.

The Public Service Commission authorized the utility to increase the present 350,000 shares, with a par value of $20 each, to 700,000 shares at $10 each.

The company said it anticipated that the split would make the stock more attractive to investors.

Dear Abby . . .

Stay As Sweet As You Are!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and I want to ask you a serious question. Do ANY boys like nice, sweet, old-fashioned girls? If you don't give them what they want, they think you don't like them and they go find someone who will. This guy I went with was real nice at first, then he started getting "fresh." He said if I liked him I'd go along with his ideas. I really liked him, but I couldn't explain why I wouldn't give in without sounding stupid or juvenile. He said I was too "nice" for him, and he left. Now I realize how much I liked him. How can I get him back?

DEE

DEAR ABBY: Plenty of boys still like "nice, sweet, old-fashioned" girls. (That's the kind they look for when they have marriage in mind.) If you have to defend your moral standards with a debate, you are in the wrong company. Forget this boy. But don't be surprised if he turns up after he's grown up, and tells you that you were right, and he'd like to have another chance — this time with YOUR rules.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 22 years. I have continued to call myself MRS. JOHN SMITH. A friend of mine recently pointed out to me that I was breaching etiquette; that since there is no longer a JOHN SMITH, neither is there a MRS. JOHN SMITH, and I should be calling myself MRS. GERALDINE SMITH. Please set me straight.

MRS. GERALDINE OR MRS. JOHN?

DEAR MRS. JOHN SMITH: Your friend is the one who needs to be "set straight." When you took John's name, you took it for as long as YOU lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Since reading in your column that a woman changed dentists because she didn't like the canned music he used in his office, I should like to express myself on that subject. I quit TWO dentists on this account. But worse yet is being forced to listen to canned music in a garage. I sat there waiting for my car to be repaired, while the mechanic waved wrenches and screw drivers around in the air as he sang and skipped and danced all around the car as though he were in a hypnotic state. He stood on his toes, leaped into the air and twisted his body. His boss said he was a good mechanic and, if the music were turned off, every mechanic in the place would walk out. At six dollars an hour I didn't bring my car in there to be entertained. When I want to see a ballet, I'll buy a ticket. There should be a law against such nonsense in a place of business.

Barthel Takes Tourney at SCC

Jim Barthel was awarded first place on a matching of cards with two other players in the annual Duffield - McLeod tournament at Shawangunk Country Club in Ellenville.

Barthel (87-15-72) had tied in the regulation 18 holes with Dick Van Keuren, 81-9-72; and Frank Skelly, 85-13-72. Strong, gusty winds hitting up to 30 miles an hour plagued the field in the 18-hole, 100 per cent handicap tournament.

Margaret Velsor and Frank Hyatt led their respective divisions of the annual Flag tournament in the largest field ever to compete in the events. Both were 100 per cent handicap affairs.

Mrs. Velsor finished 20 feet from the 9th cup with her allotment of 11 strokes to lead the distaff field. The runnerup, Leah Kreiger, playing with 20 handicap strokes, finished 20 yards from the 9th green.

Hyatt planted his flag 20 yards from the 19th green. Sidney Velsor was runnerup, five feet from the pin on the 18th green. Net scores were Hyatt, 86-20-66; and Velsor, 98-28-70; Mrs. Velsor 48-11-37; Leah Kreiger, 58-20-38.

Iroquois Team Nips Apache, 4-2

Iroquois scored twice in the sixth inning and stopped an Apache threat in the same frame to record a 4-2 win in the Metropolitan Knothole League.

Al Eisle was the hitting star for the winners with a triple and single. Glenn Stoutenburg and Gordon Stoutenburg doubled for the Apache squad and Gordon also added a single.

Art Perry won it over Gordon Stoutenburg.

Schabot, Bach Hurl Club to 12th Win in 15 Starts

Closing one of their most successful seasons ever, Kingston High players celebrated their newly won DUSO league crown with a 4-3 decision over Our Lady of Lourdes yesterday at the Hudson River State Hospital diamond in Poughkeepsie.

Coach Al Gruner's nine won 12 of 15 games, including six of eight in the league. Since most of the squad will be back next year, the future is bright.

Bach Saves It

Joe Schabot picked up the win for the locals but it took another solid relief job by Brian Bach to save it. Schabot left in the fifth inning on the front end of a 4-3 score. Bach whitewashed the Warriors the rest of the way.

Members of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters will meet Monday in Middletown to select the All-DUSO team. Kingston figures to do well in the balloting.

Cookie Rojas Paces Leaders Over Dodgers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sniffing a pennant and looking for the big trade that might bring one, the Philadelphia Phillies decided to display some of their excess talent last week in the hopes of drumming some business in the National League market place.

Manager Mauch looked down his bench and there, residing in a quiet corner, was utility infielder Cookie Rojas, a career .221 hitter. With an average like that, you've got to be considered excess. So Mauch tapped Cookie to take over for Tony Taylor at second base for a couple of games.

Hitting .548

That was a week ago and Taylor hasn't started a game since. Rojas has 14 hits in 21 at bats since taking over for a .667 batting average. Of course that's much more than his season's average which is only .548 on 17 for 31.

Rojas continued his hot streak with two hits against the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night as Philadelphia maintained its National League lead with a 4-3 victory.

Cookie scored the Phillies' first run when he doubled, stole third and came in on Richie Allen's long fly. After Ken McMullen's two-run homer had tied it at 3-3 in the top of the seventh, Rojas opened the Phillie half with a single.

Allen's single and an intentional walk loaded the bases and Cookie trotted home with the winning run when Ron Perranoski walked Wes Covington.

The victory, coupled with San Francisco's 3-1 loss to Pittsburgh, extended the Phillies' league lead to 1½ games. In other NL games, Cincinnati rallied to beat Warren Spahn and Milwaukee 7-5, New York came from behind and whipped Houston 7-4 and Chicago downed St. Louis 5-2.

Rojas' hitting helped Dennis Bennett win his seventh game in 10 decisions. In addition to scoring the first and fourth runs Cookie squeezed John Herrnstein home with a perfect sacrifice bunt in the second inning.

Roebuck Saves It

And to rub salt into Los Angeles' wounds, old friend Ed Roebuck hurled the ninth inning and set the Dodgers down 1-2-3.

Spahn was breezing with a 5-1 lead and a five-hitter through seven innings when the Reds suddenly turned the tables. A four-run eighth tied it and then run-scoring hits by Deron Johnson and Frank Robinson won it in the ninth.

The Braves built the big lead early with two-run homers by Gene Oliver and Denis Menke the key blows. Oliver also had a solo homer.

Bob Veale hurled a five-hitter for his second straight victory over the Giants and his fifth win in eight decisions. He struck out nine and walked four.

The Pirates grabbed a quick lead in the second inning when Willie Stargell tripled, Gene Freese doubled and Donn Clendenon singled for two runs. Jim Davenport's fifth-inning single delivered the only Giant run.

The Mets trailed 4-2 going into the seventh when three hits, two Colt errors and a pair of hit batters produced five runs and the victory.

New York spotted Houston a 4-0 lead and then got 8 2-3 innings of airtight relief from Bill Wakefield and Frank Lary to win it.

Hot-hitting Billy Williams had three hits including his 14th homer and ran his league-leading average to .422 against St. Louis as the Cubs won their sixth in the last seven games.

Ron Santo, Billy Cowan and Jim Schaffer also homered for Chicago and Larry Jackson went the route to beat his ex-teammates.

Epsom Derby Today

EPSOM, England (AP)—Seventeen colts, including five owned by Americans, were set today to contest the richest Epsom Derby of all time—and one of the wettest.

Fans 15 Men In 1-0 Win; Yankees Bow

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"All right," said Chance, "I'll pitch an $18,000 season."

But Chance tried to against Boston Tuesday night, turning in one of the top pitching performances of the season, keeping the Red Sox hitless for 5 2-3 innings and finishing with a two-hitter while striking out 15 in a 1-0 Los Angeles victory.

Chance, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a shot at a no-hitter and probably a pay raise until Dick Stuart lined a single to center with two out in the sixth. He also had a shot at the record 18-strikeout mark and probably a pay raise until he ran out of whiffs in the last two innings.

Chance had 13 strikeouts through seven innings, but struck out only one in each of the last two innings and settled for the season's high of 15, an impressive 2.12 earned-run average and a 4-2 score. Now he needs only 20 more victories to get his raise.

The 24-victory yardstick was applied by Haney a week ago Tuesday when the Angels called a special press conference and brought up the subject of Chance's contract dispute with the club. At that time, Haney said an $18,000 season figures out to about "24 winning games."

While Chance was showing Haney his stuff, standout pitching efforts also were turned in by:

—Sam McDowell, a $100,000 bonus baby recently recalled from the minors who struck out 14 as Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2 and knocked the White Sox out of the American League lead.

—Baltimore's Dave McNally who posted his second shutout with a six-hit, 4-0 triumph over Kansas City that lifted the Orioles into first place.

—Gerry Arrigo, who kept eight hits well spaced in Minnesota's 6-2 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Besides Stuart's single, the only other hit off Chance was a single by Felix Mantilla leading off the ninth.

Chance got the only run he needed and the only one of the game in the fourth when Jack Lamabe walked Joe Koppe, Billy Moran singled and Lee Thomas doubled.

Two Straight Wins

McDowell, a 21-year-old left-hander with only eight major league victories since receiving his $100,000 four years ago, now has posted two of the victories since being recalled from the minors last Saturday.

Leon Wagner homered in the third inning for the Indians—No. 12 of the season and his fourth in four games—and Cleveland broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth when Max Alvis and Larry Brown hit consecutive homers.

McNally, also a 21-year-old southpaw, had been ineffective in his last three starts but pitched strongly against the A's, who were unable to get a man past second base. McNally now has a 4-3 record.

Boog Powell homered for the Orioles, who scored two of their first three runs on wild pitches by Orlando Pena, now 6-4.

Arrigo, a 22-year-old lefty, struck out Elston Howard with the bases loaded in the third and got out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth without a run scoring.

Hector Lopez homered in the eighth for the Yankees but the Twins already had put it out of reach as Tony Oliva stroked three hits and John Goryl, Bernie Allen, Don Mincher and Earl Battey all collected triples.

Memorial Show, Pony Event Slated by Lowlands Ranch

Lowlands Ranch Club of Lake Katrine will stage its annual Memorial Horse Show Sunday, June 7, and the first all-Pony show ever attempted in the Hudson valley on Sunday, June 14, at the club ring in Lake Katrine.

In line with the steadily growing popularity of the show, more than 100 entries are expected for the memorial show Sunday. Ralph Moore of Rexford will be the official judge.

The barrel event will be the main attraction for the semi-pro riders attending. This year's show is billed as an All-Western show and will not have any English or Pony events.

An extra feature of this year's show will be an art exhibit of original oils by Mrs. Lois Williams of Tillson. Her paintings have for their main theme the horse or pony and should prove interesting to the public.

The All-Pony show on June 14, is an experiment by the club to see whether ponies can hold their own in today's equine show world. Inquiries have been received from Washington, D. C. to the south and Rochester and Vermont.

Paul J. DuCuennois of Glens Falls, who is a recommended judge of the American Shetland Pony Club, will be the official for the day. There will be classes for SPIB, ASPC, Welsh and Grade ponies, 22 classes in all.

Yanks, Dodgers Ready to Trade?

NEW YORK (AP) — Dugouts are buzzing with trade talk as the June 15 deadline approaches and both the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers appear vulnerable.

Bullpen problems prompted the St. Louis Cardinals to deal 37-year-old Lew Burdette to the Chicago Cubs for Glen Hobbie, another veteran right-hander, in a Tuesday deal.

The Dodgers are doing their level best to bolster a pitching staff that developed a leak when Johnny Podres went on the shelf.

Hank Aguirre may be next to walk the plank at Detroit and could be Dodger-bound if the Tigers could get waivers on the lefty in the American League.

The Minnesota Twins reportedly are interested in Ken McBride, the Los Angeles' Angels' pitcher who has been having a tough time winning.

With the Yanks limping along only a few games over the .500 mark, the Twins are convinced they can make a strong move for the pennant if they can come up with some more pitching.

Even the Yankees are trade-minded. The relief pitching has been something less than sensational and Yogi Berra is looking for help, either from the majors or the Richmond farm. Because of the persistent injuries to Mickey Mantle, the regular line-up remains unsettled.

1-8 DD Returns $375.60 at MR

Princess Blanche, a 30-1 outsider, became the second horse to score from the outside eighth post at Monticello Raceway this season as the four-year-old mare copped last night's second race to clinch a healthy $375.60 daily double payoff.

The winning 1-8 number combination was set up by 2-1 favorite Newport Commander, which took the first dash in 2:10.1.

With Joe Firetti at the reins, Princess Blanche made her move at the three-quarter pole and came home in 2:09.3, edging out Don's boy by a quarter-length. The victory, the first in three starts for the bay mare, was worth mutuels of $65.80, $18.30 and $8.80.

The DD payoff and the win mutuel on Princess Blanche were both high marks for the young season here.

Don's Boy returned $4.70, and $3.20 while Credamus got home third for $4.90.

Pete McEnaney Jr., was up behind the nine-y-ear-old Newport Commander, which finally gained the winners' circle after seven tries, paying back prices of $6.40, $3.80 and $2.60.

The Scotchman got home second for $4.30 and 2.60 while Herb Scott was third for $2.60.

BEST BET —
Perfect Knight (2nd)
UPSET CHANCE —
Carolina Kid (5th)

1. SQUARE DEAL is well-bred and comes from a good barn. GUNKAHAR qualified well at Goshen. Can close. BOWL OF FLOWERS was a money winner last year.

2. PERFECT KNIGHT breezed in MR debut. The best bet of the night in this one. MISS NEVELE had some fair efforts in '63 but has not raced this year. FABULOUS FLAME making first appearance.

3. FAIR WIDOW had two good qualifiers at Roosevelt. HOMING PIGEON and TARPORT SUSAN figure to be the next best.

4. ADIOS GEORGE went 2:07 in a Yonkers race. Might do as well if Gilmour drives. BULL KNIGHT and MISSILE HANOVER will fight it out for second.

5. ARMBRO CHAMP went well last week. CAROLINA KID can upset. Watch out. FIRST NIGHTER has dropped way down.

6. MAHONE TIME might go wire to wire. MICHEL MIR breezed in first start and looms as the chief contender. KEY COMMAND is a steady pacer.

7. SPEEDY G. making bow as a trotter. Qualified at Goshen. NEVELE HONEYEYMOON has trained well and reports are good. MINT T MISS has some even efforts.

8. SHADYDALE PAYOFF would have won last start except for break. BELLE CHIMES is sharp and comes off winning race. REGAL YATES is so-so.

9. MOUNTAIN PAUL in position to pick up first win. DONNA GOOSE raced well at Liberty Bell. F.S.G. is very inconsistent.

Rondout Tops OCS

It took more than a week, but Rondout Valley finally won that disputed decision from Onteora, 3-1.

The original contest finished with the Ganders on top, 1-0. However, Onteora coach Paul Jordan lodged a protest on a disputed play and it was upheld.

Play was resumed yesterday with the clubs knotted in a 1-1 deadlock in the top of the sixth. The visitors went down without further scoring and the winners came up with the tie breaking pair.

An error and passed ball put a runner on second. After loser Linden Frasier fanned the next two batters, Fred Parisi singled and Tom Tegeler reached base on an error with Parisi scoring all the way from first.

The victory gave the Ganders an 8-4 record, winning the second place in the UCAL behind Marlboro, which won a second straight title. Onteora closed at 4-8.

Mets Put Willey Back on Roster

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Carlton Willey of the New York Mets, who sustained a fractured jaw when hit by a batted ball in an exhibition game April 3, has been taken off the disabled list, the club announced Tuesday night.

To make room on the roster for Willey, the Mets sent pitcher Craig Anderson to their Buffalo farm club in the International League.

Willey, 33, was the Mets' top right-hander last year, winning 9 and losing 14 following his purchase from the Milwaukee Braves. He had not allowed an earned run in 11 innings during the exhibition season when he was struck down by a line drive off the bat of Detroit outfielder Gates Brown.

Elvis Buys Roosevelt Yacht Through Want Ad

"To be auctioned," said the Want Ad, "the Potomac, presidential yacht of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt." Singer Elvis Presley read the ad and bought the ship for $55,000.

After trying unsuccessfully to give it to two charities as a national monument — Presley donated it to St. Jude Hospital in Memphis, then sold it to a real estate developer for them.

Elvis turned the receipts of the sale over to St. Judes. They totaled $62,500.

Qualifying Berths for Open Tourney Set for Next Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Six golfers who have won the U. S. Open championship will be just six familiar names among 473 trying to qualify for the 64th U.S. Open next Monday and Tuesday.

For the record, they are Cary Middlecoff, winner in 1949 and 1956; Tony Manero, who won back in 1936; Lew Worsham, 1947; Ed Furgol, 1954; Jack Fleck, 1955, and Tommy Bolt, 1958.

The five who have won the Open since Bolt are exempt from sectional qualifying.

Twelve of 13 former PGA champions also must be listed merely as hopefuls, though few are likely to miss qualifying. The 13th is someone different. He is Sam Snead, the man who has won just about everything in golf except the Open and who still is trying.

Snead has placed in 23 consecutive National Opens. He has finished second four times, once losing a playoff to Worsham, but never has been on top.

Many Top Names

Tuesday, Snead will be struggling against 81 rivals, among them some of the leading pro tourists, for the 39 qualifying places available in the Detroit section. Others include Bolt, Jerry Barber, the 1961 PGA champion; Phil Rodgers, who tied New Zealand's Bob Charles in the British Open last year but lost in a playoff; Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 U. S. Amateur champion, now a pro; and such noted pro tourists as Art Wall, Bob Goalby, Johnny Pott, Doug Sanders and Ken Venturi.

The Detroit and New York sections are the biggest and strongest of the 13 listed today by the U. S. Golf Association. The 36-hole qualifying rounds will be played there and at three other locations on Tuesday. Eight sections will hold their rounds Monday.

The former Open and PGA champions are among 45 who were exempt from local qualifying two weeks ago. They join 428 survivors of the local tests seeking 129 places available in the championship at Washington's Congressional Country Club June 18-20.

Twenty-one are exempt from all qualifying and go right into the final 150-man field. They include the five most recent Open winners, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper; amateur champion Deane Beman and Charles, the British Open king.

Straub Is Top Athlete at Point

WEST POINT—Bill Straub of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., who wrote a new chapter into the story of track at the U.S. Military Academy, received the Academy's top athletic award here this week.

Straub was given the Army Athletic Association trophy, given to the graduating class member who has rendered the most valuable service to athletics during his career as a cadet.

Straub was captain of Army's cross country, indoor and outdoor track teams, holds several Academy records in the mile and two-mile beat Navy in three events in both the 1963 and 1964 meets, and was a Penn Relay and Heptagonal distance champion.

Wayne Wheeler of West Springfield, Mass., was given the Eastern Athletic Association Award for excellence in athletics and scholarship. Wheeler, a Dean's List student, was all-America and captain of the soccer team and also a regular on the Army hockey team.

William Landgraf, swimming captain and a two-time all-America choice, received a special Army Athletic Association award for outstanding achievement and exemplary leadership. Landgraf, who comes from Cleveland, Ohio, holds several Academy swim marks.

Special awards for being selected as the outstanding cadet in their respective fields were also given to Straub and Landgraf. Straub received the Fred E. McAniff award for track and Landgraf the Class of 1923 Memorial award for swimming.

Charnley Wants Fight With Ortiz

LONDON (AP)—Dave Charnley, the British conqueror of Kenny Lane, clamored today for a title fight with world lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz. He may get it soon "if the price is right," said the champion.

Charnley, the British lightweight king and seventh-ranking contender, finished strong to gain the referee's decision over Lane, top-ranking contender from Muskegon, Mich., at the indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

A crowd of 8,000 cheered loudly when referee Andy Smith, the lone official, raised the Briton's arm in triumph. His scorecard was not disclosed. That is customary here. The Associated Press had Lane in front 5-3 in rounds, with two even.

"We are ready, willing and able for a title shot at Ortiz," said Charnley. "I think it will be in London."

"It will go where I can get the most money," said Ortiz. "If the price is right I'll defend against anybody."

Five to Oppose Northern Dancer

NEW YORK (AP)—The list of likely challengers to Northern Dancer in Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct has been padded to five with the addition of John Galbreath's Orientalist.

The Darby Dan Farm's speedy colt, a son of Swaps, was entered Tuesday for the supplementary fee of $5,000. Orientalist, whose victory in a mile test at Aqueduct last Friday was his first in nine starts this year, joins Hill Rise, Roman Brother, Quadrangle and Shook in the probable field seeking to veto Northern Dancer's Triple Crown bid.

Of the five contenders, however, only Hill Rise is a definite starter in the 1½ mile Belmont.

Toronto Defeats Buffalo Bills, 8-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Kern lashed two doubles Tuesday night to spark Toronto to an 8-4 victory over Buffalo and lengthen the Maple Leafs' International League lead to four games.

The Toronto third baseman drove in the two deciding runs in the fourth inning with his second double of the night.

Buffalo had jumped out front 1-0 in the first inning on a home run by Cleon Jones, but the Leafs rallied for four runs in the second on four hits, a wild pitch and a walk by Bison starter Ray Apple.

Buffalo put together triples by Sherman Jones and a homer by Duke Carmel for three runs in the sixth, but they could never overcome the margin provided by Kern's double.

Toronto added another run in the eighth on a solo home run by Ken Hamlin.

In the only other league action, Rochester staved off a ninth inning uprising by Syracuse to edge the Chiefs 9-8. Rain forced postponement of the Atlanta-Columbus game and a doubleheader between Jacksonville and Richmond.

Syracuse jumped on lefty Bill Short in the ninth for a three-run homer by Wally Post, a single and two walks. The Chiefs garnered six runs to pull within one run of Rochester. Reliever Herm Starette, the fourth Syracuse hurler used in the ninth, then struck out Willie Horton and Mack Jones to end the game.

Palmer, Nicklaus In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus head a 25-man United States entry in the British Open Golf Tournament at St. Andrews next month, but Palmer's plans are accompanied by a big "If."

If the all-time leading money winner from Latrobe, Pa., wins the U.S. Open at Washington, D.C., June 18-20, he definitely will play at St. Andrews, seeking a third leg on his professional Grand Slam.

If he fails in the U.S. Open, Palmer likely will skip the British event to concentrate on the PGA Championship at Columbus, Ohio, the only big pro title he hasn't won.

Nicklaus, who missed the British Open last year by a single stroke after going bogey-bogey on the last two holes, plans to play regardless.

The dates of the British Open are July 8-10. Bob Charles of New Zealand, who won the title in a playoff with Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., will defend. Rodgers plans another shot at the crown.

Another leading American contender will be Deane Beman the National Amateur champion from Bethesda, Md.

Decision Delayed

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Under West German pressure, the decision setting a single grain price scale for the European Common Market has been postponed until Dec. 15.

The West German delegation told the other five Common Market nations the Bonn Parliament would not approve the proposed scale since it would mean lowering the high German prices. A West German spokes

EXTENDED CREDIT—The American economy continues to expand without downturning. Consumer installment credit rose $579 million in February this year. Not only did the credit rate rise, but also the new credit extensions amounting to $5,421,000,000 in the same month. This rise mirrors gains in credit sales on "time purchases," such as homes and autos. Single-payment loans, or noninstallment credit such as charge accounts, rose $146 million.

ALASKA WELCOMES TOURISTS—If you were planning a trip to Alaska this year, but were thinking of switching to some other area in light of the recent earthquake—things are looking up. Severe damage did take place along coastal communities, but only certain areas of the city of Anchorage, for example, received heavy damage. All hotels in Anchorage are in operation. Newsmap above spots areas where severe damage took place, as well as many places untouched by quake damage.

'On the Wagon'

The expression of being "on the wagon" for a person who has given up drinking originated with the old U.S. Army. The wagon referred to is the water wagon which accompanied troops on march. Someone who was being disciplined for drunkenness was ordered to stay on the water wagon.

New York's Battery Park was first used by the Dutch and later the British as a military fortification.

Goldwater Closes

Goldwater termed Rockefeller a stand-in for all the other undeclared Republican contenders for the nomination and complained that the New York governor misrepresented his views.

Goldwater led the early polls, then sagged after President John F. Kennedy's assassination. Concentrating his campaign in Southern California in the closing days, he said on Memorial Day: "In the last two days I think the tide in this state has definitely turned toward me."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK AP) — The stock market staged a technical snapback early this afternoon in light trading.

Gains of key stocks numbered losers and ran from fractions to about a point.

The list met support near a level from which it rebounded in late April. After two days of decline, traders picked up stock at relatively cheap prices.

Conspicuous on the upside were airlines, which have been under severe long-term profit taking.

Some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues in the office equipment or photography gained 2 to 5 points.

The trend was slightly higher among rails, motors, tobaccos, chemicals, retails, electronics and aerospace issues.

Trading was so dull, however, that first-hour volume was below a million shares for the first time in weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 305.0 with industrials up .6, rails up .5 and utilities up .2.

Xerox rose 5, Polaroid 3, Control Data more than 2.

Bush Wins Primary in 34th Senatorial

and work for a tremendous Republican Victory in November.

"Thank you all, very much."

Impressive Figure

Insurgents in the Saugerties Town Republican organization gave Newcombe a 449 majority over Bush with all 11 Saugerties town districts reported.

Newcombe carried all districts except No. 8 Glasco in which Sen. Bush polled 100 votes to 34 for his opponent.

In the balloting for convention delegates Wilson polled 605 and Tinklepaugh 499 over the Goldwater candidates, Leavitt 407 and Hall 350 in nine out of 11 election districts.

Other Tabulations

Woodstock's three election districts gave Newcombe a plurality of 18 votes. The unofficial tabulation was Newcombe 256 and Bush 238.

Sen. Bush won the Town of Wawarsing by a 195 majority with 387 votes and 192 for Newcombe in all nine election districts of the township.

The Town of Ulster's seven election districts gave Newcombe a 107 plurality. The count was Newcombe 392 and Bush 285.

Newcombe won the Town of Esopus by seven votes in unofficial tallies with Bush polling 228 to Newcombe's 235 in a complete poll of all five districts.

Town of Hurley gave Newcombe an overwhelming majority of 398 with all four election districts reporting. The vote was 487 for Newcombe and 89 for Bush.

Bush piled up a 41 plurality in Town of Lloyd with all four districts reported. Bush polled 133 to Newcombe's 92.

Town of Gardiner went to Bush 111; 63 for Newcombe.

New Paltz' four election districts gave Newcombe 331 to 264 for Bush.

Rosendale went to Newcombe by 10 votes, 145 to 135 with all three districts reported.

Shawangunk went for Bush nearly 3 to 1. The totals for four districts was 337 for Bush and 116 for Newcombe.

Newcombe received his greatest plurality in the 13 wards of Kingston, a total of 280. The townships outside the city gave Newcombe a 138 plurality.

The total vote in the city was Newcombe 1,006, Bush 726. Bush carried only three wards, the third, fourth and 10th.

The governor won 76 votes in Tuesday's primary and will gain another 10 when the Republican State Committee, which he controls, meets June 11 to name delegates at large.

There were direct clashes between delegate slates pledged to Rockefeller and those pledged to Goldwater in 10 districts, a total of 20 delegates, and the governor won all of them.

No official total of the overall turnout was immediately available. But it was heavy in most of the districts in which there were contests.

Other Developments

These were other major developments in the New York primary:

—Veteran U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx, chairman of the Powerful House Public Works Committee, lost his fight for re-nomination for the seat he has held for nearly 30 years.

— Former Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio failed in another—and probably his last — bid for a political comeback. He was trying to regain his old base of power, the Democratic leadership of his home district in Greewich Village.

—Rep. Leonard Farbstein defeated insurgent William Haddad for the Democratic nomination for Congress in Manhattan's 19th district, which has a large Jewish population.

— Upstate, the firmly entrenched Democratic organization of Daniel P. O'Connell crushed former FBI agent George Harder, who tried to win an Assembly nomination. Frank P. Cox, the incumbent, was renominated. O'Connell has not lost an election battle in more than 40 years.

86 Decided

A record round of 86 primary contests for nominations for Congress and the Legislature were decided. While the Buckley upset was the major development in that area, most incumbents seeking renomination won it.

The exceptions included Rep. James Healey of the Bronx, who fell with Buckley. Healey, who had close political ties with Buckley, lost to reform Democrat James H. Scheuer.

In other contests, Sen. Robert C. McEwen of Ogdensburg won a five-way race in the 31st district in northern New York for the Republican nomination to succeed Rep. Clarence Kilburn, who is retiring.

Henry P. Smith III, a Niagara Falls councilman, won a six-man race for the GOP congressional nomination in the 40th district. The incumbent is Republican National Chairman William Miller, who is retiring at the end of this term.

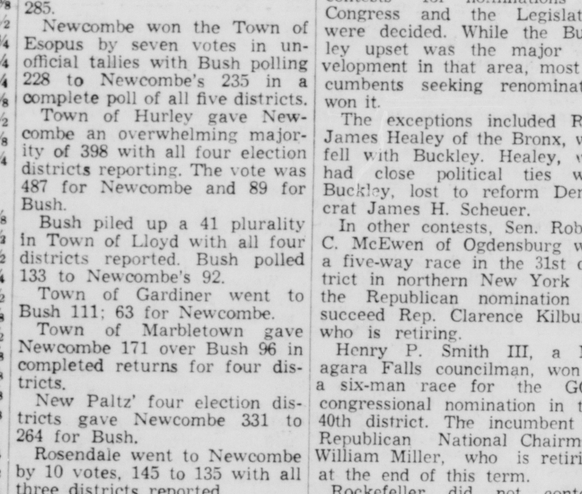

Rockefeller did not contest for five delegates in the Buffalo area, where the local Republican organization has been embroiled in a long dispute with the governor.

There, Republicans elected four uncommitted delegates and the one pledged to Goldwater from a roster that included five candidates pledged to no one, two pledged to Goldwater and two to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

State Republican leaders hope to win over the four uncommitted members before the roll call at the national convention in mid-July.

Students Compete For Spelling Whiz

Sarah put an extra "f" in "terrific" and was forced to step down from the stage of a hotel ballroom where 70 boys and girls are competing. At stake is a total of $5,700 in prizes including a first prize of $1,000, a weekend trip to the New York World's Fair and a nationwide television appearance. The contest is sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday papers.

Only one contestant, Suzi Shwartz of Youngstown, Ohio, appeared unsure of the spelling she gave during the first round. After spelling "existence" she asked Dr. Richard R. Baker, professor of philosophy at the University of Dayton, Ohio, who is pronouncer at the spelling bee for the fourth year: "Is that right?"

There was one laugh during the first round when Baker asked Joyce Ann Mease of Richlands, N.C., to spell "beagle." Baker defined the word as "a small dog with sore ears."

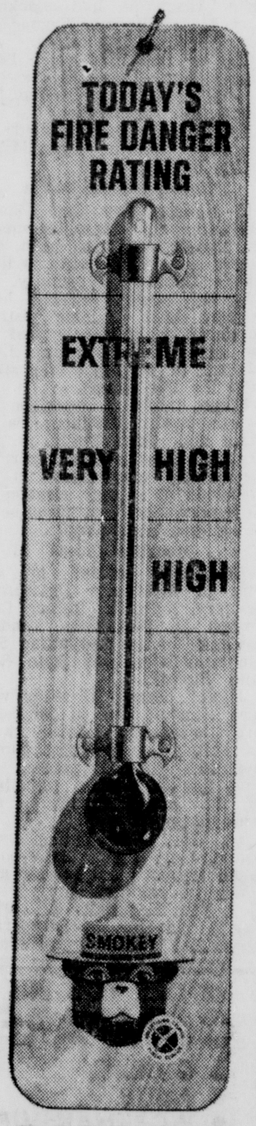

That was a reference to President Johnson's picking up his pet beagles by the ears.

Four youngsters also were eliminated in the second round.

A new spelling champion or cochampions will be crowned Thursday.

A record 759 words were used last year before Glen Van Slyke III of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was selected champion.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Tempting High Dividend Can Indicate Undue Risk

Q) "I am a retired physcian and own General Motors, Jersey Standard, California Standard, and duPont. I am tempted to buy Creole Petroleum because of the good dividends they pay at the present time. Does Creole have a good growth outlook, and would you recommend its purchase?" — J. P. m.d.

A) I congratulate you, doctor, on a fine group of stocks—but I do not think I would weaken it by the addition of Creole.

Creole is not a bad stock by any means, and it is an important subsidiary of Jersey Standard. Nevertheless, its oil reserves and production are entirely in Venezuela, which lends a strong speculative flavor to the stock. Our present relations with that country are very friendly, but no one knows what the future will bring.

The fact that the shares sell to yield 7 per cent is itself an indication that the market sees more risk than growth here. I believe the issue should be avoided.

Q) "My wife and I have a few shares of General Motors; Marine Midland; Allied Mills and W. T. Grant. We have 266 shares of Marathon Oil. We are interested in good investments with income and not growth. Do we have too much Marathon?" —R. W.

A) In the sense that your holdings in Marathan amount to $17,000, they appear to be disproportionate in value to your list as a whole.

Marathon is a pretty good stock which has risen rather strongly mainly on its Libyan play. There is, however, no sounder investment rule than diversification, which dictates that no list should contain any individual holding representing more than the owner can afford to lose.

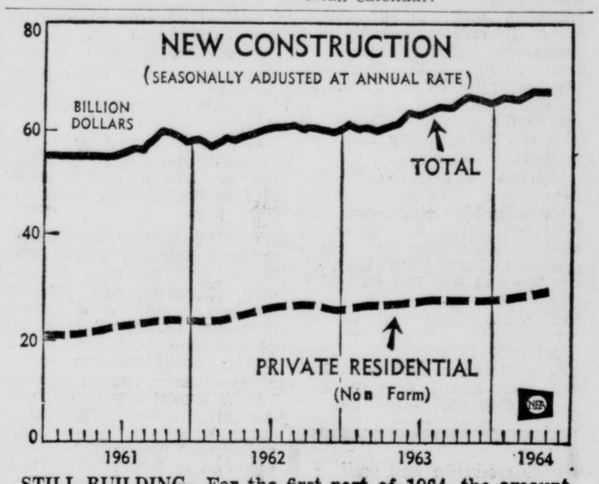

I would hold 50 shares of Marathon and switch the balance into equal dollar amounts of Norfolk & Western Rwy; Puerto Rican Cement; Marshall Field; Duquesne Light — all good stocks yielding 4 per cent or higher.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

STILL BUILDING—For the first part of 1964, the amount of new construction in the United States is basically on the up-grade. This applies on private residential, as well as the industrial, commercial, farm and public fronts.

MORE POWER—Aside from a slow start at the beginning of 1964, utilities are providing a steadily increasing amount of electric power to the consumer. This continues the trend set over the past years.

Salinger Wins Coast Bid, Other Results

Almost lost in the dust of the Golden State race between Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller were primary elections in five other states Tuesday.

Among the developments were these:

Will Oppose Murphy

The latest returns on the West coast gave Salinger 1,067,312 and State Controller Alan Cranston 952,230 with returns from 30,199 of 32,861 California precincts. Salinger will oppose former actor Greoge Murphy, the Republican winner.

—Two veteran congressman from New York—and probably a third from Alabama — were ousted by the voters.

—Two famous names from the Democratic side of the senate — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Monta...a and John C. Stennis of Mississippi—won renomination easily.

In New York, 77 delegates favorable to Rockefeller were elected, most of them without opposition. He is expected to add another 10 at-large when the state committee meets next week.

Goldwater did pick up one vote in New York when one of his backers won in a district which Rockefeller had not contested. Four uncommitted delegates also were elected without a contest by Rockefeller. In 10 districts where Goldwater and Rockefeller backers clashed head on, the governor's forces won each battle.

6 Favorable to Barry

South Dakota Republicans defeated a slate of 14 delegates pledged to Goldwater by a 2-1 margin. But the nominally uncommitted slate chosen contains at least six delegates favorable to Goldwater.

The nip-and-tuck California presidential primary almost overshadowed the race for the Democratic nomination to succeed ailing Sen. Clair Engle.

On the GOP side, Murphy, onetime state GOP chairman, defeated financier Leland M. Kaiser and Fred Hall, former governor of Kansas.

Eyebrow-Raisers

There were eyebrow - raisers in some of the other elections.

Rep. Charles A. Buckley, a 30-year veteran in the House and chairman of the Public Works Committee, succumbed to the reform candidacy of Jonathan A. Bingham, a Yale man and former aide on the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Buckley, Democratic leader in the Bronx, had the support of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy while Bingham had backing from Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, among others.

One of Buckley's chief lieutenants, Rep. James C. Healey, also bit the dust in his bid for Democratic nomination to a fifth term. He was defeated by another reform candidate, James H. Scheuer.

Elliott Heads for Defeat

In Alabama Rep. Carl Elliott, a House Rules Committee member bidding for a ninth term, appeared headed for defeat in that state's Democratic primary.

He was running last in a low-man-out field of nine district nominees, a situation created by the failure of the Alabama Legislature to redistrict the state after the 1960 census.

Elliott, target of opposition by a conservative coalition, trailed State Sen. John Tyson in the scramble for the eight berths as Democratic candidates in a statewide at - large election in November. Six other incumbents easily won nomination.

Mansfield Coasts

Mansfield coasted to victory in Montana's Democratic primary, defeating former Rep. Joseph P. Monaghan. Leading the race for the Republican Senate nomination was State Rep. Alex Blewett.

Joining Stennis in easily winning renomination in Mississippi's Democratic primary were the state's five incumbent House members. Negroes entered the race against Stennis and three of the House members, and were swamped.

Lt. Gov. Nils Boe defeated former Gov. Sigurd Anderson in South Dakota's Republican gubernatorial primary. Former Lt. Gov. John F. Lindley beat Merton B. Tice for the Democratic nomination without opposition.

Philly Utilities Win Nearly $29 Million Damages

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Antitrust damages of nearly $29 million have been won by two Philadelphia utilities that successfully sued six of America's largest electrical manufacturers for price-fix and bid-rig overcharges in the sale of power transformers.

The defendant firms, including General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp., promptly said they would appeal Tuesday's jury verdict in U.S. District Court. They called it unwarranted.

The jury awarded almost $9.7 million to Philadelphia Electric Co., and its Maryland subsidiary, Conowingo Power Co., and to United Gas Improvement Co.

Judge John S. Lord 3rd, as provided under the antitrust laws, tripled the damages. It was the biggest civil damage verdict in the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

Besides GE and Westinghouse the other defendants are Allis-Chalmers, West Allis, Wis.; Moloney Electric Co. and Wagner Electric Co., both of St. Louis; and McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, eight midwestern utilities companies agreed to a $4.7 million settlement on contested purchases from three electrical goods manufacturers that engaged in price fixing.

Agreeing to the settlement in U.S. District Court were GE, Westinghouse and Allis - Chalmers.

The Philadelphia suits grew out of criminal antitrust convictions of 29 electrical manufacturers and 46 of their executives by the federal government in 1961. Fines of more than $2 million were imposed and six men served short jail terms.

Rusk, McNamara

what the President chose to do.

Johnson was represented as being determined to do whatever is necessary to secure "the future of Southeast Asia as a whole"—a phrase he used at his news conference Tuesday.

Wants to Avoid Risks

At the same time he was reported anxious to avoid any unnecessary risks or troop commitments. This suggested that what he is looking for at this stage is some use of U.S. power in the area to demonstrate to the Communists that he is determined to meet any challenge they present in order to protect non-Communist regions and at the same time to stablize peace in Southeast Asia.

Johnson stressed the peace theme in a statement to his news conference saying at one point, "It is others who make war, and we who seek peace."

Not Sure of Lull

The atmosphere of urgency which enveloped the Laos and Vietnamese problems last week as the Communists pressed an offensive in Loas abated with evidence that the Red drive has come to a halt. But no one in Washington knew whether this was only a temporary lull.

On another aspect of the Southeast Asian crisis, Johnson announced that he has instructed Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to confer with French President Charles de Gaulle on Friday in Paris.

It was learned that Southeast Asian problems, over which Johnson and De Gaulle disagree, will be the chief subject of the meeting as far as Ball is concerned. Johnson presumably hopes to get some closer support from De Gaulle for a tougher line on the military side of the Southeast Asian crisis.

Meanwhile a small storm was stirred up here by the question of whether the U.S. government has planned or made preparations for carrying the war to North Viet Nam.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said in a broadcast interview Sunday that "the Johnson administration's position is to move north and we are prepared to move north."

At the President's news conference he was asked whether it was true that the United States was "preparing to move the Viet Nam war into the north." Johnson first replied that Laird was not speaking for the administration.

When the question was pressed, the President finally said: "I know of no plans that have been made to that effect."

Shortly afterward Laird said in a speech in the House that plans did in fact exist and that his original statement was based on information which had been given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Late in the day administration informants said it certainly was true that the government has "contingency plans" for operations against North Viet Nam as it has plans for a variety of possible military actions.

What the president was saying, according to these officials, was that no plan has come up to him for decision.

Wagner also ordered all 20,000 patrolmen to wear their uniforms to and from work. Most travel by subway.

He ordered a speed-up in the installation of an experimental two-way radio network in subway trains. One Manhattan subway line is expected to get such a system in four to six months. Wagner expressed concern over the anti-white rampages of Negro gangs, but he added: "There are other gangs in the city besides Negro and Puerto Rican; there are white gangs."

Leaders Deplore Attacks

Civil rights leaders have deplored the attacks, but say frustration of Negroes in their search for adequate education, employment and housin gis responsible.

Wagner met with police and Transit Authority officials for an hour and then announced that within two days 500 city patrolmen would be assigned to the streets and 200 transit police to the subways, both groups on overtime.

Each patrolman on the force will be required to work an extra eight-hour tour from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. every 20 days.

Johnson Assault Charge Dismissed

A felony charge of second-degree assault against Peter Johnson, 39, of Liberty Street, was dismissed today in City Court due to the unavailability of witnesses. The dismissal was with consent of the district attorney's office.

Krom, 41, of 66 Merritt Avenue, paid fines of $15 each when they admitted speeding charges. The motorists were cited in a radar installation by Patrolman Van Demark.

Max Kappler Jr., 30, of 3 Elizabeth Street, paid a $5 fine when he admitted passing a stop sign.

Will Build New Hudson Nursing Home

Two Albany realtors have obtained title to a one-acre site and will build an 80-bed $750,000 nursing home on Prospect Avenue across from the Columbia Memorial Hospital in Hudson. Construction will begin in the fall.

Frank L. Hoffman and Wynn Sorkin signed the title. The land was bought from Anna Finklestein and Stephen Zola. The home will employ about 40 persons, Hoffman said. His family now operates similar homes in Albany, Troy, Glens Falls, Cobleskill and Philadelphia. It will be operated by local management.

Goldwater Closes In on Nomination

Bush Wins Primary in 34th Senatorial

Newcombe Is Victor In Greene and Ulster

In a torrid primary fight that ended at the polls Tuesday, E. Ogden Bush won the right to run again on the Republican ticket in the 34th State Senatorial District.

Bush of DeLancey, who has served eight years in the Legislature, defeated Lloyd A. Newcombe, prominent Catskill businessman in the four-county contest.

Regulars Win

Regular Republican candidates for delegates to the national convention in the 28th Congressional (area) District won by approximately a two-to-one margin over the backers of Goldwater for president.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, Ulster County GOP chairman and Myrtle Tinklepaugh of Columbia County were the regular delegates.

Goldwater delegates were Kent Leavitt of Dutchess County and Lewis I. Hall of Hurley, Ulster County.

Mrs. Kerr Leading

In a Democratic Party race for State Committeewoman Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, the incumbent, was leading Dorothy A. Narel of West Hurley today with two districts of 101 for Ulster County missing—one in the Town of Hardenbergh and the other in the Town of Shandaken.

The total for Mrs. Kerr was 1,505 and Mrs. Narel's was 1,451, a margin of 54 for Mrs. Kerr.

How They Ran

Senator Bush won handily in his home county of Delaware and Sullivan, and his opponent Newcombe, seeking to upset him for the GOP nomination was victorious by impressive figures in his home county of Greene and Ulster of which he is a native.

The count:

Greene County—Newcombe 4069; Bush 650; Newcombe plurality 3409.

Delaware County—Bush 5665; Newcombe 1369; Bush plurality 4296.

Bush Pleased

Senator Bush had this statement for the press today:

"My thanks to everyone who voted in yesterday's primary election. I am very happy with the results and I am asking all to join the Republican Party for a resounding victory in November.

"I pledge a vigorous campaign and when elected, to represent all my constituents in Albany.

"Thank you for your confidence in the work I am doing in the legislature."

Newcombe Pledges Support

Lloyd A. Newcombe said he appreciated the support of his friends. "It was a good campaign and a good fight," he commented. "The people have spoken. Nobody can quarrel with that.

"I am deeply grateful to the people who worked with and supported me. I'm sorry I failed them.

"I congratulate Senator Bush and pledge him my support.

Statement by Assemblyman Wilson:

"I would like to thank all the enrolled Republican voters who voted in yesterday's primary.

"The people have chosen their candidate for State Senator and have approved the selection of Senator Bush who had originally been designated by the Senatorial Committee of the 34th District.

"I would also like to thank the voters and workers who brought in such a wonderful majority for me and the candidates for delegates to the Republican National Convention.

"I now say, let's get together

To Decide on Asking Permanent Bus Right

The operator of Urban Transit Corp., whose petition for a temporary certificate to extend bus service to a part of the Town of Ulster was turned down today by the Public Service Commission, said he would decide in "the next day or so" whether he would petition the PSC for a certificate of permanent certificate of public convenience and necessity for the extended route.

Julius Lipton told The Freeman that he was "dissappointed" that the commission denied the petition for a temporary certificate, "especially in view of the fact that so many people in Kingston and the Town of Ulster exhibited a desire for better transportation." However, through his attorney, Richard W. Griggs, Lipton said that Urban Transit will "make every effort" to apply for the "service which is being sought."

Free to Apply

In denying the petition, the PSC said that its decision was "without prejudice to the consideration of a company request for a permanent certificate to operate the route." The commission said that there was no evidence in a recent PSC hearing on Urban Transit's petition that there was a "compelling or pressing need" which would justify a grant of temporary authority.

Griggs said it was apparent, therefore, that the PSC might grant a hearing on another petition by Urban Transit requesting a permanent rather temporary certificate.

Definite to Remain

Urban Transit was granted a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity last year when it took over the franchise surrendered by the Kingston City Transportation Corp. At that time there was an urgent need for continued city bus service. Urban Transit subsequently petitioned the PSC and was granted a permanent certificate, indicating that the firm plans to continue city bus service indefinitely.

A hearing on Urban Transit's petition for a temporary certificate to extend bus service from Central Broadway on a route along Albany Avenue Extension and culminating at Boice's Lane in the Town of Ulster, was held two months ago before PSC Examiner Isadore E. Crade. The petition was opposed by Mountain View Coach Lines Inc., which operates over the route for which Urban Transit sought a temporary certificate. However, Mountain View did not petition for a subsequent hearing before the PSC, to which it was entitled .

State Explanation

In his report to the commission announced today, Crade pointed out that temporary certificates may be issued to omnibus companies only "when necessary to provide service for which there is an immediate or urgent need. . .when (the Commission) shall be of the opinion that such action is required in the public interest."

Crade said that "it is incumbent upon the petitioner for such temporary authority to establish by a fair preponderance of the credible evidence that there is an immediate or urgent need and that the public interest does, in fact, require a grant of the temporary authority."

He said that evidence received at the local public hearing "does not demonstrate that there is a compelling or pressing public need for the proposed service of the petitioner in addition to that already available, which would justify a grant of temporary authority."

Wagner Beefs Up Patrols in N.Y. To Curb Violence

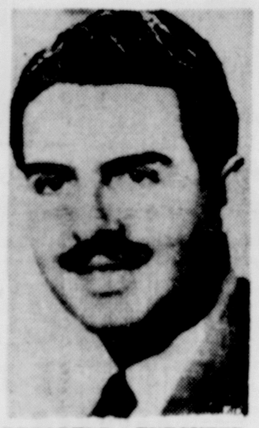

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 1,000 policemen soon will be patrolling New York City's streets and subways on an overtime basis in a campaign to halt attacks by Negro hoodlums on whites.

The additional patrols were ordered Tuesday by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who said: "I am determined we are going to have law and order in this city of ours."

Must Stay in Uniform

The order came two days after the Memorial Day weekend hooliganism on four subway trains and a Staten Island ferry. Bands of Negro teen-agers

Father of Quads Is Praying for Good Job

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm happy; I'm stunned," says the father of quadruplets. "I hope God will get me a good job in the construction industry."

Salvatore Peloro's wife, Maria, 30, gave birth to the quads Tuesday. She and the infants were reported in satisfactory condition today. The boy weighed 2 pounds, 13 ounces and the girls 2 pounds; 2 pounds, 8 ounces; and 2 pounds, 13 ounces.

The couple has two other children, aged 3 and 5.

Peloro, 35, a plumber, says he hasn't worked since last November and his unemployment benefits ended two weeks ago.

Registers Stunning Victory In California Cliffhanger

Rockefeller captured most of the state's 58 counties, but a decisive surge for Goldwater in late Southern California returns, chiefly from Los Angeles, nailed down the bitter contest for the Westerner.

Results from 29,800 of 32,861 precincts showed: Goldwater, 969,957; Rockefeller, 938,386.

The victory in the last presidential primary before the July 13 GOP National Convention brought Goldwater within striking distance of the 655 votes he'll need for the nomination.

He called it a "giant step" toward his quest to lead the Republican ticket in the November election.

Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, trounced State Controller Alan Cranston for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat held by ailing Democratic Sen. Clair Engle.

The Salinger victory dealt a setback to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other party elements who supported Cranston. It showed, too, the vote-pulling power of the Kennedy image, used heavily by the press secretary to the late president.

Th 39-year-old former San Francisco newspaper reporter, who couldn't even vote for himself because he's registered in Virginia, will face the Republican nominee, onetime actor George Murphy.

Defeats Yorty Slate

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller said the California results pushed Goldwater very close to the 655 convention votes needed for the nomination.

Looks Like Clincher: Hatfield

Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who will serve as convention keynote speaker and temporary chairman, said the senator appeared to have clinched the nomination.

Goldwater flew to Washington after watching early results flow into his Los Angeles headquarters. He claimed victory at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the basis of electronic computations.

The final outcome wasn't definite, however, until Los Angeles, with 40 per cent of the state's vote, reported the bulk of its ballots — and Goldwater maintained his commanding lead there.

In the Republican presidential race, Rockefeller was carrying most of the state's 58 counties. But Goldwater offset it with solid majorities in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Pollsters Favored Rocky

The pollsters, to a man, had given the edge to Rockefeller. But all indicated the outcome would hinge on the sizable undecided vote they detected.

Goldwater called his showing a "victory for the mainstream of Republican thinking." He thus tossed back Rockefeller's assertion that his views represented the GOP mainstream.

NBC's Electronic Vote Analysis center noted that Rockefeller ran strong in the San Francisco Bay area, farm and mountain areas, and that Goldwater did not come up to expectations in San Diego County.

Minority for Governor

The EVA center report spotted a trend to Rockefeller among minority groups. First returns from San Francisco's Chinatown, for instance, favored the governor 5 to 1. A similar swing was evident among Italian-Americans.

The NBC analysis emphasized Goldwater's strength in the state's high population centers. Rockefeller was favored in the north—considered more sophisticated and more liberal than the south—and that's the way the vote went. But 60 per cent of the population lives in the south.

Little Modoc County, a bellwether in 25 state elections, was giving Goldwater a plurality of better than 54 per cent. The northeastern county has only 1,491 registered voters.

CBS, ABC Called Shot

CBS, shortly after the polls closed, projected a Goldwater sweep on votes from 42 "model" precincts. With 22 per cent of the vote in, ABC's projection also tabbed him as the winner.

Even so, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Rockefeller's state campaign chairman, said it was still a cliffhanger, and "I think we'll wait a little longer" before any conceding.

Former Sen. William F. Knowland, who headed Goldwater's forces, called on Republicans to unify and said he expected support from most of Rockefeller's followers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned today from a Honolulu conference with "a number of recommendations" for President Johnson on new action to strengthen Southeast Asia against Communist pressures...

Landing at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk told newsmen "We brought back a number of recommendations, as we usually do from these meetings."

He said "the commitment of the American nation, its people and its government," to protect Southeast Asia against Red aggression "are well-known."

Then he added: "The problem is to make sure the other side fully understands that we mean what we say."

To Meet Late Today

Rusk and McNamara were scheduled to see Johnson late in the day after the President's return from a speaking trip to New England.

McNamara was asked whether there are any plans for expanding the Vietnamese war into North Viet Nam. He declared that "no plans have been recommended to the President for approval and none has been approved."

This stopped short of denying that plans have been made by military experts, but it was in line with Johnson's statement Tuesday that he was not personally aware of any plans.

Plan for Strength

Aides traveling with Rusk and McNamara said much of the planning in the two-day Honolulu strategy conference, which ended Tuesday night, was concerned with ways of strengthening the anti-Communist war effort in South Viet Nam and supporting more effectively the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Officials returning with the two Cabinet officers declined to say exactly what steps would be proposed to Johnson for achieving the purpose Rusk stated of making Communist North Viet Nam, Red China and the Soviet Union aware of U.S. determination not to let Southeast Asia fall to Red conquest.

NcNamara flew from Washington to Hawaii last Sunday.

Rusk went there from India where he served last week as President Johnson's special representative at funeral servics for Indian Prim Minister Nehru. He said his time in India had been a "sad but deeply moving experience." He expressed admiration for the manner in which the new Indian leadership had acted to fill the gap created by Nehru's death.

No Plan Yet

U.S. officials indicated Tuesday night in Honolulu that military action might be taken against Communist North Viet Nam if it and Red China continue backing rebellions in South Viet Nam and Laos. But they said Rusk and McNamara so far have not proposed plans "to enlarge the war to the north" in Viet Nam or to send troops into Thailand.

As the Honolulu session ended, newsmen there were told no change was planned in the role of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam—a role which has been described as advisory and training rather than front-line combat.

Up to Johnson

Actual decisions on what is to be done in the trouble area are up to Johnson.

Administration informants said they rather doubted that Rusk and McNamara would pres for any particular combination of actions. These officials thought they would lay alternative possibilities before the President together with assessments of the probable results which might be obtained according to

Dixie Would Vote, Backers to Talk

Southerners stood by, saying they were ready to vote on some amendments, while the measure's backers took up the speaking chores.

President Confident

Dixie senators called this a "counter-filibuster." But Senate leaders said the change of heart came too late, that all of their plans now were centered on the cloture vote set for next Tuesday.

If the bill's supporters muster the necessary two-thirds vote for cloture, all further debate will be limited tightly and leaders are confident the bill then can be passed by the third week in June.

"I have confidence in the action that the Senate will take," President Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "I believe it will pass a good bill."

The Southerners, who have prevented voting on the bill except on two of the 69 days of debate so far, decided on their change of strategy at a caucus Tuesday.

But when their leader, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., announced this on the floor, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he saw no possibility of arranging votes this week now.

Need Time to Explain

Mansfield said that the bill's sponsors would need considerable time to explain the revised version which Senate leaders expect to win the votes needed for cloture.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the bill's floor manager, told newsmen he would lead off with a speech explaining the substitute in detail today.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chief author of the revised bill, had planned to do this but was ill with a heavy cold and deferred his speech. Mansfield co-sponsored the revisions with Dirksen.

SECOND UR CONTRACT SIGNED—A contract was signed Tuesday with Justus H. Schwaner of Scarsdale for the second acquisition appraisal of properties to be acquired in the Broadway East Urban Renewal area. The contract signing in the office of Mayor John J. Schwenk (center) is another giant step toward the actual acquisition of properties, probably in the fall. Schwaner (right) is a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. Eric Hemphill, (left) director of Urban Renewal for Kingston said that after the second appraisal has been completed and purchase prices approved by the Federal Government, the acquisition of properties will actually begin. Trees and Landscaping

Editor, The Freeman:

I want to say how wonderful I think it is that some trees are being planted and some landscaping is being done in the commercial districts of Kingston. In recent months the Ulster Garden Club has planted trees on Broadway and on the grounds of the High School, the City Hall and the Court House. The new Kingston Plaza parking lot has been attractively planted with trees and flowers, and last week the city planted trees in the two North Front Street parking lots. Several places of business have planted trees or are planning to do so. This will not only make Kingston more pleasing to the eye, and much cooler in the summer, but I think will have an economic advantage. Any city which is beautiful and comfortable is certainly more likely to draw a better type of person both to visit or to settle than one which is not.

Many of the cities in the west, such as Phoenix, Arizona, and Portland, Oregon, where the citizens take much pride in the beauty and cleanliness of their town, seem to be enjoying a great amount of prosperity. There must be some connection. Kingston is blessed with a charming natural setting and numerous lovely and interesting houses of the early Dutch-American architecture. With a little more pride and loving care from its citizens it could become one of the outstanding small cities of this nation.

Artime Predicts 'Viet-Type War' Against Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro forces backed by the United States have been attacking Cuban coastal cities, causing great damage and loss of life, the Cuban Red Cross says.

The statement was broadcast Tuesday by the Cuban radio, monitored here. It was one of the few acknowledgements by Fidel Castro government that attacks have occurred. It has announced the execution of seven "CIA" agents in the past week.

"It might be one year or three years," the head of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement said in a statement his office delivered to the Miami Herald. Artime's whereabouts remain secret.

Still Canaveral For Florida City

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Many a stamp collector is learning that, while the missile center was renamed Cape Kennedy, the city still is Cape Canaveral.

Stamp collectors have deluged Postmaster Lyle Meadows and his four clerks with "first day covers." These are decorated envelopes, bearing the new John F. Kennedy stamp, which collectors send in to be mailed back with the postmark they want as a souvenir.

The City Council rejected a suggestion that the community's name be changed to conform with the cape's name change.

Defense Counsel For Ruby Quits To Teach Again

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's third chief defense counsel, legal-medical expert Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, has resigned to return to teaching at the University of Texas Law School.

Another defense lawyer, Phil Burleson, announced the action Tuesday and said he and Joe Tonahill will carry on the legal battle for Ruby, convicted of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

"We do not anticipate any new attorney in the case and do not for the present see any necessity for one," Burleson said.

Smith was not present Monday when Burleson and Tonahill conferred with Judge Joe Brown about Ruby's mental condition. They contend he has become insane since his March 14 conviction and sentencing to death.

Burleson said Smith felt he should return to teaching "to sustain himself and his family." He had accepted the case without a fee. University regents ruled Smith must take a leave of absence without pay while working on the Ruby case.

Ruby's original chief lawyer was fiery Melvin Belli of San Francisco, who was dismissed after the trial for remarks about the jury and Dallas.

MOON PROGRAM ZOOMS

Those who believe that our manned lunar space program ought to be slowed down have become increasingly bold in advancing this point of view. The report of the Critical Issues Council of the Republican Citizens Committee is only the latest expression of it. Congressional hesitation to be as generous as in the past also reflects a feeling that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration may be in too much of a hurry to land a man on the moon.

Recent developments have taken some of the wind from the sails of those advocating a slowdown. Only a day after the Critical Issues Council publicly urged that the idea of reaching the moon in this decade be dropped, the giant Saturn I booster rocket hurtled an unmanned model of the lunar spacecraft into orbit. This was the Saturn I's sixth successful flight test. Placing the Apollo capsule in orbit greatly heightened NASA confidence that a moon landing can be made by 1970.

Also important, though at this stage rather tenuous, are the indications that Russia may not have withdrawn from the moon race after all. It will be recalled that Premier Khrushchev ostentatiously claimed the USSR was not interested in such a race. Since then there have been contradictory statements. Now the United States has information suggesting rather strongly that the Russians are developing a mighty rocket comparable to our Saturn I.

If this proves to be true, it can fairly be concluded that the Soviet Union is still determined to send a manned expedition to the moon. This in itself would not justify a U.S. crash program to be first. It does suggest that we had better proceed at full steam in our present effort, which is not a crash program but a step by step progression which has thus far been remarkably successful.

AUTO INSPECTION

More editorial ink is probably spilled on the subject of automobile accidents than any three other matters combined.

If words alone could remedy the situation, the problem would have disappeared long ago. But in view of the sorry record of 1963—an all-time high of 43,400 fatalities (and it's expected to be worse this year)—the words must continue to din into the American ear the fact that this senseless waste of life is not inevitable.

A bulletin from the American Standards Association reports that more than half of the nation's motorists lack the protection offered by periodic vehicle inspection.

To be exact, 36 million drivers in 20 states, the District of Columbia and a few cities come under motor vehicle inspection laws. The other 30 states, with 56 million drivers, do not have such requirements.

True enough, some of the worst accidents involve cars in mint condition. True enough, most accidents are caused by human, not mechanical, failure.

But bad brakes, worn tires, defective steering mechanisms, broken lights have killed and will kill.

Certainly no avenue that could lead to reducing the toll by even a little ought to be ignored by so many states.

A SMALL RAY OF HOPE

Optimism about Red China is so rare that it deserves notice and comment.

Speaking at Harvard University recently, Robert W. Barnett, deputy assistant secretary of state, predicted that "the pragmatic Chinese people will ultimately reject or curb ambitions of men who speak and act with too little regard for responsibility to the people.

Barnett, in charge of Far East economic affairs in the State Department, noted that the Chinese on the mainland once thought differently of the United States "and can come to think differently again."

What the United States must do, he said, is make it plain to the Chinese that we are not against them, that we pursue our policies toward Peking patiently, "more in sorrow than in anger."

IF WE MUST HAVE PUBLIC WORKS

Some people believe in salvation by works. Other people believe in salvation by Public Works. There is a vital distinction here, for the practice of salvation by Public Works frequently excuses individuals from saving themselves by their own efforts.

To say this in the era of the Welfare State is enough to get one branded as an extremist, of course. So let me hasten to add that some public works are more justified than others. Through my friend, Monroe Worthington, industrial editor of the Wheeling (W. Va.) News Register, I've learned of one project that, if it happens to be practicable, would do more to alleviate poverty in a number of states than anything now on Sargent Shriver's books. This is a project for creating a drain-off of Ohio River water into Lake Erie whenever flood conditions threaten. It could save millions of dollars in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and even along the lower Mississippi every Spring if it could be made a reality.

The reason why the project is judged feasible by some engineers is that normally the Ohio River, at the mouth of the tributary Beaver River, is 110 feet higher than the level of Lake Erie. Naturally, flood conditions create a much higher head of water in the Ohio system. The engineers' proposition is to create five spillway tunnels that would harmlessly discharge flood water into the Great Lakes at a rate of 27,646 cubic feet per second per tunnel. The total drain-off of 138,230 cubic feet per second for five tunnels would be sufficient to keep the Ohio River from overflowing its banks into the city of Wheeling by a sufficiently safe margin.

How would the spillway tunnels be dug without involving the U. S. economy in astronomical costs? Well, the U. S. has spent a lot of money on the Mangla Dam on the Indus River. The builders of the Mangla Dam used an American device named the "Mole" which drills through hard rock at remarkable speed, the largest bore being thirty-six feet, eight inches wide. A Mole can bore more than 150 feet in a twenty-four-hour day — or ten miles per year per Mole. Two or three dozen Moles, set to work at various places between the mouth of the Beaver River in Pennsylvania and Lake Erie, would produce five spillway tunnels in reasonable time. The estimated cost would be a quarter of a million dollars per mile of tunnel. Lining would not be necessary in most places, for the leakage would not be significant, and, anyway, water would flow through the tunnels for only a few days a year every few years.

A second way of diverting flood water into Lake Erie would be to dredge the Beaver River and its tributary, the Mahoning, all the way to Youngstown, so that water could flow either way. This is known to be practicable, for the Chicago River was made to flow backwards from Lake Michigan, and two-way flows are standard in many a tidal river, depending on the momentary height of water at the mouth.

As I say, it is not good for a nation to depend on Salvation by Public Works. But it would be more in keeping with the Federal Constitution to use Public Works to keep a rampageous river under control in order to save existing farms and cities than to construct big dams that have a by-product effect of putting private power companies out of business. This is not to mention the existing farm and bottom lands that have to be permanently drowned whenever a TVA is built.

To keep the Federal government out of any project for spilling potential Ohio flood waters into Lake Erie, the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, and Kentucky might organize an interstate authority. The Federal government might provide matching funds, if necessary. This practice of matching is ordinarily anathema to believers in local initiative. But, again, it is better than total dependence on Washington.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Most Doctors Believe Cigarettes Are Harmful

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the midst of all the furor about the harmful effects of smoking, it is of interest to see how the medical profession as a whole feels about this subject. "Modern Medicine" conducted a survey of over 60,000 physicians. Of these 79.4 per cent had smoked at one time or another, but many had given it up, so that less than half still smoke. When asked whether they believe cigarette smoking is a health hazard, however, 94.8 per cent answered yes.

Those who advised all of their patients to quit smoking before it was too late comprised 53.6 per cent. Most of the others insisted that their patients stop smoking when the patients showed signs of disease in the heart, blood vessels or lungs or had peptic ulcers.

Reports such as that of Dr. E. J. Salber at Harvard, which shows that teen-agers who smoke generally have a lower intelligence quotient than nonsmokers, have received comparatively little publicity. The same report showed that boys who smoke have more trouble with their parents, the school authorities and the law than the nonsmokers.

One block is the fact that tobacco, being officially defined as neither a food or a drug, does not come within the authority of the Food and Drug Administration. If it did, it would never have gotten on the open market.

Meanwhile, the evidence of a link between smoking and lung cancer continues to pile up. This has nothing to do wtih the nicotine in the tobacco, acknowledged by all pharmacologists to be a powerful poison. It is due rather to a mixture of tars and phenols and other substances long known to favor the production of cancer. Furthermore, other chemicals in cigarette smoke reinforce the cancer-producing effect of some of these, especially urethan.

Smoking has also been shown to speed up the changes in lung tissue associated with aging, so that after 15 years of smoking the lung tissues will have aged 20 years.

Many plans have been advanced to help smokers to kick the habit. One method consists of substituting another activity such as chewing gum. This is most effective when cigarettes are used principally to relieve boredom. Another method, especially applicable to those who might be described as jittery smokers, is a short course of tranquilizing drugs as a temporary crutch.

Another drug that has long been used to help break the habit, lobeline, has been put out in lozenge form (Nikoban). Although some observers report good results with this drug, others say that a strong motivation to quit smoking without the use of lobeline will achieve better results than a weak motivation plus lobeline.

A team composed of a doctor (J. W. McFarland) and a minister (E. J. Folkenberg) have written a book entitled "How to Stop Smoking in Five Days," claiming success in 75 per cent of those who use their method.

And Nobody Thought It Was Loaded

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Both Sen. Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York must be judged inescapably by their performances in the June 2 California presidential primary. They themselves made this the crucial test.

From the outset both contenders have said repeatedly that "California is the big one."

Goldwater more than once has predicted he would not be nominated if he did not win the state's 86 convention delegates. He has even indicated he would not deserve the honor in this circumstances.

Rockefeller has been more guarded in comment, but has seldmom failed to stress California's importance in the total nomination struggle.

FROM A VERY EARLY DATE this year, the governor's top political associate, George L. Hinman, virtually took up residence in California to organize and oversee the Rockefeller campaign there. He has spent most of his working hours on the Pacific coast.

Goldwater's forces under Sen. William Knowland organized early and big in the Golden State. Richard Klendienst, the senator's chief of field operations, moved his headquarters westward weeks ago, as he had indicated in February he would.

The two candidates' expenditures in the California race will, by their own testimony, far outdistance their outlays for any other single campaign purpose.

Much of this reflects, of course, the incredible cost of doing political business in a state at once so vast and so populous. Televison and airplanes are basic.

NEITHER ROCKEFELLER nor Goldwater personally has spent as much time in California as their state leaders hoped. But each has given the state a preponderant amount of his time.

All these things being so, neither man may now argue fairly that the June 2 California result, if unfavorable to him, can be discounted.

Each of these two chose to enter a series of presidential primaries to demonstrate his vote-getting capabilities—Goldwater to scotch the notion he could not get votes in northern industrial states, Rockefeller in hope of showing that his divorce and remarriage were of limited effect.

None of the states they entered is so massive and broadly representative a testing ground as California. Hence their own quick focus upon it.

A COMMON CONTENTION among political professionals is: "If you choose to go the primary route, you have to win by it. Primaries are essentially elimination contests.

"If you lose them, you are out. But winning them is no guarantee of nomination."

Many party people — leaders, delegates, rank and file—will be applying this thinking when they scan the headlines which will spread the decisive California outcome across the country on June 3.

A candidate once launched on a drive for the presidency does not easily foresake that course. From the loser's camp on June 3 may come elaborate, perhaps bitter explanations of defeat, coupled with a determination to fight on. But, let it be remembered, both these presidential bidders made California the gauge.

Loyalty Oath Decision: Illegal in Which States?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States, by a vote of 7 to 2 has just forbidden the states to pass a law requiring public employees in schools or other governmental offices to take an oath pledging that he or she is not a "subversive person" and not "a member of the Communist party or knowingly of any other subversive organization." Such a statute enacted by the State of Washington now is held to be "unconstitutionally vague," even though it defines "subversive" as one who "engages in or advocates, abets, advises or teaches" activities directed at the overthrow of our Constitutional form of government" by revolution, force, or violence."

Virtually the same language is used in the Smith Act, a Federal law, and now it is being asked whether the Federal satute is also to be regarded as unconstitutional.

The majority of the court declared that the language of the law of the State of Washington requiring a "loyalty oath" of employees is "unduly vague, uncertain and broad," and argued that the statute does not spell out exactly what is "loyal" or "disloyal." It is the vagueness, rather than the objective, which is held to be at fault. There is an inference that the teaching of communism or giving counsel to members of the Communist party does not necessarily mean an intention to overthrow the government by "revolution, force or violence."

But a layman's criticism of the decision is unnecessary, because Justices Clark and Harlan, in a dissenting opinion set forth in penetrating terms their own denunciation of the majority opinion. The dissenters said in part:

"It is strange that the (Supreme) Court should find the language of this statute so propoundly vague when in 1951 the identical language presented by another oath in Gerende v. Board of Supervisors of Elections, 341 U. S. 56.

"There, the Constitutionality of Maryland's Ober law, written in language identical to (the State of) Washington's 1955 act, was affirmed by a unanimous court against the same attack of vagueness. It is unfortunate that Gerende (case) is overruled so quickly. Other state laws have been copied from the Maryland act—just as Washington's 1955 act was — primarily because of our approval of it, and now this court would declare them void. Such action cannot command the dignity and respect due to the judicial process.

"It is, of course, absurd to say that, under the words of the Washington act, a professor risks violation when he teaches German, English, history or any other subject included in the curriculum for a college degree, to a class in which a Communist party member might sit. To so interpret the language of the act is to extract more sunbeams from cucumbers than did Gulliver's mad scientist. And to conjure up such ridiculous questions, the answers to which we all know or should know are in the negative, is to build up a whimsical and farical straw man which is not only grim but Grimm.

"In addition to the Ober law the court has also found that other statutes using similar language were not vague. An unavoidable example is the Smith Act which we upheld against an attack based on vagueness in the landmark case of Dennis v. United States. . .

"'It appears to me from the statutory language that Washington's 1955 act is much more clear than the Smith Act. Still the court strikes it down. Where does this leave the Constitutionality of the Smith Act.?"

The majority in their opinion declared that "measures which purport to define disloyalty must allow public servants to know what is and is not disloyal." But this is a good deal like saying that no restrictions can be imposed and no laws passed unless the exact nature of every offense is defined specifically. Certainly determining whether a man has, in fact, violated a law is a function of the courts, and it is assumed that the words are to be construed fairly and equitably by the judges on the bench. The processes of law themselves provide for correction of mistaken interpretations or of wrongful action. While the oath, for example, specificially bars membership in the Communist party, it asserts only that the employee is not a member "knowingly" of any other subversive organization.

Many Americans will wonder why it is objectionable to ask a person who applies for a job as a teacher in public schools or colleges to sign an oath stating plainly that he would not advocate or advise or assist any one else to overthrow the government of the United States by "revolution, force, or violence."

THE MAFIA — Part One

The Carabinieri followed the bus out of Palermo and caught it on the plains road near Monreale. They were looking for an assassin. All of the passengers were ordered out. They were lined up and the police frisked the women as well as the men. They came to a short dark man who held his hands up and said: "Don't touch me." He said it softly. The carabinieri studied the expressionless face, the shoe-button eyes. Don't . . . touch . . me," the man whispered

They didn't The expressionless face, the soft voice, the dead stare are the signature of the mafiosa. It is a secret syndicate of Sicilians 600 years old. The members have spent almost all of that time denying that there is a Mafia. In a technical sense, they are right. They refer to it as The Honored Society.

A Sicilian bride was raped by Sergeant Pierre Druet of the French Army an hour before her wedding, around the year 1350. The bridegroom-to-be found Druet and choked him, crying "Morte alla Francia Italia anela." — death to all of France is Italy's cry. The slogan swept the 250-mile island. The first letters of the words are mafia.

From that time until this, the Mafia has inspired dread. A century ago it spread north to Naples and found root in Milan and Bologna, but its home, its nest, its lair is Sicily. Much of what has been written about the Mafia is aprocryphal. The soundest books written in recent years are: "The Honored Society," by Norman Lewis; "Brotherhood of Evil" by Frederic D. Sondern Jr., and "King of Crime," by Dom Frasca.

Even the authors do not agree on what the Mafia is and how it flourishes. It is, in essence, a practical and conscienceless supra-law designed for profit. In some areas, it is composed of families; in others, it recruits young men who are brave, respectful, obedient and equipped with cast-iron souls. In Sicily, policemen, judges and even priests were mafiosa.

There is little doubt that such men as Vito Genovese, Lucky Luciano and Frank Costello were American capo-mafiosa — over-lords. They had the dedicated deadliness, the dignity of the whisper, the respect for society, the loyalty to all its members, and the ability to make final decisions. For this reason, I doubt that Al Capone, hysterical, greedy and given to delusions of personal grandeur, could have been a member. This also applies to a lot of waterfront hoodlums with Italian names.

In Sicily, the top capo-mafia was Signor Calogero Vizzini, who is referred to as Don Calo. He ran his organization as though it was a monastic order. Doctors, lawyers and businessmen were honored to be invited to be minor members. Don Calo did not think of his Honored Society as a scourge of the earth, or even as a lawless group. He was opposed to petty crime, unorganized crime, and independent brigands.

Often, he worked with the police to trap criminals. Don Calo despised the cheap blackmailers who sent extortion notes with black hands as signature. One young criminal was warned, then killed. His body was sent to his parents with a large diamond ring on one finger. The Mafia knew that they were poor.

The warning to non-mafia malefactors is different. On Sicilian farms, a vine is cut at the roots; a farm dog is beheaded and left on the door step; a mule is mained. If the warnings are ignored, and the malefactor is killed, he is expected to abide by the rule of Omerto if he does not die at once. Omerto is manliness to death. Questions from the police are responded to in formula: "If I die, may God forgive me as I forgive the one who did this. If I manage to pull through, I know how to settle accounts."

The Mafia speaks of God as though it had its own. Its enemies have always been the same: Landlord; church; police. For centuries, the Honored Society has raided rich estates; extorted money from prelates as "protection from assassins"; and ambushed policemen. It is in the last fifty years that the Mafia has branched out into extortion rackets, prostitution, narcotics, and labor unions.

Don Calo called it "pizzu." It is a word meaning the beak of a bird. The Mafia referred to the rackets as "Fari vagnari a pizzu" —wetting of the beak. Around the year 1900, Capo Mafia Vito Cascio Ferro organized the first of the modern racket. His men bought produce from the farmers at rock-bottom prices, sent the vegetables to market in Mafia carts where choice space was guaranteed only by the Mafia, and sold to the public.

Don Vito organized the meat and fruit business too, controlled the sale of cemetery lots, and sold licenses to beggars. In Sicily, the Mafia became so rich, so powerful, that the police were forced to maintain relations of respect in order to solve crime.

Sometimes, when a small mafiosa committed an unspeakable crime, he was handed over to the police and, when he was sent to prison, he "committed suicide." The body was sent home and buried. The real prisoner had not died. Someone else was killed in prison and given his name. His punishment was to be sent to America, or worse, to Italy.

Most Sicilians did not regard themselves as Italian and, in the war, tried to secede from the mainland. Even the good citizens had a code: If one witnesses a crime, avert the face and see nothing and say nothing. This kept the Mafia in power . . .

Pontiff Leads Homage At Tomb of Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI led the Roman Catholic Church today in homage to Pope John XXIII on the first anniversary of his death.

The pontiff descended into the crypt beneath St. Peter's Basilica to celebrate a memorial Mass before the flower-decked tomb of Pope John. Then he knelt for several minutes in silent prayer.

Masses Follow

A succession of Masses followed before the tomb. One was celebrated by Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who was Pope John's private secretary.

Another memorial service was scheduled at Sotto il Monte, Pope John's native village where his brothers still work their farms.

50,000 Asks Beatification

Pilgrims by the thousands thronged to the pope's birthplace in the north Italian mountains. A petition with 50,000 signatures, asking the start of a beatification cause for Pope John, was brought to Bishop Clemente Gaddi of the Bergamo diocese, which includes Sotto il Monte.

Beatification is the first step toward possible sainthood.

He had reigned less than five years, but the work he began—the renewal and transition of Roman Catholicism—lives on.

Few popes in the Church's nearly 2,000 years made so profound an impression.

Unconventional Pope

He summoned the Ecumenical Council to let the fresh air of modern times into the Church. He hoped renewal of the Church would help the growing movement toward Christian unity.

Through word and deed he showed himself an unconventional pope. He ventured freely from the Vatican. He received a top Communist in private audience, Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nephew Alexei Adzhubei. He said in his encyclical "Peace on Earth" that in certain situations Catholics and Communists could work together for the common good of man.

This brought him criticism, particularly in Italy after the Communist party made strong gains in a general election. But Pope John once said the pope had to be a father to all.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quietness has settled over the Johnson administration on the subject of Southeast Asia. Yet, it can't afford to sit and rock.

President Johnson himself has said the whole area is at stake. And the situation has been going from bad to worse. Tuesday there was a double vagueness.

1. Johnson had ordered some of his top people to a Honolulu conference on what to d o. It ended Tuesday with no recommendations announced. This was to be expected.

2. Johnson told his news conference nothing new Tuesday. He did say the United States "cannot fail to do its full share to meet the (Communist) challenge."

This studied obscurity may mean Johnson himself will announce it if this country has decided on a more vigorous and far-reaching policy in Southeast Asia.

Aim Deteriorates

While the United States has been giving South Viet Nam $1.5 million a day in aid, and more than 200 of the 15,500 American military men there have been killed, the fight against the North Vietnamese Communists has deteriorated.

By last week all Southeast Asia looked in peril with the Reds stepping up their attack in Viet Nam and rampaging in Laos next door.

The United States could take a definitely new step by bombing the North Vietnamese supply depots. But what would the Red Chinese do in that case?

Present at Parley

It was at this point that Johnson ordered the Honolulu meeting. Present were:

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and many aides and advisers.

This South Vietnamese war had turned McNamara into a regular commuter. In the past two and a half years he had made five trips to Saigon and six to Honolulu, including this one.

Not Optimistic Now

From a number of those journeys he had returned optimistic, but not recently.

After the meeting U.S. officials hinted military action might be taken against North Viet Nam if it and Red China continue to help the fighting in South Viet Nam and Laos.

Yet, at the same time they said neither McNamara nor Rusk proposed a plan "to enlarge the war." And here in Washington Johnson said he knew of no plans like that.

Hints on Enlarging War

Nevertheless, Rusk on May 22, before going to Honolulu, hinted at the possibility of enlarging the war "if the Communists persist in their course of aggression."

Whether this was intended more as a psychological deterrent to the Reds than as a reality still isn't clear.

About all that seems positive at the moment is that the United States — Johnson said Tuesday about meeting the challenge — has no intention of abandoning Southeast Asia to communism.

Won't Abandon People

In that same talk 12 days ago Rusk said, "We have made it clear that we are not going to abandon people who are trying to preserve their independence and freedom."

There's another good but unexpressed reason for not walking out: It would wreck American influence in all Asia and perhaps with its allies, too.

Health for All

Why Teens Skip Breakfast

"What did you have for breakfast this morning? The question was put, in a reasonably polite way, to 500 freshman in a large Chicago high school.

Nearly half admitted that they hadn't any breakfast. Of those who had, half had taken time for only a fast grab — a roll or a slab of toast washed down with coffee or water. Only a quarter of those involved had eaten an adequate breakfast — milk, fruit, cereal, and perhaps an egg.

The breakfast eaters averaged higher in their school work and showed far fewer absences. It was concluded that some instruction about eating habits wold help raise the general student level of performance.

After a semester of teaching about nutrition and rules for healthy living, the youngsters were asked the same question. Results turned out virtually the same as before. Although now primed with the facts, few students had changed their habits. One explained: "I know that I should eat breakfast, but this morning I only had time for a toothpick." Other excuses were divided between "no time" and "not hungry."

The key, it turned out, was mother and her plans for family happiness. Too many mothers assume that adolescents are "old enough to get their own breakfast." They are. But the sad fact is, they don't.

In those "between" years, boys and girls are half children, half grown-up. They should be greeted each morning with a dependable "Breakfast is ready, come and get it!" Without this secure beginning they may drift through the day, bodies inadequately prepared to meet their responsibilities.

CAB Eliminates Some Air Trips, To Review Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered elimination of Mohawk Airlines service at Auburn-Geneva, N.Y., and Meadville, Pa., and between Bradford, Pa., and Elmira-Corning, N.Y.

The board issued a certificate Tuesday putting into effect the March 4 recommendation of Examiner Darron Fredericks that the eliminations be made.

In Utica, N.Y., a Mohawk spokesman said the airline did not serve Auburn-Geneva, although it had the authority to do so. He said the CAB's order removed that authority.

The CAB also ordered a review of the examiner's recommendations that Mohawk service be retained at Liberty, Monticello and Oneonta, N.Y., and that Mohawk be required to provide Olean, N.Y., with at least one daily round trip serving New York City.

The board said it would consider what modifications, if any, should be made on Mohawk's service at Olean.

The California company owns 27,000 acres of land in Wyoming, Genesee and Livingston Counties and has announced plans for drilling additional natural-gas wells.

The State Public Service Commission granted the permission.

Bingham Points To Victory as Win Over Bossism

NEW YORK (AP)—Jonathan B. Bingham, a former diplomat with an Ivy League background, has won Democratic nomination for Congress, defeating Rep. Charles A. Buckley, Bronx political boss and a congressman 30 years.

The 50-year-old Bingham, who ran on a reform ticket, said he believed the voters of the 23rd Congressional District favored him because "they were fed up with old-fashioned bossism."

Buckley, 73, angrily declined comment on his defeat in Tuesday's primary by an opponent he had called a "punk" and a "stiff." The vote was 26,473-22,488.

The campaign was so bitter that Bingham began a $500,000 libel action against Buckley. The summons was served on the congressman at a polling place.

Bingham is the son of the late Sen. Hiram Bingham, a Connecticut Republican. He attended Groton School and Yale and served in various State Department posts.

Traffic Is Stalled As Cars Derailed

SAVANNAH, N.Y. (AP) — Westbound traffic was stalled for more than seven hours Tuesday when eight cars of a New York Central Railroad freight train were derailed just east of this Wayne County community.

No one was reported injured.

The cars were part of a 51-car train enroute from the DeWitt yards, near Syracuse, to Niagara Falls. The accident occurred 35 miles west of Syracuse.

Six of the derailed cars were empty. Another carried soap and another, bauxite ore.

The French liquor chartreuse is both green and yellow, with the green containing about 57 per cent alcohol and the yellow 43 per cent.

Drivers Warned Of Peak Traffic Toll for State

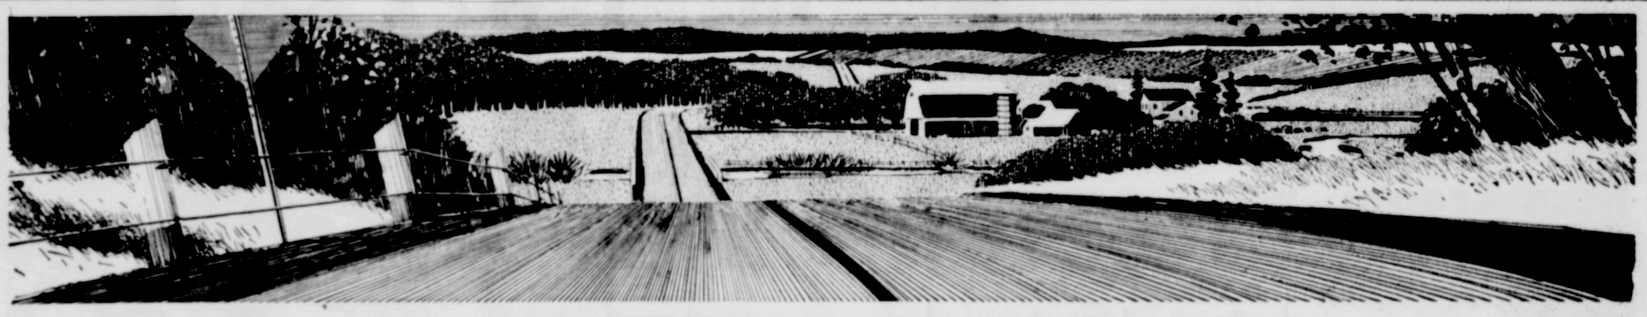

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicles commissioner has warned New York State drivers that, unless they exercise more caution, the 1964 highway death toll could be the highest in years.

Commissioner William S. Hults issued the warning in a report Tuesday that the toll for the four months that ended April 30 was 745 deaths, an increase of 72 over the corresponding period last year.

The number of accidents was up 13 per cent, to 681, and the number of pedestrian deaths was 289, an increase of 12½ per cent.

Training Plan Would Rival GI Bill After War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering a proposal which proponents say would give American job training its biggest boost since the GI Bill.

The idea, proposed by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship, is to treat job skills like capital investments and give employers tax credits for training new workers and upgrading the abilities of present employes.

"Cost to the employer is the greatest single bar to an adequate apprenticeship and training program in America," the committee said in making the recommendation to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

High Labor Department officials view the recommendation as an important proposal in their efforts to combat growing technological job displacement and persistently high unemployment.

The apprenticeship committee —made up of one government, five management and five labor members — carries considerable weight. Its recommendations have led to federal equal employment policies and other important programs in job training in the past.

The committee said employers should be encouraged to undertake more job training by granting them a tax write-off at least as great as the 7 per cent they now get for certain capital expenditures designed to spur business investment.

But, the committee indicated, an even higher tax credit would be justified because of the risk involved in training a man for a job and then losing him to a competitor.

The committee said the government has made no large scale contribution to on-the-job training since Congress passed the GI Bill after World War II to train and educate war veterans.

The committee's unanimous recommendation urge tax credits on the salary and other costs of instructors, bookkeeping costs, training material, cost of time spent in class by apprentices during paid working hours and a certain percentage of the salary of foremen who work with trainees.

A favorite food of the Eskimos on Banks Island is TV dinners. The Canadian Arctic natives store the meals in a convenient deep freeze—a hole in the frozen ground.

Santa Claus Is Richest One Ever

Santa Claus, favored at 15-8, was near the back of the field of 17 runners for most of the 1½ miles of the race. He came from behind and passed Indiana in the last few yards of a thrilling finish.

U.S. Strength Is To Save World, LBJ Tells Cadets

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States is stronger militarily "than any adversary or combination of adversaries" but "the staggering strength is not to destroy but to save, not to put an end to civilization but to put an end to conflict."

In a speech prepared for graduation exercises at the Coast Guard Academy, Johnson predicted that this country's strength will continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all others.

Share Security for Free

"Our adversaries, convinced that direct attack would be aimless, now resort to terror, subversion and guerilla warfare," Johnson said.

He told the cadets that Americans share responsibility "not only for our own security but for the security of all free nations, not only for our own society but for an entire civilization, not only for our own liberty but for the hopes of all humanity."

"In pursuit of such responsibilities, national security requires more than national strength," Johnson said.

"It requires, first of all, a nation dedicated to justice and the improvement of life for its own people. It requires a nation determined to help others eliminate the despair and human degradation on which the enmies of freedom feed. It requires a nation devoted, through speech and deed, to showing those who may grow weary of will, or fearful of the future that the cause of human dignity is on the march, its shadow is lingering, and victory is moving nearer.

"But our hope our success in the aims of peace rests also on the strength of our arms.

"We, as well as our adversaries, must stand in awe before the power our craft has created and our wisdom must labor to control.

Stronger Than Ever

"In every area of national strength America today is stronger than it ever has been before. It is stronger than any adversary or combination of adversaries. It is stronger than the combined might of all the nations in the history of the world."

In predicting this country's strength will continue to grow more rapidly than that of all others, Johnson said the first area of increasing strength must be our ability to deter atomic destruction.

"In the past three years we have increased our nuclear power on alert two and one-half times, and our nuclear superiority will continue to grow until we reach agreement on arms control."

Ballots Impounded, Close in Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — The Orange County Election Commission ordered ballot boxes impounded here Tuesday night because of the closeness of a race for Democratic nomination for city council.

Frank P. Mancinelli was apparently the winner by 20 votes over Mrs. Grace Schirmer, a city supervisor running for the nomination without support of the party organization.

There were no allegations of irregularities in the election, but the commission ordered the boxes locked in a jail cell, pending a final tally.

Fantastic Run

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Fantasticks" continues to roll up achievement milestones off-Broadway. The little musical — it has a cast of just five—clicked off its 1,671st performance on May 3, fifth anniversary of its premiere. It is the fifth longest-running musical in stage history, on Broadway or off.

Sun vs. Skin

When on a wedding trip to a sunny climate, take care not to get a painful sunburn. Select a suntan lotion that will screen out the sun's burning rays and which has a moisturizing quality to keep your skin from drying out. After bathing, smooth on a baby lotion or moisturizing cream to keep your skin supple.

Fuller Lips

Too thin lips often make a woman look as though she disapproved of everything. Thin lips can be made to look fuller. Apply lipstick outside the natural lipline following the natural pattern.

Park Proclaims Martial Law in Wake of Clashes

By C. S. CHIN

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—About 20,000 students and citizens demanding that President Chung Hee Park resign fought a bloody battle with police today and on into the night. His shaken regime proclaimed martial law.

Street fighting swirled around the capitol and on the approaches to the presidential palace in a day of wild disorder. Outbreaks were reported in other South Korean cities.

The decree putting the nation under martial law was announced after Park, who came to power four years ago on the heels of another student uprising, called the National Security Council into urgent session.

Also summoned were the representatives of the United States, which bankrolls this land of poverty menaced by communism. They were U.S. Ambassador Samuel D. Berger and Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, the U.S. and U.N. commander in Korea.

So perilous were the streets, where students were seizing army trucks, battering at the stones on police, that Berger capitol's gates and raining stones on police, that Berger and Howze flew to the conference in a helicopter.

Then as the fighting sputtered on after nightfall, the deputy information minister, Lo Suk-chan, announced the emergency martial law decree giving the army power to crush the demonstrations and drive people from Seoul's teeming streets.

Lions, Garden Club Cooperate In Civic Project

The New Paltz Lions Club plans to assist the New Paltz Garden Club in its effort to beautify the triangle at South Chestnut Street and Mohonk Avenue. The Garden Club is interested in beautifying this spot in the ultimate hope of entering it in community garden competitions.

The State Highway Department is at work preparing the maps necessary to determine elevations and dimension to aid the village in putting curbing around the triangle. The village will then be able to apply to the state for construction permits.

Several ladies of the Garden Club attended the recent meeting of the village board. Mrs. George Bogert asked the board for a progress report on the anti-litter campaign. She reported that the Garden Club wished to run a slogan contest to gain widespread support in its anti-litter drive.

The Lions Club has pledged to support the beautifying of the Chestnut Street-Mohonk Avenue triangle by donating cash as well as manpower.

St. Joseph's School Has Teacher Program

The show under the direction of Mrs. Edward Tasker and Mrs. Vito Interrante, consisted of skits and speeches by the school children. It began with an opening speech by Miss Bernadette Schiller followed by a song by the cast. Two dancers, Reggie Wazeski and Andrea Escalet, then gave a combination twist and cha-cha. Vaudeville act was given by Richard and Patty Steffens. Mark Demers first played the Polonaise on the piano, and them accompanied his sister while she sang, I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard. Alice Steffens gave an excellent pantomime and Alberta Denys played the Streets of New York on his mandolin. Other acts were Patty Schreiber, Diane Coats and Kathy Beattie singing I Like to Go A Wondering and the eighth grade girls singing their own version of The Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The highlight of the day was the appearance of the New Paltz Beatles who were played by Charles Interrante, Michael Andradez, Harold Phillips and Edward Tasker.

The teachers were presented with gifts and the show was then closed with a speech by Eileen Luczai, and a song by the cast.

Parade, Legion Tribute to JFK Are Top Events

In a pastoral setting hard by a running brook and between the Ohayo and Overlook mountains of Woodstock legend, Woodstock Post 1026, American Legion, paid tribute to our martyred president, John F. Kennedy, on Memorial Day.

In a solemn climax to the most successful Memorial Day parade in many years, Commander Mark Vlock of the Woodstock post unveiled a granite memorial and placed a wreath on it . . . a wreath handed to him by Mrs. Magda Moseman, president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Surrounding the marker on the lawn of the American Legion property are four dogwood trees —two red and two white—planted by the Legion. The beautiful dogwoods, a favorite tree of the late president, each spring will bloom to cast their perpetual brilliance on the granite memorial.

Commander's Remarks

In a brief dedicatory speech, Commander Vlock said:

"We remember his courage. We remember his devotion to his high ideals and we remember his great fulfillment of his high office.

"We know of his concern for the rights and dignity of even the least of his fellowmen. Before him stretched a bright destiny of leadership and brilliant statesmanship, a destiny that was negated, alas, by the assassin's bullet.

"We remember and we mourn, and in token of our sorrow, we place this wreath."

Outstanding Parade

Observers agreed generally that this was one of Woodstock's outstanding parades. Forming at Orchard Lane and Tinker Street, the parade made its customary stop at the Village Green memorial where Monsignor Austin V. Carey of St. John's parish, Commander Vlock and Mrs. Moseman participated in a brief ceremony. The Rev. Norman C. Krapf, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, offered prayers for the departed veterans of all wars at Woodstock cemetery where the firing squad fired its first volleys of the day.

Three bands participated — from Saugerties and Catskill and the resplendent Onteora High school marching band under the direction of Harry Simon. The township's four fire companies paraded behind a contingent of Legionnaires. Town board officials, Boy Scout and Girl troops also participated.

Hold Open House

Riding in other open cars were groups representing Woodstock Rotary, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Woodstock Senior Citizens. Three Gold Star Mothers rode in one car and two foreign exchange students in another vehicle.

After the Kennedy memorial ceremony, the Legion was host at an open house attended by several hundred persons.

The contemporary creations of five prominent Woodstock artists who have either worked, studied or exhibited in Mexico City will be hung on the white marble walls of the new United States Embassy in Mexico City.

The Woodstock group includes Ethel Magafan, Bruce Currie, Edward Chavez, Fletcher Martin and the late Edward Millman.

Two new American embassies will be opened in Dublin, Ireland, and Mexico City this month and they will immediately become showcases of contemporary American art.

Mrs. Kefauver's Work

The embassy exhibitions are the first results of the work now being done by Nancy Kefauver, widow of the Senator from Tennessee, in her new role as the State Department's Consultant on Fine Arts.

The art has been chosen with an eye to the architecture of each embassy. The Dublin chancery is based on an old Celtic design and combines architecture of the Old and New World in a building in the round. Mrs. Kefauver has hung on its walls, contemporary prints by Jack Perlmutter, well known Washington artist. Appropriately, Perlmutter's pictures all have a green theme.

Mrs. Kefauver is organizing a National Acquisition Committee which will soon help her respond to appeals for art from all other U. S. embassies.

The Sturges Buy Webster Avanti

Mr. and Mrs. Hollister Sturges have purchased "Avanti" the Webster house in Byrdcliffe, Benjamin L. Webster has announced. The transaction was completed last Friday.

The Sturges have been summer residents of Woodstock since 1951, having occupied "Casa Carniola," one of Peter Whitehead's houses in Byrdcliffe.

Sturges is a government contract specialist in the Defense Activities Division of Western Electric Company in New York City. He has served as a group leader in his firm's Democracy in Action program to teach employes the rudiments of politics. Mrs. Sturges, the former Elizabeth W. Betz of Kingston, has been active in the YWCA and the Girl's Service League in New York. She was recently elected executive vice president of this latter organization.

The Sturges have three children. The oldest, Hollister III, is an English teacher at Auburn High School in California. He graduated from Corneli in 1962. A daughter, Pamela S. Whitman, is a student at the University of California. Her husband, Randal L. Whitman, is a graduate student at Stanford University. Their younger daughter, Abigail, has just completed her sophomore year at Vassar. She will be an hospitality aide hostess at the New York World's Fair this summer.

"Avanti" was built in 1910 by Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Webster on land purchased from Ralph Radcliffe Whitehead, the founder of the Byrdcliffe arts and crafts colony. They had previously spent six summers in the community, occupying "Sunrise." Benjamin L. Webster and his wife, the former Gioja Stallforth, have occupied the house since 1934. All of their four daughters have attended Woodstock schools. Four generations of Websters have lived in the house.

The Ben Websters are planning to build a new house in the same general area. For the time being they have rented the John Carlson studio on Glasco Turnpike.

First Exhibit

The Woodstock Artists Association first exhibition of the 1964 season, Life Members Choose 3" opens with a reception from 3 to 6 p. m. on Friday, June 5.

Works chosen for exhibition are due Thursday, June 4, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

Thought Order Was a Scare

Ranger Leader Had Tough Assignment for Omaha Beach

EDITOR'S NOTE — Every commander worries about "accidents of the terrain"—an unexpected ditch, a patch of hidden swamp that can lose a battle. There was nothing unexpected in what a Texan faced 20 years ago. What he faced made a man sweat.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — "First time you mentioned it, I thought you were trying to scare me," said Lt. Col. Earl Rudder to Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

Assignment: Land 200 men on a difficult shelf, scale a 100-foot cliff and destroy German guns trained so they would cut to pieces any troops landed on Omaha Beach.

"No soldier in my command has ever been wished a more difficult task than that which befell the 34-year-old commander of this Ranger force," Gen. Bradley wrote in his book, "A Soldier's Story."

New recognition of Rudder, now president of Texas A&M University and a Reserve major general, will come Friday when he becomes an official representative of the United States to mark the 20th anniversary of the Allies' crash-through into Europe in World War II. He is in the delegation headed by Gen. Bradley and appointed by President Johnson to attend ceremonies in France.

To prepare his troops, Rudder trained them on the stony cliffs of the Isle of Wight. Ropes with grappling hooks and ladders carried by amphibious trucks were to be used in scaling the Normandy cliffs. The trucks proved useless.

"As the Rangers went up the ropes hand over hand, the enemy dropped grenades on their heads. A destroyer raced in and swept the top of the cliffs with her guns.

"Within five minutes after they had landed, the first Ranger had bellied over the top. Seconds later his companions swarmed up behind him."

Rudder's boat was the first to reach shore, official Army records show.

About noon of D-Day, Rudder sent this message:

About three hours later came a reply: "No reinforcements available."

Relief came on D-Day plus-2. The battalion had suffered more than 50 per cent casualties and Rudder himself had been wounded three times.

Rudder received decorations from three countries, including the Distinguished Service Cross, the United States' second highest award for individual valor.

He later commanded an infantry regiment which helped repulse the last major offensive of the Germans, the Battle of the Bulge.

3 Women Killed, 47 Hurt as Bus Tips on Highway

GURNEE, Ill. (AP) — Three women were killed and 47 other persons injured Tuesday when a chartered bus struck a bridge and overturned on a rain-slick highway.

Sheriff Charles E. Larson said a mechanical failure on the bus may have caused the accident on U.S. 41, about 40 miles north of Chicago. The bus was en route to Milwaukee, Wis.

Larson said several passengers told him the driver, Clarence Lorch, stopped the bus and "got out with a wrench and monkeyed around with a back wheel" a few miles before the accident. Lorch, who was 60 on Tuesday, was listed in critical condition at a hospital in nearby Waukegan. He was not questioned.

Four women passengers were described in critical condition.

The 49 passengers, all women, were returning to Milwaukee from a tour of the Avon Products, Inc., cosmetics plant in Morton Grove, a suburb of Chicago.

The dead were identified as Angela Santarelli and Stella Ciseski, both of Milwaukee; and Jean Posto of outh Milwaukee.

'No-Trumpist' Is Contract Pest

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Everyone likes to play no-trump contracts, but the no-trumpist goes miles out of his way to get the no-trump play in his own hand. It always delights me when he is properly punished for this type of misbid.

West opened the queen of hearts and dummy's king was gobbled up by East's ace,. Back came a heart and the defense cashed six fast heart tricks while South was busy discarding winners.

South complained bitterly about his bad luck. He pointed out that his bidding had forced West to make a blind lead and that West might well have opened a spade or a diamond. It also was even money that West would hold the ace of hearts, whereupon the heart lead would not have hurt him anyway.

For some strange reason North had nothing to say. Perhaps, she was just too nice to speak up or maybe she had learned that it wouldn't do any good. There is no cure for this no-trump disease. Any criticism of a no-trumpist is apt just to lead to more and worse no-trump bids from him in an effort to show a profit on one of them.

I did not comment either. Kibitzers should be seen and not heard and I am not going to comment now, except to point out that if North had been the no-trump declarer nothing could have hurt him.

Lutherans Favor Stronger CR Action

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Synod of the Lutheran Church went into its third day of meetings today bolstered by several firm stands supporting stronger civil-rights action.

The 1,000 Lutheran clergymen, lay delegates and visitors to the meeting pledged to carry the civil rights banner to the 380 congregations and 219,413 members the Synod comprises.

Only One Laotian Finds American Boots to Fit

A supply of rubber-soled canvas combat boots arrived the other day as part of U.S. assistance to the little kingdom's anti-Communist forces.

Only one man, the biggest in the company, found a pair he could use. The boots ranged in size from 10 to 12F. The average Laotian soldier wears a 5 or 6.

How It Goes With Royalty In Ruling Homes, Nations

EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Queens rule nations, but princes rule royal homes.

At least that's the way it is with a pair of the world's best known princes—Bernhard of the Netherlands and Philip of Britain.

"To succeed as both husband and subject, I believe you need a tightrope walker's sense of balance and an understanding wife. In the nation it is my wife who rules. In my home it is I."

Prince Bernhard, the husband of Queen Juliana, gave the advice to the husband of Queen Elizabeth II in 1953, shortly before her coronation. The prince of the Nethelands volunteered it in an interview with a former Dutch court reporter, Donald Canter.

There is nothing to suggest that Prince Philip doesn't follow the advice. There is, however, a slight suspicion that Prince Philip doesn't have his way all the time.

Lord Kinross has said that Queen Elizabeth once asked a woman friend: "What do you do when your husband wants something badly and you don't want him to have it?"

"Well, ma'am," the queen's friend is reported to have replied, "I try to reason with him and dissuade him and sometimes we reach a compromise."

To this Her Britannic Majesty is said to have retorted: "Oh, that's not my method. I tell Philip he shall have it, and then make sure he doesn't get it."

But, according to persons close to the British throne, there is overwhelming evidence to suggest that Prince Philip rules the British royal home as surely as Bernhard does the one in Holland.

For instance:

—The queen opposed Prince Philip flying. He flew.

—The queen was opposed to Prince Charles going to Gordonstoun, the tough Scottish public school. Charles went to Gordonstoun.

Then there was the time the queen appeared before a royal party wearing a dress of her own choosing. In the hearing of several persons, Philip toook a look at the frock, frowned and said rather sharply: "You're not going to wear THAT, are you?"

"No dear," answered the queen, and went and changed the dress.

Area Residents Take Red Cross Aquatic Course

Ulster County residents Miss Sherbourne Houze, Paul Francis Gorman, and Robert Allen Reynolds Jr. will be among the young men and women attending the American Red Cross National Aquatic Schools, Gerhard Klemm, chairman of the water safety committee of the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter has announced.

Miss Houze, of PO Box 434, New Paltz, a student at the State University of New York College at Potsdam, will attend the school to be held at Camp Gardiner Lake, Colchester, Conn., from June 10 to 20. She plans to be employed in the waterfront program at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill.

Mr. Gorman, of 5 Brookside Court, Halycyon Park, Lake Katrine, is a student at Marist College, Poughkeepsie, and plans to use his training as a waterfront counsellor at the Catholic Youth Organization Camp, Lake Katrine.

Mr. Reynolds, of Kingston Terrace, Kingston, will be graduated from Hoosac Prep School, Hoosick in June and will plan to use his training in teaching swimming this summer in the Kingston area.

Both Mr. Gorman and Mr. Reynolds will attend the Aquatic School to be held at Camp Indian Trails, Milford, Pa. from June 16 to June 26.

These Aquatic Schools are two of several 10-day training sessions held by the Red Cross this summer. They have been conducted annually since 1922 and the enrollment now totals over 77,000.

The schools are held at establisshed summer camps before and after the regular camping seasons. Their purpose is to increase the number of qualified instructors in swimming, lifesaving, boat safety, and first aid to participate in Red Cross chapter programs and to serve as swimming and waterfront directors at summer camps, beaches and pools.

WORK FOR THE FUTURE — Laborers toil on the granite cliffs along the Nile river in the Aswan High Dam area. The dam will create a 314-mile-long Lake Nasser whose waters will provide year-round irrigation and power for Egypt's industrialization.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

There was a time, not too long ago, when my readers spoke and wrote to me about the Mary Powell, Kingston Point Park, the Skillyput but today they worry about the insecurity of tomorrow. One of my readers cut out and marked the public notice for unpaid taxes, land and consolidated school tax just for the Town of Esopus, a small community, where there are some 85 unpaid consolidated school tax, as listed in the Tuesday, May 12, 1964 Freeman. I notice most of the land tax is paid.

Remembering that the people voted against the consolidated schools at the referendum, one old timer of the Town of Esopus told me that in the late 20's, he paid $4 for school tax. In the 1950's it went over $100 and in 1964 it climbed to over $160 yet no improvements whatsoever were done on his piece of property, although it is in a desirable location. No doubt, many other taxpayers who read this column, and go back to the school taxes they paid in the late 20's, then in the 1950's and now in 1964 would find the same increases. In the Thursday, May 7, 1964 Freeman on the front page they say there would be an increase of $540,804 over 1963 in school budget which is over seven million dollars. They say, "they slashed items wherever possible, devoted long hours to studying each item listed" and even went over each item "with a fine tooth comb" at meetings and workshop sessions. In that same paper there is mention of "Kingston schools having a sound basic program." In the May 15, 1964 a "Kiwanis speaker is critical of schools," thus the local paper gives you all sides of this school picture, which my readers bring me and say "Look!"

In the May 15, 1964 front page of The Freeman, D. Jacquith, president of the board of education of the City of Syracuse, spoke of the high cost of education in New York State. He also spoke of urban renewal. He said that with education "spending is going up at a fantastic rate," in fact a third higher than California, which statistics claim has the second best education system in the country. It so happens that Captain Andrew Hickey, historian and author and Bernie Singer of the board of education both had sent me material and pamphlets on these same statistics. I wish that all the business at the board of education would come out in the open so we could learn who is for what, and how much is spent for what. These members of the board are no doubt dedicated people and do not receive a salary, and why they run for the office, I'll never know. With four persons running for three offices, seemed strange to me, they should have had at least six people, so one would have a choice, and the slate was unknown to most voters so it seemed, so they did not care, perhaps, who got in.

Years ago, schools, welfare, and city spending was all put on an itemized list, and published in the local press, to what was paid for so small items, as a pail, a broom and other items. Today, we only know in round figures, in millions, how local public monies is spent. Sometimes I think the youngsters learn more from their own home TV than they do at school. Reading writing, spelling, arithmetic, history, geography played a very important part in our time in public school. Drawing was usually a once a week "pleasure" on Friday afternoons We had some music, but social life and physical education was left for after school. We skipped rope, played jacks, rode a bicycle, swam in the Hudson, roller skated, and ice-skated, read books and grew up.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The most fascinating stars of television Tuesday night and early today were the networks' electronic tote boards rolling up the vote totals in Tuesday's California primary. For once the numbers were more interesting than the people.

CBS demonstrated its faith in its "vote profile analysis" when only 2 per cent of the votes were counted and the polls were still open in the San Francisco area. It declared Barry Goldwater winner of the presidential preference vote at 10:22 p.m. EDT.

NBC, while noting Goldwater's constant lead, refrained from projecting a winner because of the closeness of the race. When 75 per cent of the votes were counted, Chet Huntley noted that the projection at that point would give Goldwater 51 per cent of the vote and Rockefeller 49 per cent. ..

Seconds before midnight, NBC did declare Pierre Salinger the winner in the state's Democratic senatorial primary, at about the same time that CBS did.

Both networks originally expected to name the winners—based on their computer findings—within a half hour after Southern California polls closed. CBS, in fact, planned to give the primary returns a mere half-hour at 10 p.m. EDT and then return to regular programming.

CBS stayed with the primary story until midnight and NBC kept reporting returns until 1 a.m.

Least interesting, at least to a viewer far removed from California, were the usual statements of the winners and the usual hedging "let's-wait-until-the-votes-are-all-in" remarks by the apparent losers.

Inevitably, too, there was considerable repetition during the long hours.

Hurley GOP Sets Dinner and Dance Saturday Night

Reservations will close Thursday for the third annual dinner-dance of the Town of Hurley Republican Club scheduled Saturday night at the Twin Lakes Mountain House, Lucas Avenue Extension.

Saturday's program will start with a prime ribs dinner at 7 o'clock and dancing will follow in the casino from 9 until 1 a. m.

The club official said today that "with the heat of the Primary battles over in Ulster County, area Republicans should show unity and a spirit of good Republicanism by attending party dinners and events in their areas." "This unity," Marquardt pointed out, "will prepare the party for its real battle in November."

Last minute reservations may be obtained by calling Arthur Rice, dinner chairman, of West Hurley.

She's Not Amused

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. J. C. Smith discovered that one of two decorative concrete eagles on pillars in front of her house was gone. Pranksters who had hauled away the 150-pound ornament left two eggs in its place.

NOT MUCH BIGGER—The Mercury space capsule was frighteningly small when you saw it, and the new Gemini or two-man capsule is not very much bigger. The Mercury stood 90 inches high and was 75.5 inches wide at bottom. The Gemini is basically only 12 inches higher and 9.5 inches wider or about 14 per cent larger overall. Newsgraphic above shows how Gemini will look in space. Parts of the ship are cut away to show various controls. Large "tank" tailing in back is a manned orbiting laboratory (MOL), which will be trailed by the Gemini in future flights and which also can be entered by one of the astronauts to perform experiments.

Boone Quitting Hollywood for Oahu Residence

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's goodbye Hollywood, for Richard Boone!

The moving vans have pulled up before his westside home, his cars have been shipped, and next Monday he shifts to his new residence on the island of Oahu, Hawaii.

Not Retiring

After 14 years as a Hollywood actor, including service in three television series, Boone is moving his wife and 10-year-old son to the islands. That doesn't to a life of ease among the palms and pineapples.

"I am not capable of retiring," he explained. "I'm merely shifting my base of operations to a place that is only 4½ hours away from Hollywood by jet. I expect to be here often, if producers call me, and I hope they do."

He also hopes to be working in the islands. He has an ambitious plan in mind.

"I think I've learned the production side of our business pretty well—I'd be pretty stupid if I hadn't," he said. "I want to establish a film studio in Hawaii with the purpose of producing features andte levision series and providing a base for other movie companies that come to Hawaii for locations.

Boon for Locations

"The idea would be to build two sound stages—one for shooting and one where sets would be prepared—plus an office complex. It would have to be on Oahu because of transportation. Also, the film lab is there, and the four television stations can provide tape and other facilities.

"The studio would be a boon for film locations. It would give companies cover sets to use in case of bad weather; within two hours they could be shooting indoors. Time lost by weather can be murder on a budget."

The Colonial American merchant-banker Stephen Girard bequeathed several million dollars to establish Girard College in Philadelphia for orphan boys.

Marriage With Music

HOW TO TERMINATE A BUSINESS VISIT POLITELY

Q: I am the office manager of a fairly large company and I often have to see salesmen and other visitors who come to the office on business matters. Sometimes these visitors stay longer than need be. Will you please tell me how I can politely conclude these visits without seeming abrupt and rude?

A: You can say that you are sorry you can't talk any longer but you have an appointment you must keep or that you are due at a conference in a few minutes or make any similar excuse.

Evening Clothes at Five O'clock

Q: Our wedding date is set for August. The ceremony will take place in church at five o'clock wth a reception following for 200 guests. My fiance is very partial to white tie and tails. I know that these clothes are evening attire but considering the lateness of the ceremony and the fact that the reception will take place after six o'clock, would it be proper for the men to wear white tie and tails?

A: I'm sorry but white tie and tails will not be proper at five o'clock in the afternoon especially during the summer when darkness is still hours away.

Girls Telephoning Boys

Q: I have a teen son who is forever receiving telephone calls from girls he knows. When I was young, a girl wouldn't dream of calling a boy ever, but today girls think nothing of this. Is it now considered proper for a girl to telephone a boy?

A: Although many of today's teen-aged girls do not seem to realize it, it is neither proper nor wise for them to telephone boys just for the sake of conversation. Telephoning to invite a boy to a party or to tell him something important is, of course, another matter and quite proper.

Youth Conference On Atom Is Slated For November '64

Six of the Mid-Hudson Valley's most outstanding high school science students and their teachers will attend the National Youth Conference on the Atom, November 5-7 in Chicago as guests of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Some 600 of the nation's most outstanding high school science students and teachers annually attend the conference sponsored by the nation's investor-owned electric utility industry. Co-sponsors are the National Science Teachers Association and Future Scientists of America.

According to Central Hudson Commercial Vice President Edwin T. Strong, the conference is designed "to present to a group the nation's most able high school science students and teachers an authoritative and inspiring picture of the peaceful promise of the atom." Students from a majority of the states in the nation attend.

In addition to the meetings, the local students and teachers will tour the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant near Detroit, Michigan. Central Hudson is one of the group of investor-owned companies that designed, built and are operating the plant, a showplace of U. S. development of the Fast Breeder Nuclear Reactor concept.

"The conference," Mr. Strong said, "is designed to reward hard work on the part of future scientists and to give them some awareness of the dramatic strides being taken in the fields of atomic research and development aimed at realizing the promise of the peaceful atom.

"At Central Hudson we are anxious to contribute to the growth of knowledge in this highly important field of endeavor. Today's students hold the key to the future of the atomic energy industry. Encouraging their efforts will help to keep America at the forefront in pioneering efforts aimed at taming the atom for man's benefit," he said.

This is the sixth year that Central Hudson will have sent local students and teachers to the conferecne. Students will be selected this fall through an essay contest conducted by area schools on the subject "The Peaceful Uses of the Atom." Students selected in the past five years have been from Red Hook, New Paltz, Greenville, Rondout Valley and Coxsackie-Athens Central Schools, Newburgh Free Academy, F. D. Roosevelt High School in Hyde Park, St. Patrick's High School in Newburgh, Roy C. Ketcham High School, Wappingers, and Catskill High School.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Honor Society Feted by P-TA

HIGHLAND — Members of Terralta Chapter of the National Honor Society of Highland High School were guests of the local Parent-Teacher Association at a dinner Monday evening at Reggie's Inn, Route 299.

All ten members of the society were present and were introduced by Michelle Morano, president of Terralta Chapter. The five members in the chapter prior to the recent election and induction ceremonies are Michelle Morano, Patricia Abbate, Kathleen Erichsen, Bernadette Brennie, and Carolyn Brault. The newly elected members are Sherida Stellar, Sandra De Mare, Virginia Achille, Cathryn Brault and Juanita Gibbons.

Following the dinner, Mr. La Susa introduced John C. Miller, sponsor for the Terralta Chapter of the National Honor Society, who gave a short historical sketch of the development of the organization from a few isolated societies at the turn of the century to the creation of the national organization in 1921, and its growth from 14 chapters in 1922 to 33,560 in 1963.

Mr. Miller then introduced George Fernandez, coordinator of the Curriculum Center of the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, who spoke to the members of the Terralta Chapter on their responsibilities, their place as potential community leaders, their need for introspection and clarity of thought and resolute action to maintain the right. Character was the key word to his address.

At the conclusion of the address of Mr. Fernandez, Mr. La Susa called on Hubert W. Perkins, supervising principal of the Highland Central School, who advised the members of Terralta Chapter to read—to read history, and especially to become thoroughly acquainted with the thoughts and precepts of the great philosophers both past and present—to obtain a grasp of the thought of all ages in order that their own thought may be more abundant and world-embracing.

Feelings Bitter in Midwest

Guard Keeps Peace As Pact Talks Fail

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 1,000 Michigan National Guardsmen kept the peace today at Hillsdale, Mich., scene of the bitterest of a rash of labor disputes in the Midwest.

Negotiations at the Essex Wire Corp. collapsed Tuesday on the eve of the plant's reopening, authorized by Gov. George Romney after he had kept the plant closed for five days.

Feelings were bitter in the city where strike violence has flared sporadically since the International Union of Electrical Workers pulled out its 180 production workers 96 days ago. The IUE was attempting to win its first contract at Essex. It had replaced the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent at Essex.

Hillsdale county's 35,000 residents were put under a curfew order. Two near riots have occurred at the plant and both strikers and workers have been injured. Romney arranged to station upward of 1,000 National Guardsmen in the city, four times the original number.

The union assailed Romney's reopening order as an attempt to influence the course of bargaining. The governor denied it.

In West Allis, Wis., striking steelworkers and police fought at the Pressed Steel Tank Co. Two men were hurt. Five pickets were arrested.

Police Chief Louis Reinsch said the fighting broke out as police tried to escort newly hired Marquette University students into the struck plant.

Fist fights also broke out at the Evansville, Ind., International Steel plant. The plant, employing 350 production workers, has been struck for eight weeks by Teamsters Union Local 215.

A company spokesman said one woman suffered a slight concussion when she tried to push past pickets Tuesday. He said the plant would be closed today because the employes were afraid to cross picket lines.

Also in Indiana, 500 industrial workers went on strike Tuesday at the Dana Corp., an automotive parts manufacturer in Marion. The dispute was over job classifications.

Leaders of the United Auto Workers voted Tuesday to strike today against the big White Motor Co. plant in Cleveland, Ohio.

Scots Can't Curb Spread Of Typhoid

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—The growing typhoid epidemic in Aberdeen has turned Scotland's leading resort into a pariah city.

The epidemic, which has caused the death of one woman, continues unchecked. The total of identified cases reached 248 today and 39 suspected cases were under observation.

Coming at the start of the tourist season, the outbreak already has cost Aberdeen hundreds of thousands of dollars.

As a government inquiry sought the cause of the outbreak, Secretary of State for Scotland Michael Noble ordered two brands of corned beef removed from store shelves throughout the country because Aberdeen health officials believed one of them had spawned the epidemic.

Noble told the House of Commons, however, that there was no positive evidence that the two brands—both South American—were responsible. It had not been established, he said, that corned beef was to blame.

But Dr. Ian MacQueen, chief public medical officer of Aberdeen, a city of 186,000 told a news conference: "There is no shadow of doubt that this outbreak started from a tin of corned beef."

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) —In the news from Washington:

WARREN: The Warren Commission, investigating the slaying of President John F. Kennedy, has decided to hear more testimony from the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of the assassination.

In announcing Tuesday that Mrs. Oswald would return on June 11, the commission declined to say why she is being recalled.

CASTRO: State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips has denounced as "absurd and preposterous" charges by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that the United States is conducting germ warfare against Cuba.

Scoffing Tuesday at Castro's statement that three men executed in Cuba were agents of the Central Intelligence Agency, Phillips said:

"Castro self-servingly brands opponents of his regime as CIA agents whenever it suits his purpose to do so. I have no other comment on that charge."

CRASH: Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby predicts the May 7 Pacific Air Lines crash in which 44 persons were killed near Concord, Calif., may soon be reclassified as a "case of murder and sabotage."

During a discussion of airline security measures Tuesday, Halaby told newsmen he expects the FBI and the Civil Aeronautics Board to issue a statement soon on their investigation of the crash.

The plane went down on a flight from Reno, Nev., to San Francisco, killing all aboard.

Democrats Urge Harrisburg Study On Election Law

HARRISBURG (AP) —Senate Democrats are calling for reform and investigation of Pennsylvania's election laws in the wake of controversy over the April 28 primary.

Sen. Benjamin H. Donolow, D-Philadelphia, urged the state to tighten up its vote counting procedures before the November presidential election.

"The primary has disclosed certain weaknesses in our election laws," Donolow declared Tuesday.

At the same time, Sen. Gus Yatron, D-Berks, appealed for a legislative investigation by the joint state-government commission into the entire election code. Both measures were referred to committee.

Donolow recommended two specific changes in a resolution.

One would require county officials using voting machines to take the returns directly from the machines and not from tally sheets. The other would require all absentee ballots challenges to be based on fact and affidavits.

Both issues have been the center of controversy in the race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate between Miss Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, and Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the state Supreme Court. Miss Blatt leads in the race by 640 votes.

Boiler 'Kick-Back'

Windows were shattered and a hole was knocked in the roof of the K-B Products plant in Hudson Tuesday when a boiler "kick-back" caused an explosion in the boiler room. 10,000 GIs Now In Viet: Army

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Army currently has 10,000 men deployed in South Viet Nam, Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes said today.

In Washington, the Pentagon said the over-all total of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam is about 15,500 — 1,000 below last fall's peak—but did not officially detail the totals for each branch of service.

When the leopard was named, it was wrongfully thought that the animal was a cross between the lion (leo) and the panther (pard) and, taken together, they formed the name leopard.

Supporters Look For Passage of 'Project 70' Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Enabling legislation for Project 70, Pennsylvania's $70 million "open space" program, headed for a final vote today in the Senate. Its backers were confident of passage.

The Senate cleared the way for the showdown Tuesday wrestling with a barrage of proposed amendments which touched off Democratic charges that Republicans were "trying to amend the bill out of business."

In other action, the Senate Appropriations Committee added $2.7 million to the Scranton administration's general appropriations bill, raising the total to $1.072 billion—some $2.2 million more than the governor originally asked for fiscal 1964-65.

The Senate also started action on an amended version of the House - passed land condemnation reform program proposed by the Scranton administration.

CP to Conduct Fall Fund Drive

Edward deGroff, president of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association, announced plans were underway for the annual fund-raising drive to be conducted this fall in the townships outside of Community Chest areas. He also stressed the importance of the 18th annual meeting and professional conference of the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New York State, Inc., which will be held at Glens Falls, June 5 and 6. The program theme Perception and Its Ramifications, is a subject which is of great interest to everyone since this complex perception problems affects other than cerebral palsied children.

Acknowledgements Given

The board also extended thanks to Seton Cottier and the Circle K Club of the Ulster County Community College for the excellence of the CP booth at the Lions Club exposition in April. Appreciation was extended to Mr. and Mrs. George Moylan of Rosendale for the successful family picnic held May 23 at their residence. Acknowledgement also was made of the many donations and pieces of essential equipment given to the Center by various organizations throughout the county.

Mrs. Charlotte Peck, director of the Treatment Center, reported an active case load of 185 children with a total of 1,353 treatments during the past two months. The clinic is presently completely staffed with three speech-hearing therapists, one physical therapist; a director, secretary and a nursery school teacher. Nursery enrollment was reported 21 children in April and 25 in May. There is a waiting list for admission to the Speech Department, but it is hoped that these youngsters may be included in the summer program which begins June 29. The Center will be closed the last two weeks in July and first week in August for annual summer vacation.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A Florida bowler watches television to see where he, or the ball, went wrong.

Services Ring Bell

Delighted right along with them is the telephone industry. The giant Bell System and the hundreds of independent companies find in the growing business a bright new market for sales of their services.

The use of closed-circuit television is spreading. It's found in classrooms, banks, hotels, hospitals, on the launching pads of Cape Kennedy and in movie theaters.

The closed-circuit device in theaters let hordes of Americans watch the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fracas and argue about the outcome as heatedly as did the fans at the ring side. Stores and banks use forms of the closed-circuit to trap holdupmen and larcenous old ladies, check pilfering and make visual records of the faces of check signers.

Many Using It

In closed-circuit television the electronic signal is carried in by a narrow band or slow-scan—one picture every 10 seconds—over reglar telephone wires; or broad band or fast-scan—30 frames per second—via coaxial cable or microwave relay linking the pickup camera with the receiver.

In South Carolina, 170 high schools, 13 colleges, 14 hospitals and 36 elementary schools are on a network using circuits of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., and 46 independent telephone companies.

The regular meeting of Kingston Chapter 155 Order of Eastern Star will be held Friday night at Masonic Temple. The Star degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates. All Stars and Master Masons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. On June 19 the annual bazaar and dinner and card party will be held.

CP Officials To Attend State Parley June 5-6

The 18th annual meeting and professional conference of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of New York State will be held on Friday and Saturday at the Queensbury Inn, Glens Falls.

The program, entitled, Perception and Its Ramifications is of particular interest not only to parents, doctors and therapists of cerebral palsy children but to parents, educators, physicians and psychologists whose work concerns children with special learning disabilities. Perception, or the process of discriminating, differentiating and experiencing the data which sense organs take in depends upon a complicated process involving the central nervous system. This process can be impaired without affecting the motor development of the individual as it is in the case of cerebral palsied youngsters.

Dr. William Amols, professor of clinical Neurology at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, New York City will speak on Understanding the Central Nervous System. Other speakers include Dale Bryant, PhD from the Albany Center for Learning Disabilities, and Dr. Arnold Breakey, attending opthalmologist at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City. Among the representatives from various New York State departments are Frances Connor, EdD from Columbia University and vice president of United Cerebral Palsy Association, New York State, Dr. Dudley Hargrove, associate director of the Bureau of Medical Rehabilitation and Raphael Simches, chief of the Bureau for Handicapped Children.

The meetings begin at 9 a. m. Friday and continue through Saturday 2 p. m. The Kingston Cerebral Palsy Center will be closed Friday so the entire staff may attend this very important conference. Also attending from Kingston will be Edward DeGroff, president of the Cerebral Palsy Board of Directors, Mathew Hasbrouck and Helen Oberkirch, members of the board of directors.

The public may attend any of these meetings. Advanced registration is desirable but not required for admission.

Johnson to Speak To Coast Guard Graduates Today

Only one other president has visited the campus by the Thames River. President Harry S. Truman paid a call in 1952.

After the ceremony Johnson will drive to nearby Groton, where he will tour the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. There he will lay the keel of an nuclear submarine, the yet unnamed SSN650. The ceremony involves burning his initials into the keel with a welding torch.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Chenango & Unadilla Telephone Corp. of Norwich was authorized today to make a two-for-one stocks plit.

The Public Service Commission authorized the utility to increase the present 350,000 shares, with a par value of $20 each, to 700,000 shares at $10 each.

The company said it anticipated that the split would make the stock more attractive to investors.

Dear Abby . . .

Stay As Sweet As You Are!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and I want to ask you a serious question. Do ANY boys like nice, sweet, old-fashioned girls? If you don't give them what they want, they think you don't like them and they go find someone who will. This guy I went with was real nice at first, then he started getting "fresh." He said if I liked him I'd go along with his ideas. I really liked him, but I couldn't explain why I wouldn't give in without sounding stupid or juvenile. He said I was too "nice" for him, and he left. Now I realize how much I liked him. How can I get him back?

DEE

DEAR ABBY: Plenty of boys still like "nice, sweet, old-fashioned" girls. (That's the kind they look for when they have marriage in mind.) If you have to defend your moral standards with a debate, you are in the wrong company. Forget this boy. But don't be surprised if he turns up after he's grown up, and tells you that you were right, and he'd like to have another chance — this time with YOUR rules.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 22 years. I have continued to call myself MRS. JOHN SMITH. A friend of mine recently pointed out to me that I was breaching etiquette; that since there is no longer a JOHN SMITH, neither is there a MRS. JOHN SMITH, and I should be calling myself MRS. GERALDINE SMITH. Please set me straight.

MRS. GERALDINE OR MRS. JOHN?

DEAR MRS. JOHN SMITH: Your friend is the one who needs to be "set straight." When you took John's name, you took it for as long as YOU lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Since reading in your column that a woman changed dentists because she didn't like the canned music he used in his office, I should like to express myself on that subject. I quit TWO dentists on this account. But worse yet is being forced to listen to canned music in a garage. I sat there waiting for my car to be repaired, while the mechanic waved wrenches and screw drivers around in the air as he sang and skipped and danced all around the car as though he were in a hypnotic state. He stood on his toes, leaped into the air and twisted his body. His boss said he was a good mechanic and, if the music were turned off, every mechanic in the place would walk out. At six dollars an hour I didn't bring my car in there to be entertained. When I want to see a ballet, I'll buy a ticket. There should be a law against such nonsense in a place of business.

Barthel Takes Tourney at SCC

Jim Barthel was awarded first place on a matching of cards with two other players in the annual Duffield - McLeod tournament at Shawangunk Country Club in Ellenville.

Barthel (87-15-72) had tied in the regulation 18 holes with Dick Van Keuren, 81-9-72; and Frank Skelly, 85-13-72. Strong, gusty winds hitting up to 30 miles an hour plagued the field in the 18-hole, 100 per cent handicap tournament.

Margaret Velsor and Frank Hyatt led their respective divisions of the annual Flag tournament in the largest field ever to compete in the events. Both were 100 per cent handicap affairs.

Mrs. Velsor finished 20 feet from the 9th cup with her allotment of 11 strokes to lead the distaff field. The runnerup, Leah Kreiger, playing with 20 handicap strokes, finished 20 yards from the 9th green.

Hyatt planted his flag 20 yards from the 19th green. Sidney Velsor was runnerup, five feet from the pin on the 18th green. Net scores were Hyatt, 86-20-66; and Velsor, 98-28-70; Mrs. Velsor 48-11-37; Leah Kreiger, 58-20-38.

Iroquois Team Nips Apache, 4-2

Iroquois scored twice in the sixth inning and stopped an Apache threat in the same frame to record a 4-2 win in the Metropolitan Knothole League.

Al Eisle was the hitting star for the winners with a triple and single. Glenn Stoutenburg and Gordon Stoutenburg doubled for the Apache squad and Gordon also added a single.

Art Perry won it over Gordon Stoutenburg.

Schabot, Bach Hurl Club to 12th Win in 15 Starts

Closing one of their most successful seasons ever, Kingston High players celebrated their newly won DUSO league crown with a 4-3 decision over Our Lady of Lourdes yesterday at the Hudson River State Hospital diamond in Poughkeepsie.

Coach Al Gruner's nine won 12 of 15 games, including six of eight in the league. Since most of the squad will be back next year, the future is bright.

Bach Saves It

Joe Schabot picked up the win for the locals but it took another solid relief job by Brian Bach to save it. Schabot left in the fifth inning on the front end of a 4-3 score. Bach whitewashed the Warriors the rest of the way.

Members of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters will meet Monday in Middletown to select the All-DUSO team. Kingston figures to do well in the balloting.

Phil Bench Warmer Hitting; Dean Chance Hurls 2-Hitter

Cookie Rojas Paces Leaders Over Dodgers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sniffing a pennant and looking for the big trade that might bring one, the Philadelphia Phillies decided to display some of their excess talent last week in the hopes of drumming some business in the National League market place.

Manager Mauch looked down his bench and there, residing in a quiet corner, was utility infielder Cookie Rojas, a career .221 hitter. With an average like that, you've got to be considered excess. So Mauch tapped Cookie to take over for Tony Taylor at second base for a couple of games.

Hitting .548

That was a week ago and Taylor hasn't started a game since. Rojas has 14 hits in 21 at bats since taking over for a .667 batting average. Of course that's much more than his season's average which is only .548 on 17 for 31.

Rojas continued his hot streak with two hits against the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night as Philadelphia maintained its National League lead with a 4-3 victory.

Cookie scored the Phillies' first run when he doubled, stole third and came in on Richie Allen's long fly. After Ken McMullen's two-run homer had tied it at 3-3 in the top of the seventh, Rojas opened the Phillie half with a single.

Allen's single and an intentional walk loaded the bases and Cookie trotted home with the winning run when Ron Perranoski walked Wes Covington.

The victory, coupled with San Francisco's 3-1 loss to Pittsburgh, extended the Phillies' league lead to 1½ games. In other NL games, Cincinnati rallied to beat Warren Spahn and Milwaukee 7-5, New York came from behind and whipped Houston 7-4 and Chicago downed St. Louis 5-2.

Rojas' hitting helped Dennis Bennett win his seventh game in 10 decisions. In addition to scoring the first and fourth runs Cookie squeezed John Herrnstein home with a perfect sacrifice bunt in the second inning.

Roebuck Saves It

And to rub salt into Los Angeles' wounds, old friend Ed Roebuck hurled the ninth inning and set the Dodgers down 1-2-3.

Spahn was breezing with a 5-1 lead and a five-hitter through seven innings when the Reds suddenly turned the tables. A four-run eighth tied it and then run-scoring hits by Deron Johnson and Frank Robinson won it in the ninth.

The Braves built the big lead early with two-run homers by Gene Oliver and Denis Menke the key blows. Oliver also had a solo homer.

Bob Veale hurled a five-hitter for his second straight victory over the Giants and his fifth win in eight decisions. He struck out nine and walked four.

The Pirates grabbed a quick lead in the second inning when Willie Stargell tripled, Gene Freese doubled and Donn Clendenon singled for two runs. Jim Davenport's fifth-inning single delivered the only Giant run.

The Mets trailed 4-2 going into the seventh when three hits, two Colt errors and a pair of hit batters produced five runs and the victory.

New York spotted Houston a 4-0 lead and then got 8 2-3 innings of airtight relief from Bill Wakefield and Frank Lary to win it.

Hot-hitting Billy Williams had three hits including his 14th homer and ran his league-leading average to .422 against St. Louis as the Cubs won their sixth in the last seven games.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"All right," said Chance, "I'll pitch an $18,000 season."

But Chance tried to against Boston Tuesday night, turning in one of the top pitching performances of the season, keeping the Red Sox hitless for 5 2-3 innings and finishing with a two-hitter while striking out 15 in a 1-0 Los Angeles victory.

Chance, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a shot at a no-hitter and probably a pay raise until Dick Stuart lined a single to center with two out in the sixth. He also had a shot at the record 18-strikeout mark and probably a pay raise until he ran out of whiffs in the last two innings.

Chance had 13 strikeouts through seven innings, but struck out only one in each of the last two innings and settled for the season's high of 15, an impressive 2.12 earned-run average and a 4-2 score. Now he needs only 20 more victories to get his raise.

The 24-victory yardstick was applied by Haney a week ago Tuesday when the Angels called a special press conference and brought up the subject of Chance's contract dispute with the club. At that time, Haney said an $18,000 season figures out to about "24 winning games."

While Chance was showing Haney his stuff, standout pitching efforts also were turned in by:

—Sam McDowell, a $100,000 bonus baby recently recalled from the minors who struck out 14 as Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2 and knocked the White Sox out of the American League lead.

—Baltimore's Dave McNally who posted his second shutout with a six-hit, 4-0 triumph over Kansas City that lifted the Orioles into first place.

—Gerry Arrigo, who kept eight hits well spaced in Minnesota's 6-2 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Besides Stuart's single, the only other hit off Chance was a single by Felix Mantilla leading off the ninth.

Two Straight Wins

McDowell, a 21-year-old left-hander with only eight major league victories since receiving his $100,000 four years ago, now has posted two of the victories since being recalled from the minors last Saturday.

Leon Wagner homered in the third inning for the Indians—No. 12 of the season and his fourth in four games—and Cleveland broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth when Max Alvis and Larry Brown hit consecutive homers.

McNally, also a 21-year-old southpaw, had been ineffective in his last three starts but pitched strongly against the A's, who were unable to get a man past second base. McNally now has a 4-3 record.

Boog Powell homered for the Orioles, who scored two of their first three runs on wild pitches by Orlando Pena, now 6-4.

Arrigo, a 22-year-old lefty, struck out Elston Howard with the bases loaded in the third and got out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth without a run scoring.

Hector Lopez homered in the eighth for the Yankees but the Twins already had put it out of reach as Tony Oliva stroked three hits and John Goryl, Bernie Allen, Don Mincher and Earl Battey all collected triples.

Epsom Derby Today

EPSOM, England (AP)—Seventeen colts, including five owned by Americans, were set today to contest the richest Epsom Derby of all time—and one of the wettest.

PITCHING — Dean Chance, Angels, allowed only two hits and struck out 15—high in the majors this season—in 1-0 victory over Boston.

BATTING — Billy Williams, Cubs, went 3-for-4, collecting a single, a double and his 14th homer, lifting his average to .422 in 5-2 triumph over St. Louis.

Yanks, Dodgers Ready to Trade?

NEW YORK (AP) — Dugouts are buzzing with trade talk as the June 15 deadline approaches and both the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers appear vulnerable.

Bullpen problems prompted the St. Louis Cardinals to deal 37-year-old Lew Burdette to the Chicago Cubs for Glen Hobbie, another veteran right-hander, in a Tuesday deal.

The Dodgers are doing their level best to bolster a pitching staff that developed a leak when Johnny Podres went on the shelf.

Hank Aguirre may be next to walk the plank at Detroit and could be Dodger-bound if the Tigers could get waivers on the lefty in the American League.

With the Yanks limping along only a few games over the .500 mark, the Twins are convinced they can make a strong move for the pennant if they can come up with some more pitching.

Even the Yankees are trade-minded. The relief pitching has been something less than sensational and Yogi Berra is looking for help, either from the majors or the Richmond farm. Because of the persistent injuries to Mickey Mantle, the regular line-up remains unsettled.

Memorial Show, Pony Event Slated by Lowlands Ranch

Lowlands Ranch Club of Lake Katrine will stage its annual Memorial Horse Show Sunday, June 7, and the first all-Pony show ever attempted in the Hudson valley on Sunday, June 14, at the club ring in Lake Katrine.

In line with the steadily growing popularity of the show, more than 100 entries are expected for the memorial show Sunday. Ralph Moore of Rexford will be the official judge.

The barrel event will be the main attraction for the semi-pro riders attending. This year's show is billed as an All-Western show and will not have any English or Pony events.

An extra feature of this year's show will be an art exhibit of original oils by Mrs. Lois Williams of Tillson. Her paintings have for their main theme the horse or pony and should prove interesting to the public.

The All-Pony show on June 14, is an experiment by the club to see whether ponies can hold their own in today's equine show world. Inquiries have been received from Washington, D. C. to the south and Rochester and Vermont.

Paul J. DuCuennois of Glens Falls, who is a recommended judge of the American Shetland Pony Club, will be the official for the day. There will be classes for SPIB, ASPC, Welsh and Grade ponies, 22 classes in all.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET —
Perfect Knight (2nd)
UPSET CHANCE —
Carolina Kid (5th)

1. SQUARE DEAL is well-bred and comes from a good barn. GUNKAHAR qualified well at Goshen. Can close. BOWL OF FLOWERS was a money winner last year.

2. PERFECT KNIGHT breezed in MR debut. The best bet of the night in this one. MISS NEVELE had some fair efforts in '63 but has not raced this year. FABULOUS FLAME making first appearance.

3. FAIR WIDOW had two good qualifiers at Roosevelt. HOMING PIGEON and TARPORT SUSAN figure to be the next best.

4. ADIOS GEORGE went 2:07 in a Yonkers race. Might do as well if Gilmour drives. BULL KNIGHT and MISSILE HANOVER will fight it out for second.

5. ARMBRO CHAMP went well last week. CAROLINA KID can upset. Watch out. FIRST NIGHTER has dropped way down.

6. MAHONE TIME might go wire to wire. MICHEL MIR breezed in first start and looms as the chief contender. KEY COMMAND is a steady pacer.

7. SPEEDY G. making bow as a trotter. Qualified at Goshen. NEVELE HONEYEYMOON has trained well and reports are good. MINT T MISS has some even efforts.

8. SHADYDALE PAYOFF would have won last start except for break. BELLE CHIMES is sharp and comes off winning race. REGAL YATES is so-so.

9. MOUNTAIN PAUL in position to pick up first win. DONNA GOOSE raced well at Liberty Bell. F.S.G. is very inconsistent.

Rondout Tops OCS

It took more than a week, but Rondout Valley finally won that disputed decision from Onteora, 3-1.

The original contest finished with the Ganders on top, 1-0. However, Onteora coach Paul Jordan lodged a protest on a disputed play and it was upheld.

Play was resumed yesterday with the clubs knotted in a 1-1 deadlock in the top of the sixth. The visitors went down without further scoring and the winners came up with the tie breaking pair.

An error and passed ball put a runner on second. After loser Linden Frasier fanned the next two batters, Fred Parisi singled and Tom Tegeler reached base on an error with Parisi scoring all the way from first.

The victory gave the Ganders an 8-4 record, winning the second place in the UCAL behind Marlboro, which won a second straight title. Onteora closed at 4-8.

1-8 DD Returns $375.60 at MR

Princess Blanche, a 30-1 outsider, became the second horse to score from the outside eighth post at Monticello Raceway this season as the four-year-old mare copped last night's second race to clinch a healthy $375.60 daily double payoff.

The winning 1-8 number combination was set up by 2-1 favorite Newport Commander, which took the first dash in 2:10.1.

With Joe Firetti at the reins, Princess Blanche made her move at the three-quarter pole and came home in 2:09.3, edging out Don's boy by a quarter-length. The victory, the first in three starts for the bay mare, was worth mutuels of $65.80, $18.30 and $8.80.

The DD payoff and the win mutuel on Princess Blanche were both high marks for the young season here.

Don's Boy returned $4.70, and $3.20 while Credamus got home third for $4.90.

Pete McEnaney Jr., was up behind the nine-y-ear-old Newport Commander, which finally gained the winners' circle after seven tries, paying back prices of $6.40, $3.80 and $2.60.

The Scotchman got home second for $4.30 and 2.60 while Herb Scott was third for $2.60.

Two hits, a pair of errors and a walk in the extra seventh inning gave Charles Ramsey a 5-1 win over the Lions Club in an American Little League game.

Starting hurlers Rick Cogswell and Gallo each fanned 10. Tony Gallo was the winner in relief and Pete Woodworth lost it.

KHS Golfers In 6-6 Tie With Port Jervis

Gaffney carded 34-34 with five birdies to blank Spears, 3-0. The Port ace shot 38-36-74. Gaffney birdied the 4th, 6th and 7th holes the first time around and the 7th and 8th the second around Twaalfskill's par 35-35 layout. He had three bogies.

Neil Pauker carded 38-33-71 for a 2-1 victory over Glen Roderman in the No. 2 match. Rich Sondey, Port's low shooter with 38-33-71 blanked Bob Barthel, 3-0, and Ray Smith, Port's No. 4 player posted 73 for a 2-1 win over Sam Speigel.

Mets Put Willey Back on Roster

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Carlton Willey of the New York Mets, who sustained a fractured jaw when hit by a batted ball in an exhibition game April 3, has been taken off the disabled list, the club announced Tuesday night.

To make room on the roster for Willey, the Mets sent pitcher Craig Anderson to their Buffalo farm club in the International League.

Willey, 33, was the Mets' top right-hander last year, winning 9 and losing 14 following his purchase from the Milwaukee Braves. He had not allowed an earned run in 11 innings during the exhibition season when he was struck down by a line drive off the bat of Detroit outfielder Gates Brown.

Qualifying Berths for Open Tourney Set for Next Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Six golfers who have won the U. S. Open championship will be just six familiar names among 473 trying to qualify for the 64th U.S. Open next Monday and Tuesday.

For the record, they are Cary Middlecoff, winner in 1949 and 1956; Tony Manero, who won back in 1936; Lew Worsham, 1947; Ed Furgol, 1954; Jack Fleck, 1955, and Tommy Bolt, 1958.

The five who have won the Open since Bolt are exempt from sectional qualifying.

Twelve of 13 former PGA champions also must be listed merely as hopefuls, though few are likely to miss qualifying. The 13th is someone different. He is Sam Snead, the man who has won just about everything in golf except the Open and who still is trying.

Snead has placed in 23 consecutive National Opens. He has finished second four times, once losing a playoff to Worsham, but never has been on top.

Many Top Names

Tuesday, Snead will be struggling against 81 rivals, among them some of the leading pro tourists, for the 39 qualifying places available in the Detroit section. Others include Bolt, Jerry Barber, the 1961 PGA champion; Phil Rodgers, who tied New Zealand's Bob Charles in the British Open last year but lost in a playoff; Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 U. S. Amateur champion, now a pro; and such noted pro tourists as Art Wall, Bob Goalby, Johnny Pott, Doug Sanders and Ken Venturi.

The Detroit and New York sections are the biggest and strongest of the 13 listed today by the U. S. Golf Association. The 36-hole qualifying rounds will be played there and at three other locations on Tuesday. Eight sections will hold their rounds Monday.

The former Open and PGA champions are among 45 who were exempt from local qualifying two weeks ago. They join 428 survivors of the local tests seeking 129 places available in the championship at Washington's Congressional Country Club June 18-20.

Twenty-one are exempt from all qualifying and go right into the final 150-man field. They include the five most recent Open winners, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper; amateur champion Deane Beman and Charles, the British Open king.

Straub Is Top Athlete at Point

WEST POINT—Bill Straub of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., who wrote a new chapter into the story of track at the U.S. Military Academy, received the Academy's top athletic award here this week.

Straub was given the Army Athletic Association trophy, given to the graduating class member who has rendered the most valuable service to athletics during his career as a cadet.

Straub was captain of Army's cross country, indoor and outdoor track teams, holds several Academy records in the mile and two-mile beat Navy in three events in both the 1963 and 1964 meets, and was a Penn Relay and Heptagonal distance champion.

Wayne Wheeler of West Springfield, Mass., was given the Eastern Athletic Association Award for excellence in athletics and scholarship. Wheeler, a Dean's List student, was all-America and captain of the soccer team and also a regular on the Army hockey team.

William Landgraf, swimming captain and a two-time all-America choice, received a special Army Athletic Association award for outstanding achievement and exemplary leadership. Landgraf, who comes from Cleveland, Ohio, holds several Academy swim marks.

Special awards for being selected as the outstanding cadet in their respective fields were also given to Straub and Landgraf. Straub received the Fred E. McAniff award for track and Landgraf the Class of 1923 Memorial award for swimming.

Charnley Wants Fight With Ortiz

LONDON (AP)—Dave Charnley, the British conqueror of Kenny Lane, clamored today for a title fight with world lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz. He may get it soon "if the price is right," said the champion.

Charnley, the British lightweight king and seventh-ranking contender, finished strong to gain the referee's decision over Lane, top-ranking contender from Muskegon, Mich., at the indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

A crowd of 8,000 cheered loudly when referee Andy Smith, the lone official, raised the Briton's arm in triumph. His scorecard was not disclosed. That is customary here. The Associated Press had Lane in front 5-3 in rounds, with two even.

"We are ready, willing and able for a title shot at Ortiz," said Charnley. "I think it will be in London."

"It will go where I can get the most money," said Ortiz. "If the price is right I'll defend against anybody."

Five to Oppose Northern Dancer

NEW YORK (AP)—The list of likely challengers to Northern Dancer in Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct has been padded to five with the addition of John Galbreath's Orientalist.

The Darby Dan Farm's speedy colt, a son of Swaps, was entered Tuesday for the supplementary fee of $5,000. Orientalist, whose victory in a mile test at Aqueduct last Friday was his first in nine starts this year, joins Hill Rise, Roman Brother, Quadrangle and Shook in the probable field seeking to veto Northern Dancer's Triple Crown bid.

Of the five contenders, however, only Hill Rise is a definite starter in the 1½ mile Belmont.

Toronto Defeats Buffalo Bills, 8-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Kern lashed two doubles Tuesday night to spark Toronto to an 8-4 victory over Buffalo and lengthen the Maple Leafs' International League lead to four games.

The Toronto third baseman drove in the two deciding runs in the fourth inning with his second double of the night.

Buffalo had jumped out front 1-0 in the first inning on a home run by Cleon Jones, but the Leafs rallied for four runs in the second on four hits, a wild pitch and a walk by Bison starter Ray Apple.

Buffalo put together triples by Sherman Jones and a homer by Duke Carmel for three runs in the sixth, but they could never overcome the margin provided by Kern's double.

Toronto added another run in the eighth on a solo home run by Ken Hamlin.

In the only other league action, Rochester staved off a ninth inning uprising by Syracuse to edge the Chiefs 9-8. Rain forced postponement of the Atlanta-Columbus game and a doubleheader between Jacksonville and Richmond.

Syracuse jumped on lefty Bill Short in the ninth for a three-run homer by Wally Post, a single and two walks. The Chiefs garnered six runs to pull within one run of Rochester. Reliever Herm Starette, the fourth Syracuse hurler used in the ninth, then struck out Willie Horton and Mack Jones to end the game.

Palmer, Nicklaus In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus head a 25-man United States entry in the British Open Golf Tournament at St. Andrews next month, but Palmer's plans are accompanied by a big "If."

If the all-time leading money winner from Latrobe, Pa., wins the U.S. Open at Washington, D.C., June 18-20, he definitely will play at St. Andrews, seeking a third leg on his professional Grand Slam.

If he fails in the U.S. Open, Palmer likely will skip the British event to concentrate on the PGA Championship at Columbus, Ohio, the only big pro title he hasn't won.

Nicklaus, who missed the British Open last year by a single stroke after going bogey-bogey on the last two holes, plans to play regardless.

The dates of the British Open are July 8-10. Bob Charles of New Zealand, who won the title in a playoff with Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., will defend. Rodgers plans another shot at the crown.

Another leading American contender will be Deane Beman the National Amateur champion from Bethesda, Md.

Decision Delayed

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Under West German pressure, the decision setting a single grain price scale for the European Common Market has been postponed until Dec. 15.

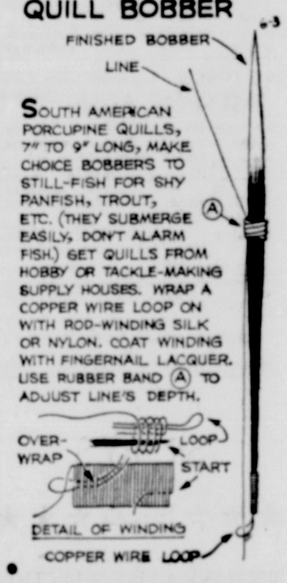

The West German delegation told the other five Common Market nations the Bonn Parliament would not approve the proposed scale since it would mean lowering the high German prices. A West German spokesman said there is no assurance his government will agree to the scale in December.

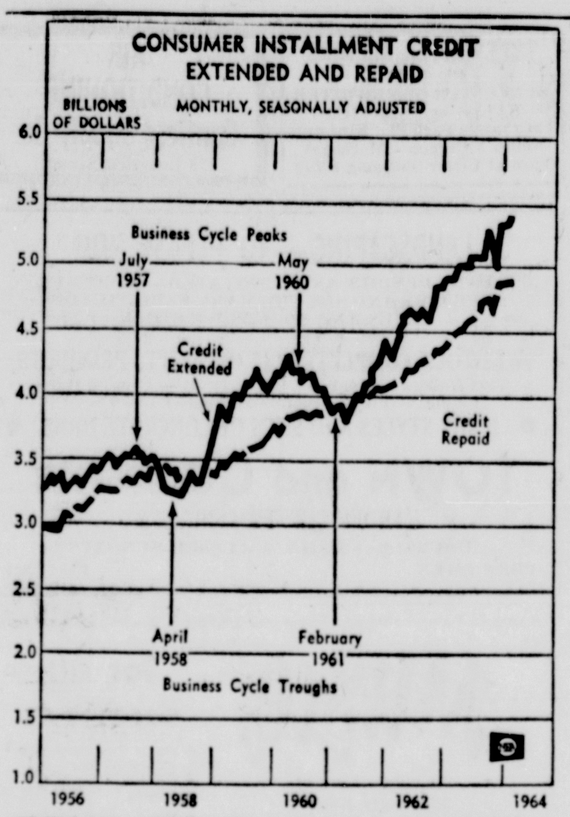

No Serious Effects

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan said today termination of U.S. economic aid to Nationalist China in June 1965 will not seriously affect Formosa's normal economic growth because the country has a "sound industrial and agricultural foundation."

EXTENDED CREDIT—The American economy continues to expand without downturning. Consumer installment credit rose $579 million in February this year. Not only did the credit rate rise, but also the new credit extensions amounting to $5,421,000,000 in the same month. This rise mirrors gains in credit sales on "time purchases," such as homes and autos. Single-payment loans, or noninstallment credit such as charge accounts, rose $146 million.

ALASKA WELCOMES TOURISTS—If you were planning a trip to Alaska this year, but were thinking of switching to some other area in light of the recent earthquake—things are looking up. Severe damage did take place along coastal communities, but only certain areas of the city of Anchorage, for example, received heavy damage. All hotels in Anchorage are in operation. Newsmap above spots areas where severe damage took place, as well as many places untouched by quake damage.

'On the Wagon'

The expression of being "on the wagon" for a person who has given up drinking originated with the old U.S. Army. The wagon referred to is the water wagon which accompanied troops on march. Someone who was being disciplined for drunkenness was ordered to stay on the water wagon.

New York's Battery Park was first used by the Dutch and later the British as a military fortification.

At the same time he accepted the position of lecturer at the Catholic University.

Besides his teaching career Father Lerhinan spent several years as an army military chaplain. In divided terms he served two years at Yokohama and Tokyo; and two years in Pennsylvania and Germany. In 1952 he was discharged with the rank of captain.

Goldwater termed Rockefeller a stand-in for all the other undeclared Republican contenders for the nomination and complained that the New York governor misrepresented his views.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK AP) — The stock market staged a technical snapback early this afternoon in light trading.

Gains of key stocks numbered losers and ran from fractions to about a point.

The list met support near a level from which it rebounded in late April. After two days of decline, traders picked up stock at relatively cheap prices.

Conspicuous on the upside were airlines, which have been under severe long-term profit taking.

Some of the higher-priced, more volatile issues in the office equipment or photography gained 2 to 5 points.

The trend was slightly higher among rails, motors, tobaccos, chemicals, retails, electronics and aerospace issues.

Trading was so dull, however, that first-hour volume was below a million shares for the first time in weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 305.0 with industrials up .6, rails up .5 and utilities up .2.

Xerox rose 5, Polaroid 3, Control Data more than 2.

Bush Wins Primary in 34th Senatorial

and work for a tremendous Republican Victory in November.

"Thank you all, very much."

Impressive Figure

Insurgents in the Saugerties Town Republican organization gave Newcombe a 449 majority over Bush with all 11 Saugerties town districts reported.

Newcombe carried all districts except No. 8 Glasco in which Sen. Bush polled 100 votes to 34 for his opponent.

In the balloting for convention delegates Wilson polled 605 and Tinklepaugh 499 over the Goldwater candidates, Leavitt 407 and Hall 350 in nine out of 11 election districts.

Other Tabulations

Woodstock's three election districts gave Newcombe a plurality of 18 votes. The unofficial tabulation was Newcombe 256 and Bush 238.

Sen. Bush won the Town of Wawarsing by a 195 majority with 387 votes and 192 for Newcombe in all nine election districts of the township.

The Town of Ulster's seven election districts gave Newcombe a 107 plurality. The count was Newcombe 392 and Bush 285.

Newcombe won the Town of Esopus by seven votes in unofficial tallies with Bush polling 228 to Newcombe's 235 in a complete poll of all five districts.

Town of Hurley gave Newcombe an overwhelming majority of 398 with all four election districts reporting. The vote was 487 for Newcombe and 89 for Bush.

Bush piled up a 41 plurality in Town of Lloyd with all four districts reported. Bush polled 133 to Newcombe's 92.

Town of Gardiner went to Bush 111; 63 for Newcombe.

New Paltz' four election districts gave Newcombe 331 to 264 for Bush.

Rosendale went to Newcombe by 10 votes, 145 to 135 with all three districts reported.

Shawangunk went for Bush nearly 3 to 1. The totals for four districts was 337 for Bush and 116 for Newcombe.

Newcombe received his greatest plurality in the 13 wards of Kingston, a total of 280. The townships outside the city gave Newcombe a 138 plurality.

The total vote in the city was Newcombe 1,006, Bush 726. Bush carried only three wards, the third, fourth and 10th.

The governor won 76 votes in Tuesday's primary and will gain another 10 when the Republican State Committee, which he controls, meets June 11 to name delegates at large.

There were direct clashes between delegate slates pledged to Rockefeller and those pledged to Goldwater in 10 districts, a total of 20 delegates, and the governor won all of them.

No official total of the overall turnout was immediately available. But it was heavy in most of the districts in which there were contests.

Other Developments

These were other major developments in the New York primary:

—Veteran U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx, chairman of the Powerful House Public Works Committee, lost his fight for re-nomination for the seat he has held for nearly 30 years.

— Former Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio failed in another—and probably his last — bid for a political comeback. He was trying to regain his old base of power, the Democratic leadership of his home district in Greewich Village.

—Rep. Leonard Farbstein defeated insurgent William Haddad for the Democratic nomination for Congress in Manhattan's 19th district, which has a large Jewish population.

— Upstate, the firmly entrenched Democratic organization of Daniel P. O'Connell crushed former FBI agent George Harder, who tried to win an Assembly nomination. Frank P. Cox, the incumbent, was renominated. O'Connell has not lost an election battle in more than 40 years.

86 Decided

A record round of 86 primary contests for nominations for Congress and the Legislature were decided. While the Buckley upset was the major development in that area, most incumbents seeking renomination won it.

The exceptions included Rep. James Healey of the Bronx, who fell with Buckley. Healey, who had close political ties with Buckley, lost to reform Democrat James H. Scheuer.

In other contests, Sen. Robert C. McEwen of Ogdensburg won a five-way race in the 31st district in northern New York for the Republican nomination to succeed Rep. Clarence Kilburn, who is retiring.

Henry P. Smith III, a Niagara Falls councilman, won a six-man race for the GOP congressional nomination in the 40th district. The incumbent is Republican National Chairman William Miller, who is retiring at the end of this term.

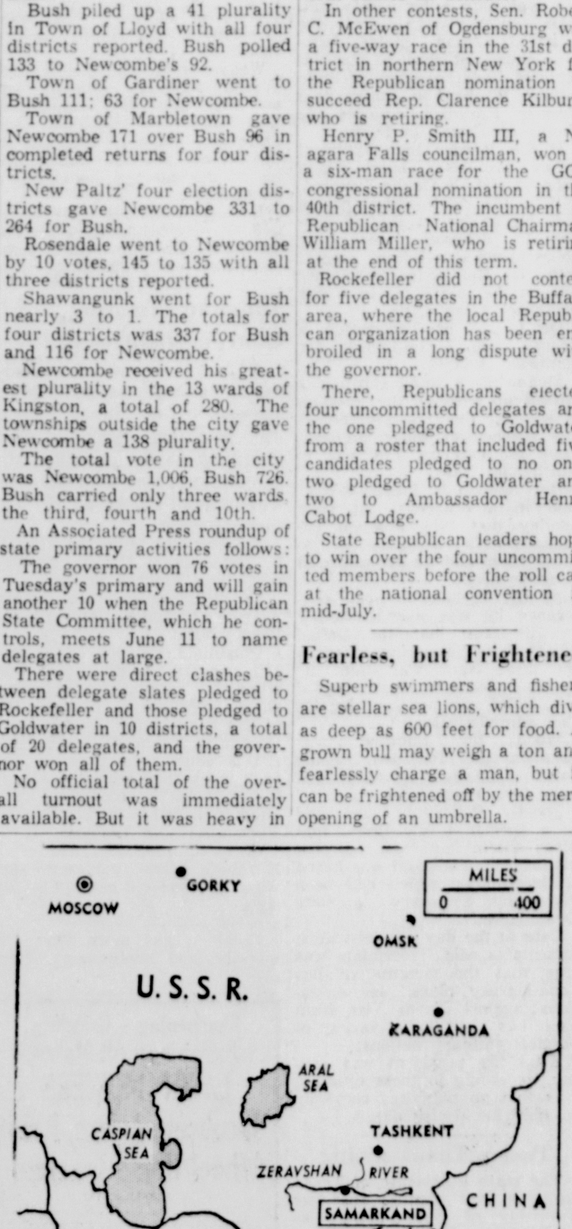

Rockefeller did not contest for five delegates in the Buffalo area, where the local Republican organization has been embroiled in a long dispute with the governor.

There, Republicans elected four uncommitted delegates and the one pledged to Goldwater from a roster that included five candidates pledged to no one, two pledged to Goldwater and two to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

State Republican leaders hope to win over the four uncommitted members before the roll call at the national convention in mid-July.

SOVIET TOILS TO SAVE SAMARKAND—Samarkand, centuries-old trade center and one-time capital of the Mongol prince Tamerlane, is confronted by the latest of a long series of disasters visited upon it—most of them by man. Storm-fed waters backed up at an alarming rate endangering the city's population of some 200,000.

Students Compete For Spelling Whiz

Sarah put an extra "f" in "terrific" and was forced to step down from the stage of a hotel ballroom where 70 boys and girls are competing. At stake is a total of $5,700 in prizes including a first prize of $1,000, a weekend trip to the New York World's Fair and a nationwide television appearance. The contest is sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday papers.

Only one contestant, Suzi Shwartz of Youngstown, Ohio, appeared unsure of the spelling she gave during the first round. After spelling "existence" she asked Dr. Richard R. Baker, professor of philosophy at the University of Dayton, Ohio, who is pronouncer at the spelling bee for the fourth year: "Is that right?"

There was one laugh during the first round when Baker asked Joyce Ann Mease of Richlands, N.C., to spell "beagle." Baker defined the word as "a small dog with sore ears."

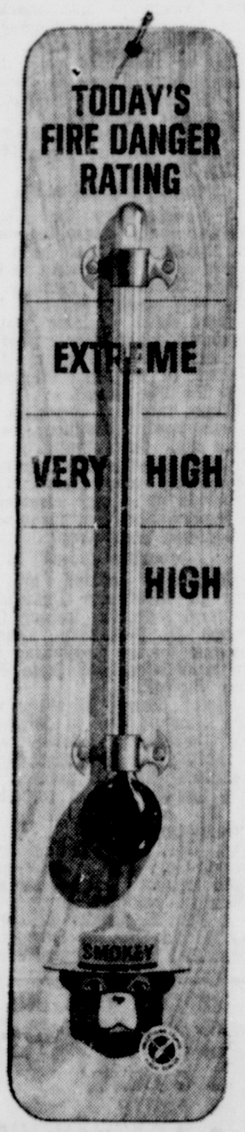

That was a reference to President Johnson's picking up his pet beagles by the ears.

Four youngsters also were eliminated in the second round.

A new spelling champion or cochampions will be crowned Thursday.

A record 759 words were used last year before Glen Van Slyke III of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was selected champion.

Tempting High Dividend Can Indicate Undue Risk

Q) "I am a retired physcian and own General Motors, Jersey Standard, California Standard, and duPont. I am tempted to buy Creole Petroleum because of the good dividends they pay at the present time. Does Creole have a good growth outlook, and would you recommend its purchase?" — J. P. m.d.

A) I congratulate you, doctor, on a fine group of stocks—but I do not think I would weaken it by the addition of Creole.

Creole is not a bad stock by any means, and it is an important subsidiary of Jersey Standard. Nevertheless, its oil reserves and production are entirely in Venezuela, which lends a strong speculative flavor to the stock. Our present relations with that country are very friendly, but no one knows what the future will bring.

The fact that the shares sell to yield 7 per cent is itself an indication that the market sees more risk than growth here. I believe the issue should be avoided.

Q) "My wife and I have a few shares of General Motors; Marine Midland; Allied Mills and W. T. Grant. We have 266 shares of Marathon Oil. We are interested in good investments with income and not growth. Do we have too much Marathon?" —R. W.

A) In the sense that your holdings in Marathan amount to $17,000, they appear to be disproportionate in value to your list as a whole.

Marathon is a pretty good stock which has risen rather strongly mainly on its Libyan play. There is, however, no sounder investment rule than diversification, which dictates that no list should contain any individual holding representing more than the owner can afford to lose.

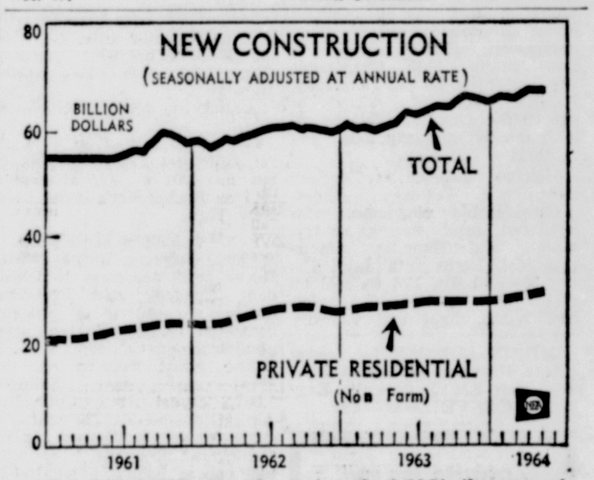

I would hold 50 shares of Marathon and switch the balance into equal dollar amounts of Norfolk & Western Rwy; Puerto Rican Cement; Marshall Field; Duquesne Light — all good stocks yielding 4 per cent or higher.

Salinger Wins Coast Bid, Other Results

Almost lost in the dust of the Golden State race between Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller were primary elections in five other states Tuesday.

Among the developments were these:

Will Oppose Murphy

The latest returns on the West coast gave Salinger 1,067,312 and State Controller Alan Cranston 952,230 with returns from 30,199 of 32,861 California precincts. Salinger will oppose former actor Greoge Murphy, the Republican winner.

—Two veteran congressman from New York—and probably a third from Alabama — were ousted by the voters.

—Two famous names from the Democratic side of the senate — Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Monta...a and John C. Stennis of Mississippi—won renomination easily.

In New York, 77 delegates favorable to Rockefeller were elected, most of them without opposition. He is expected to add another 10 at-large when the state committee meets next week.

Goldwater did pick up one vote in New York when one of his backers won in a district which Rockefeller had not contested. Four uncommitted delegates also were elected without a contest by Rockefeller. In 10 districts where Goldwater and Rockefeller backers clashed head on, the governor's forces won each battle.

6 Favorable to Barry

South Dakota Republicans defeated a slate of 14 delegates pledged to Goldwater by a 2-1 margin. But the nominally uncommitted slate chosen contains at least six delegates favorable to Goldwater.

The nip-and-tuck California presidential primary almost overshadowed the race for the Democratic nomination to succeed ailing Sen. Clair Engle.

On the GOP side, Murphy, onetime state GOP chairman, defeated financier Leland M. Kaiser and Fred Hall, former governor of Kansas.

Eyebrow-Raisers

There were eyebrow - raisers in some of the other elections.

Rep. Charles A. Buckley, a 30-year veteran in the House and chairman of the Public Works Committee, succumbed to the reform candidacy of Jonathan A. Bingham, a Yale man and former aide on the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Buckley, Democratic leader in the Bronx, had the support of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy while Bingham had backing from Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, among others.

One of Buckley's chief lieutenants, Rep. James C. Healey, also bit the dust in his bid for Democratic nomination to a fifth term. He was defeated by another reform candidate, James H. Scheuer.

Elliott Heads for Defeat

In Alabama Rep. Carl Elliott, a House Rules Committee member bidding for a ninth term, appeared headed for defeat in that state's Democratic primary.

He was running last in a low-man-out field of nine district nominees, a situation created by the failure of the Alabama Legislature to redistrict the state after the 1960 census.

Elliott, target of opposition by a conservative coalition, trailed State Sen. John Tyson in the scramble for the eight berths as Democratic candidates in a statewide at - large election in November. Six other incumbents easily won nomination.

Mansfield Coasts

Mansfield coasted to victory in Montana's Democratic primary, defeating former Rep. Joseph P. Monaghan. Leading the race for the Republican Senate nomination was State Rep. Alex Blewett.

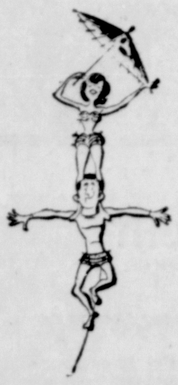

Joining Stennis in easily winning renomination in Mississippi's Democratic primary were the state's five incumbent House members. Negroes entered the race against Stennis and three of the House members, and were swamped.

Lt. Gov. Nils Boe defeated former Gov. Sigurd Anderson in South Dakota's Republican gubernatorial primary. Former Lt. Gov. John F. Lindley beat Merton B. Tice for the Democratic nomination without opposition.

Philly Utilities Win Nearly $29 Million Damages

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Antitrust damages of nearly $29 million have been won by two Philadelphia utilities that successfully sued six of America's largest electrical manufacturers for price-fix and bid-rig overcharges in the sale of power transformers.

The defendant firms, including General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp., promptly said they would appeal Tuesday's jury verdict in U.S. District Court. They called it unwarranted.

The jury awarded almost $9.7 million to Philadelphia Electric Co., and its Maryland subsidiary, Conowingo Power Co., and to United Gas Improvement Co.

Judge John S. Lord 3rd, as provided under the antitrust laws, tripled the damages. It was the biggest civil damage verdict in the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

Besides GE and Westinghouse the other defendants are Allis-Chalmers, West Allis, Wis.; Moloney Electric Co. and Wagner Electric Co., both of St. Louis; and McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, eight midwestern utilities companies agreed to a $4.7 million settlement on contested purchases from three electrical goods manufacturers that engaged in price fixing.

Agreeing to the settlement in U.S. District Court were GE, Westinghouse and Allis - Chalmers.

The Philadelphia suits grew out of criminal antitrust convictions of 29 electrical manufacturers and 46 of their executives by the federal government in 1961. Fines of more than $2 million were imposed and six men served short jail terms.

Rusk, McNamara

what the President chose to do.

Johnson was represented as being determined to do whatever is necessary to secure "the future of Southeast Asia as a whole"—a phrase he used at his news conference Tuesday.

Wants to Avoid Risks

At the same time he was reported anxious to avoid any unnecessary risks or troop commitments. This suggested that what he is looking for at this stage is some use of U.S. power in the area to demonstrate to the Communists that he is determined to meet any challenge they present in order to protect non-Communist regions and at the same time to stablize peace in Southeast Asia.

Johnson stressed the peace theme in a statement to his news conference saying at one point, "It is others who make war, and we who seek peace."

Not Sure of Lull

The atmosphere of urgency which enveloped the Laos and Vietnamese problems last week as the Communists pressed an offensive in Loas abated with evidence that the Red drive has come to a halt. But no one in Washington knew whether this was only a temporary lull.

On another aspect of the Southeast Asian crisis, Johnson announced that he has instructed Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to confer with French President Charles de Gaulle on Friday in Paris.

It was learned that Southeast Asian problems, over which Johnson and De Gaulle disagree, will be the chief subject of the meeting as far as Ball is concerned. Johnson presumably hopes to get some closer support from De Gaulle for a tougher line on the military side of the Southeast Asian crisis.

Meanwhile a small storm was stirred up here by the question of whether the U.S. government has planned or made preparations for carrying the war to North Viet Nam.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said in a broadcast interview Sunday that "the Johnson administration's position is to move north and we are prepared to move north."

At the President's news conference he was asked whether it was true that the United States was "preparing to move the Viet Nam war into the north." Johnson first replied that Laird was not speaking for the administration.

When the question was pressed, the President finally said: "I know of no plans that have been made to that effect."

Shortly afterward Laird said in a speech in the House that plans did in fact exist and that his original statement was based on information which had been given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Late in the day administration informants said it certainly was true that the government has "contingency plans" for operations against North Viet Nam as it has plans for a variety of possible military actions.

What the president was saying, according to these officials, was that no plan has come up to him for decision.

Wagner also ordered all 20,000 patrolmen to wear their uniforms to and from work. Most travel by subway.

He ordered a speed-up in the installation of an experimental two-way radio network in subway trains. One Manhattan subway line is expected to get such a system in four to six months. Wagner expressed concern over the anti-white rampages of Negro gangs, but he added: "There are other gangs in the city besides Negro and Puerto Rican; there are white gangs."

Leaders Deplore Attacks

Civil rights leaders have deplored the attacks, but say frustration of Negroes in their search for adequate education, employment and housin gis responsible.

Wagner met with police and Transit Authority officials for an hour and then announced that within two days 500 city patrolmen would be assigned to the streets and 200 transit police to the subways, both groups on overtime.

Each patrolman on the force will be required to work an extra eight-hour tour from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. every 20 days.

A felony charge of second-degree assault against Peter Johnson, 39, of Liberty Street, was dismissed today in City Court due to the unavailability of witnesses. The dismissal was with consent of the district attorney's office.
